The call of the Carols...

The spirit of Christmas is contagious. Clarion bells and holy music break through the hum of our busy world.

The spell of Christmas calls you!

And it makes you want to call others!

Christmas has always affected men this way. First the herald angels bringing their good tidings to shepherds . . . the star beckoning three Wise Men to Bethlehem. Then Wise Men and shepherds returning from the Manger to thrill others with their strange story of the birth of the King.

Is it enough to answer the call of the carols?

Brighten someone's life by sharing the vision.

Bring someone with you to worship the Christ.

This someone will understand Christmas better when he sees what it means to you!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Christmas...

a reminder of what we have to share...

There's something about Christmas which leads us to reflect for a moment on the meanings of the holiday.

For many, Christmas is a joyous religious occasion. For others, "'tis the season to be jolly." And for the children . . . there is no end to the thrills and excitement of Christmas.

Running through all these meanings, though, is the spirit of giving and sharing — the spirit which should melt all barriers.

Today, more than ever, international problems impress on us the ever-growing need for the spirit of cooperation among all freedom-loving people wherever they may be. This spirit of cooperation may very well be what we Americans have most to share.

CHRISTMAS came early for Tomi Anderson, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Anderson of Greenbush, when he was presented with gifts from North Central Airlines employees at the Thief River Falls municipal airport Friday. Tomi, who is blind, has logged 7,506 air miles in making 27 trips to and from Minneapolis enroute to school in Faribault. His gifts consisted of a set of cap pistols with holsters and a toy guitar. Pictured left to right with Tomi in the above photo are Ervin Schmitke, North Central station agent; Lowell Vraa, station manager; and Joe D. Anderson, Tomi's dad. Tomi also brought home gifts he had made for his parents — an ash tray for dad and poinsettia for mom.

Blind Boy, 9, Is Seasoned Traveler on North Central

by Marv Lundin
Times Reporter

Miles Thomas (Tomi) Anderson is home for the holidays. He arrived in Thief River Falls on North Central Airlines at 11:15 a. m. Friday from Faribault and was met by his father, Joe D. Anderson, at the local airport. They traveled together to the family farm seven miles southwest of Greenbush to prepare for a festive holiday. Tomi has been blind since he was two and one-half months old.

For the plucky nine-year-old with the close-cropped brown hair, it was the 27th trip to and from Minneapolis on North Central since he started attending the state school in Faribault four years ago. He always makes the trip alone and has made a number of close friends among airline pilots and stewardesses, who fall victim to his bright smile and incessant line of chatter.

Tomi's roommate at Faribault is another blind youngster his own age from Blackduck, Stanley Huey, and the two boys make the trip together as far as Bemidji. Tomi loves air travel and lists his favorite flying friend as "Captain Dan", one of North Central's pilots.

Young boys always have special desires for Christmas and I asked Tomi what he wanted to find under the tree Christmas morning. "A gun and holster," he replied without hesitation, "and a slingshot, too." There may be some question about the slingshot but the gun and holster is assured.

Local personnel at the North Central Airlines office decided that they wanted to help Tomi have a merry Christmas. They pooled resources and purchased a set of cap pistols with belt and holsters, a generous supply of "ammunition" and a toy guitar. Presentation of the gifts, neatly wrapped to await Christmas morning, was made when the youngster arrived in the airlines office here.

Bethlehem Lutheran church near Greenbush held its Sunday School Christmas program Friday evening and Tomi was on hand to take part in it. He had his recitation deeply rooted in memory and presented it as the final number on the evening program. Entitled "The Last Word", the poem stated, "Our program, friends, is over and now I want to say, a thanks to you for coming to be with us today. We wish you joy this Christmas; we pray that Christ will bless each one of you and those you love with peace and happiness".

Tomi's twin sister Toni, who wears glasses but attends school in Karlstad where her mother teaches home economics, will be on hand for Christmas festivities as will two older sisters, JoAnn, 15 and Susan Kay, 12. Grandpa and grandma will also be present to help Tomi observe the birthday of the Babe in Bethlehem.

Bubbling over with enthusiasm for his vacation which will end January 2, Tomi proudly told his dad, "I brought a present for you and for mom too." Little boys like secrets, so I told him to whisper in my ear what he had made so Approximately $650 damage was done to a car and tow truck about 10:30 a. m. Friday when the two vehicles collided on Long's Bridge on CAR 18 at the northeast edge of Thief River Falls, according to the Pennington county sheriff's department which investigated the mishap.

Mrs. William Reese, rt. 4, passenger in a 1955 model car driven by her husband, was hospitalized at Northwestern Hospital in this city with a chest injury as a result of the mishap. According to the report, the tow truck driven by Richard Underdahl of Dick's Corner Texaco was westbound on CAR 18 and entered the bridge from a sharp curve in the road. Mild Weather Due to Continue Here

10 above Zero Saturday; 15 Below at Devils Lake

The cloudy skies and mild temperatures that have prevailed the past few days will probably stay through the weekend, according to the weatherman. A white Christmas is definitely in the works and more of the white stuff is expected on top of the two inches which fell early Friday.

Temperatures in the Pennington county area were quite a contrast to those some miles west in North Dakota. Devils Lake had -15 Saturday morning, a 25-degree spread below the 10 above reading here. The forecast is a mixture of contradictions—fair skies are predicted, with little temperature change expected despite the sub-zero readings to the west of us. A general warmup is expected over a wide area.

Temperatures since Thursday have ranged from a low of 3 above that day to Friday's high of 27 above. Thursday's high and Friday's low were identical—23 above zero.

The forecast is for fair skies with little temperature change today. Increasing cloudiness is expected tonight, with light snow spreading across the state, warmer temperatures with scattered snow showers Sunday.

Lows tonight will be 5 to 15 above, while today's highs will be in the 10-20 range.

After questioning the employees, the sheriff reported; the person involved went to his boss returning the money and explaining what he had done.

Total Almost Three Times Figure for the Preceding Year

Of the permits approved, one calling for the construction of a new church edifice by Jehovah's Witnesses at an estimated cost of $20,000 has not yet been started. Commerical construction accounted for $221,000 of this year's total, while 11 new dwellings were built at a stated cost of $131,500, 16 home remodeling permits accounted for $27,880, and 15 domestic garages cost an estimated $9,760.

A total of 62 permits was issued this year, compared to 38 in 1960, 72 in 1959, 52 in 1958 and 73 in 1957.

Biggest project carried out in the city this year was the construction of the new club house for the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a stated cost of $50,000. Soil Conservation District Here Gains 48 Cooperators in '61

Securing of 48 new cooperators in the Pennington County Soil Conservation district during 1961 has been cited as one of the five outstanding accomplishments of the year by the district's board of supervisors. The increase compares with 15 new cooperators in 1960 and brings the total membership to 337, according to the 1961 annual report released this week.

Other accomplishments listed by district supervisors in the report were as follows:

(1) District board was active in assisting Pennington county extension service in gathering material for a long-range planning booklet. Three major meetings and three sub-committee sessions were attended.

(2) A soil tour was held in June, featuring the main soil types in the county. In October the board toured the district to view application of practices on the land.

(3) The district erected a booth at the Pennington county fair in July, using an automatic slide projector to show colored conservation pictures of local interest.

(4) Major education activities included distribution of conservation comic books to the schools and soil stewardship books to all clergymen in the county. Carnegie Public Library in Thief River Falls was also the recipient of a "History of Soil Conservation District" book donated by the district.

Other accomplishments listed were the election of Oscar Houske, board chairman, as director of Area I of the Minnesota Association of Soil Conservation Districts; attendance of Ray Parnow at the state supervisor's convention in January; selection of Earl Peterson as Conservation Farmer of the Year; attendance by the entire board at the Area I supervisor's conference held in Thief River Falls; and election of Melvin Scholin to the board of supervisors and his attendance at the supervisor's spring training conference in Crookston.

It was a busy year for the district with increased accomplishments noted in many areas of the statistical summary. Of particular note were 5,031 acres of land devoted to crop residue use compared with 639 acres in 1960; 25 acres of farmstead windbreaks as compared to 11 acres in 1960; 170 miles of drainage ditches compared with 151 miles in 1960; and work of some type done on 220 district farms compared with 183 farms the previous year.

Soils mapping was done on 9,680 acres as compared to 5,466 acres in 1960 and bringing the total acres of land mapped in the county to 133,189. Of the 337 cooperators now listed on the district membership list, 172 have basic farm plans and 23 have been supplied with

Brazilian 'Son' Writes to Roy Barzens Here

The following letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barsen is from "Gilson", American Field Service student from Brazil, who lived at the Barzen home during the year he attended Lincoln high school, several years ago.

My very loved American parents:

We all hope you are having a wonderful snowy Christmas. Sometimes I like to remember the marvelous time I had in Thief River Falls on that December, 1956, and I long for you so much. I'm very fond of you, indeed, believe it, though I keep such a long silence sometimes. We all love to hear from you so often.

Our city is quite beautiful this Christmas. The avenues are all lit up and with the season's decoration everywhere. It is very colorful and gay. The stores are full of people, always complaining lack of money, buy as never. But life is really getting too expensive around here.

Your president and his wife are very courageous, I believe. Every day I read about what is going on in Caracas and think he is risking a lot. You remember what happened to Nixon, don't you? Guess the situation is quite the same. One of the things I consider wrong is the kind of aid you give. Seems to me that you worry too much with the value of money, and forget the value of know-how, the technical help you could give us. Sometimes I wonder if two experts in irrigation, for instance, would not be of more value to us than 1.000 dollars. In many chances you don't know how to spend your money, right?

I'll be graduating next year, on December. Then I won't be Gilson, anymore, but Doctor Gilson. Here, any superior course gives you the title. Guess I will advocate only for rich widows and divorcees. That's a good cause, eh?

Well, I'm going with four different kids at the present time. That's a pretty good score, and keeps me busy all the time, I mean, all the evening. Hope Frank is going the same way. The broads down here just love him when I show them his picture. "My, is he good looking" they say.

We are all glad Janio resigned. Think it was better for all of us. Nobody knew what he was going to do next, and it was kind of a Hitchcock's way of government. The country lived in suspense. He wasn't forced to do it. His was an intimate crisis.

We wish you a very pleasant Christmas and, please, greet your friends for us.

Your Brazilian son,

Gilson

Local Drivers Are Urged to Use Care on Holiday Trips

Highway Patrol Reports Some Highways in Area In Slippery Condition

If you're planning a trip this weekend, expect to take it easy and leave earlier, rather than trying to hurry. Roads in the area are not in the best driving condition and some are slippery, either in spots or in their entirety, according to the highway patrol.

Roads around Thief River Falls have a considerable amount of compacted snow on them, especially on curves and by sheltered spots, according to the patrol. While one may find long stretches of open blacktop on which to get up ahead of speed, extreme caution should be exercised when approaching curves or stretches of road which are sheltered by trees and woods.

In short, drivers should allow more time for their overall trips, rather than trying to make up time on the good, open stretches for the delays caused by having to slow down in slippery areas.

It is better to set a pace that can be maintained over most of the trip, rather than trying to drive faster than the poorest conditions permit. Spurts of speed with intermittent braking for hazardous stretches can be uncomfortable for a car's occupants, frustrating for the driver, hard on fuel economy and dangerous for everyone using the road. An extra hour allowed for travel time may save you weeks or months in a hospital—or years in a cemetery!

The highway patrol will be out in full strength over the Christmas and New Year weekends, Sgt. John Oven said this morning.

Times Writer Recalls Yule Seasons of Yore

By V. M. Draper

The Christmas trees are all up and decorated, the outdoor lights twinkle gaily on trees and homes throughout the land and, with the shopping season past, we settle down to enjoy the day we've so feverishly prepared for the past month or so.

Nowadays preparation for Christmas is a kind of joyful torture for most of us, particularly harassed breadwinners, but it wasn't always this way. In years past yule observance was far more home-grown with various nationalities having their own particular customs which were followed and passed from generation to generation. Christmas was more of a season of peace and good will and less materialistic in those days, let us say, a century or more ago.

Christmas today has lost much of the old-time flavor it had when ours was an agrarian nation and communities were more isolated from each other. Nationalities in our relatively new country were more distinct and people of each tended to follow old-country customs more so than now. True, a lot of lutefisk is sold and many hours are spent making lefse but the younger generation has lost much of its taste for these Scandinavian delicacies, so the customs of lutefisk and lefse on Christmas eve is far less prevalent than it was, as recent as 25 years ago.

This, of course, is merely a familiar example. The customs of other nationalities are fading into the past also as we develop a kind of Christmas observance more uniform throughout the country and more suited to an urban population. The new customs are a hodgepodge of the old and the present way of observing Christmas could probably be said to be an all-American blend.

Probably the staunchest holdouts of all in observing Christmas pretty much as it was many years ago would be those eastern and southern communities where the descendents of the old English settlers remain the majority population group. There the many facets of the English Christmas may be observed—not in its pure form, of course—but with many striking carry-overs.

Each nationality has contributed to our present way of observing Christmas. The Christmas tree, for instance, was a German contribution. Santa Claus is a derivative of the Dutch Saint Nicholas, while the custom of hanging Christmas stocking probably comes from the old Dutch custom of children leaving their wood "klompen" (shoes) outside the door for St. Nicholas to fill when he made his rounds in days gone by.

The yule log, an old English institution, has faded from the scene in contemporary times, but many modern homes now boast fireplaces and there's nothing so Christmasy as a roaring log fire in one of these! From the English we also get the custom of decorating with holly and mistletoe—and more than likely, Tom and Jerry, hot buttered rum, etc., the counterpart of the English wassail bowl. Caroling is also a pleasant English Christmas custom.

Many of us lament the days gone by when going out to the field to select a Christmas tree was an integral part of celebrating the yuletide. Nowadays we go into town to buy a tree, the sale of which is a thriving industry in many states.

As a lad I not only inherited the privilege of selecting our tree when old enough to manage a hand axe, but depended on orders for trees for what little Christmas cash I had in those days. In my home state of Virginia I think it's still legal to cut your own tree. We used red cedar or juniper trees, which are far bushier and shed less than anything we have here in the North Woods. The red cedar is a kind of weed down there anyway—let a field lie fallow a few years and it'll soon grow up with them.

It seems strange to folks up here, but we also used to shoot fireworks at Christmas time and New Years eve. Back in the depression when my Dad was the proprietor of a small country store-service station we had some glorious Roman candle battles and I distinctly remember the large hole burned in the seat of a friend's trousers when all the others ganged up on him and one of us inadvertantly made a direct hit with a flaming ball. (shooting to hit definitely wasn't part of the game, in those battles.)

Yes, Christmas holds many golden memories for all of us and no matter how it is celebrated, it still retains the joys of yesteryear even to us grownup boys and girls who now have to foot the bill. Merry Christmas Everyone!

Judy Anderson is expected to arrive home Tuesday to spend until Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Anderson. She is a student nurse at the Lutheran Deaconess hospital in Minneapolis.

NEW SEVENTH congressional district, shown in the map above, is made up of the former Ninth district and eight additional counties along its south and east borders, as the result of a redistricting law enacted Tuesday at a brief special session of the Minnesota legislature, and signed Wednesday by Governor Elmer L. Andersen. The additional counties are Hubbard, Cass, Wadena, Todd, Douglas, Pope, Grant and Traverse. The reduction in number of districts from nine to eight was made necessary by the fact that Minnesota failed to keep pace with other states in respect to population gains during the past decade.

Our Christmas Long Ago

As we near the Christmas season,
Hearts and thoughts drift to the past,
For the joys we had in childhood,
Will always linger and last.
In my memory there are faces,
Scenes and friends of long ago,
There are features of a Mother,
A dearer face I'll never know.
Father, sisters, friends and loved ones,
Who have quietly slipped away,
But their memory only brings us
Tender thoughts of yesterday.
What I'd give for just one Christmas,
Back in childhood days once more,
Just to feel the peace and gladness
That we knew in days of yore.
But in fancy I can see it,
See that happy Christmas eve,
All the family now together,
Dressed up for festivity.
Grandma sitting in her corner,
Gently rocking to and fro
In her home so long ago.
Mother busy in the kitchen,
What aromas fill the air
From the special food she's cooking.
Christmas now is everywhere.
Tree all trimmed and candles gleaming,
How it filled us with delight,
At the top that shining angel
Smiles down on us from its height.
We would gather in the parlor,
Supper over, dishes done,
Father with the open Bible,
By his glances silence won.
As he read the Christmas story,
How enraptured each one grew,
Tho' it was the same old story,
Every year it seemed as new.
For it seemed that as he read it,
We could see the stars bright light,
We could almost hear the angles
As they sang that Holy Night.
We could see the little Christ child,
With no pillow for his head,
And with all our warmth and comfort,
We were grieved, He had no bed.
Then someone was at the organ,
Familiar music rose and fell,
Each and all joined in the singing,
How the Christmas anthems swelled.
Now at last the long awaited
Time for opening gifts was here
Not expensive ones, just simple,
But to us they were most dear.
After gifts had all been opened,
Candles now were burning low,
We were reminded of "Julotta"
So to bed we had to go.
But not least in all our mem'ries,
Is our Sunday School program,
When we bravely spoke our pieces
Just to falter was a sham.
Folks were there from near and distant
Who'd defied the bitter cold
'Cross glistening snow the sleigh-bells ringing
They had come both young and old.
We were filled with starry wonder,
As we saw the Christmas tree,
Tall and straight bedecked with tinsel,
'Twas a lovely sight to see.
How our young hearts thrilled to watch them,
Light the candles on that tree.
Books and apples, bags of candy,
Every child received a share.
Treats of candy, nuts and apples,
Were passed out to each one there.
Going home neath blankets snuggled,
Shutting out the wind and snow,
Crunching sounds neath bobsled runners,
People shouting to and fro.
Memories are good and precious,
But the best one to recall
Is Christ came to earth at Christmas,
To be a Savior for us all.
May this Christmas season find us
Looking for His near return,
When he'll come in all His glory
Do we wait for Him and yearn?

Redistricting Called Victory for Citizens

Congressman Odin Langen expressed thanks today to Governor Andersen and state legislators for their prompt action during the special session in realigning the state into eight Congressional districts.

"It is a victory for the citizens of Minnesota," said Langen, "who will now have a chance to elect representatives that will be responsible to their individual needs."

Langen also commented on the eight new counties that will be added to his Ninth district to become the new Seventh. "It appears that the eight additional counties are very similar in economic structure, occupational distribution and individual needs to the present 15 counties in this district." Langen noted the new Seventh district will be the largest in the Sate according to area, but was confident the mutual problems of the citizens would enable an elected representative to serve them without conflict.

The eight counties to be added to the present Ninth District to form the new Seventh are Cass, Douglas, Grant, Hubbard, Pope, Todd, Traverse and Wadena.

As the Ball Bounces

That part of the Congo which is known as Katanga has been much in the news in recent months. There were conflicting reports as to what was happening. "Heavy fighting" has most of the time proven to be merely skirmishes, but United Nation forces, authorized to restore order, finally succeeded in obtaining a truce.

The position of our government on the question of restoring order has not been in harmony with the position of Britain and some other European nations. Our government has taken the position that the authority of the United Nations must be maintained. The British government has suggested that the United Nations has no business meddling in the internal affairs of that vast area that is known as The Congo. At stake, of course, is the vast mineral wealth of Katanga.

On this point the Christian Science Monitor observes:

> "The Congo's legitimate central government needs a share of Katanga revenues in order to run successfully. Union Miniere personnel know better than anyone else how to produce the needed wealth. Therefore logic calls for a new arrangement in which Katanga's economic monopoly, shorn of its reactionary militia, can be federated with the rest of the nation.
> "This is recognized in a statement of the British, French and American foreign ministers confirming, though with differences of approach, the broad objective of "a united and peaceful Congo."
> "Premier Adoula's central Congo regime is still a weak pupil under UN tutelage.
> "Therefore, if the UN is not to become permanently mired in the Congo it will shortly have to undertake training the central government's army in both discipline and modern weapons. Otherwise the UN may find itself in the position that John Steinbeck once described as the flies conquering the flypaper. That was the history of many European colonial wars against local potenates in Asia. And the UN is in no position to become a colonial power. It must remain a teacher and policeman."

The question as to which way is the right way in this situation is debatable but the answer will depend on future developments. Failure of the United Nations to agree on this question of policy may mean the end of that organization. Which way is the right way will be determined largely by which way the ball bounces.

Napoleon and Sound Money

Napoleon Bonaparte was one of the most colorful characters of history. He was a military genious and he also distinguished himself in civil administration. He did not have the many advantages of present leaders, such as fast transportation and communication. He could be in only one place at a time.

Andrew Dickson White, in his book, "Fiat Money in France," recognizes another unusual quality in his character. As a conquering emperor and dictator, when financing a war, past or present, was always a problem, he never yielded to the temptation of debasing the currency. This is an interesting slant that deserves more attention than it has received. According to Dickson:

> "When Bonaparte took the consulship, the condition of fiscal affairs was appalling. The government was bankrupt; an immense debt was unpaid. The further collection of taxes seemed impossible; the assessments were in hopeless confusion.
> "War was going on in the East, on the Rhine, and in Italy, and civil war in La Vendee. All the armies had long been unpaid, and the largest loan that could for the moment be effected was for a sum hardly meeting the expenses of the government for a single day. At the first cabinet council Bonaparte was asked what he intended to do.
> "He replied, "I will pay cash or pay nothing." From this time he conducted all his operations on this basis. He arranged the assessments, funded the debt, and made payments in cash; and from this time—during all the campaigns of Marengo, Austerlitz, Jena, Eylau, Friedland, down to the peace of Tilsit in 1807—there was but one suspension of specia payment, and this only for a few days.
> "When the first great European coalition was formed against the Empire, Napolean was hard pressed financially, and it was proposed to resort to paper money, but he wrote to his minister, "While I live, I will never resort to irredeemable paper."
> "He never did, and France, under this determination, comanded all the gold she needed. When Waterloo came, with the invasion of the Allies, with war on her own soil, with a change of dynasty, and with heavy expenses for war and indemnities, France, on a specie basis, experienced no severe financial distress."

Labor Says "No"

President Kennedy will not have the support of organized labor in his effort to move our country into a common market with other Western nations. That was made quite clear by the resolution adopted by the AFL-CIO convention calling for continuing wage increases and a shorter work week. Also adopted was a resolution denouncing a balanced federal budget.

This is unfortunate. We are sure Mr. Kennedy was hopeful that he would be able to secure their support. The fortunate thing is that he now knows what to expect and can plan his campaign accordingly.

The demands of labor are so unreasonable that an informed public will gradually rise against them. Labor asks for all of the benefits of increased productivity, but most of that improved productivity is the result of increased mechanization and automation. As columnist David Lawrence points out:

> "Theoretically some of the economics due to better machinery should be divided three ways — to the consumer in lower prices, to the stockholders in the form of earnings, and to labor in the form of increased wages. But customarily the labor unions demand almost all of the savings, and that's what they mean by wage increases based on increased productivity."

Our survival as a world industrial power will depend on our ability to produce efficiently for the world market at prices that will compare favorably with those of other industrial nations. And we no longer have a monopoly on mass production methods.

The alternative to a common market, and a gradual reduction of barriers to trade within such a market, would be economic stagnation. We could isolate ourselves behind high tariff walls but the common market nations would then retaliate. With our self-imposed high price structure we would find ourselves priced out of every market but our own.

Admission to the common market would require some adjustments that temporarily would be unpleasant, but the long range result would be beneficial to all, raising to still higher levels our standard of living.

of Rhyme & Reason

BY MARY LINDEN

MERRY CHRISTMAS! This greeting through the years has become standard for this holiday season but still contains the same cheery spirit that it has all through history. Into these two simple words are compacted the heartiest of wishes for a day filled with happiness, contentment, fulfillment and peace with the world. May your holiday be the best ever and may you have a very MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Several poems written by sixth grade students in the class of Mrs. M. Anderson at St. Hilaire were submitted to the Times last week. While we do not normally publish such items, here is one which I chose from the group because of its essence of true Christmas spirit. It was written by Tommy Melin.

CHRISTMAS DAY

God bless you all this Christmas Day;
May Bethlehem's star still light the way,
And guide to thee the perfect peace
When every fear and doubt shall cease.
And may thy home such glory know
As did the stable long ago.

Two secretaries were discussing their problems during a coffee break. "I don't know where my boss gets the right to call me stupid," complained one. The other's eyes opened wide in amazement. "When did he do that?" she queried. "Just this morning," the first pouted. "And I was just trying to be helpful. All I did was ask him if he wanted the carbon copy double-spaced too."

Situations arising from the time-honored custom of gift giving at Christmas leave endless opportunity for poetic endeavors. Here is one of them:

I think that I shall never see
A Christmas tree of frivolry.
A time when folks are often pressed
To match their friends who give the best;
A gift that's often as remote
As Cadillac or matched mink coat
To those with budget woes like mine
Who buy their Christmas gifts on "time."
A gift borne of necessity
Because one last year came to me.
To properly participate
I must this year reciprocate.
Yes, gifts are given by fools like me—
Who value reciprocity.

But Christmas is much more than tinsel, jingle bells, trees, gifts, wreaths, festivity, visiting and the like. It should be a time in the Christian world for serious reflection. There is a purpose for having Christmas. The following poem may call to mind some of the religious significance of the Birthday of the King:

The wife who was unable to attend the banquet with her husband questioned him about what the women attending wore to the gala affair. "Nothing, as far as I know," he snapped from behind his newspaper. "You mean the women wore no clothes at all?" the incessant questioner demanded. The irate husband with no flair for fashion dropped his paper and looked her in the eye. "They didn't have any clothes above the table," he assured her. "You want I should have looked under it?"

In the height of the Christmas shopping season, the meek little man approached the police officer on a busy corner. "Excuse me," he said, "But I've been waiting here for my wife for over an hour. Would you be kind enough to order me to move on?"

FOLLOW THE STAR

Bright in the heavens its radiance gleams,
The glistening splendor of its brilliant beams
Make dark the shadows. And wise men afar
Know well the meaning of this holy star.

It heralds the coming to earth of a King
Whose praises the angels of heaven all sing
In joyful rapture. The shepherds, too, heard
The angels proclaiming our Lord's saving word.

"A Savior," the heavenly host sang on high,
While still in the clearness of Bethlehem's sky
The star shown brightly. And all through the night
The hillsides were bathed in the holy star's light.

God's gift to man wrapped in swaddling clothes
Was laid in a manger, the way that God chose
To send us His Gift. Oh, could we deny
The gift that assures us we shall never die?

Can we in our earthliness not deem to take
The Christ-child given to us for our sake
To die on the cross? God has made himself man.
To give us salvation is His gracious plan.

Take the babe Jesus in your heart today;
Take Him and hold Him and fervently pray
For his kind mercy. You will need no more
Than a lost, aching heart with a wide open door.

Once you accept Him your life will be new,
You'll know that God's promise will always be true
To those who believe. Do not shut out the ray
Of starlight that can brighten your heart today.

Once you know the Savior the way will be straight,
Love in your heart will leave no room for hate
And you'll find blessing. Cross over sin's bar.

Prowler Quint Loses to Park Rapids 58-50

Coach Lowell Anderson's Park Rapids Panthers uncorked a 21-point fourth period on Friday night to overcome a Prowler third period lead and defeat coach Jack Junker's squad, 58-50, in an inter-district game played at Park Rapids. The loss, for the luckless Prowlers was the fifth of the season.

The Prowlers will move back into action following the Christmas holidays when they make a two-game trip to the Twin Cities area. On Friday, Jan. 5, the Prowlers will play at Stillwater (against coach Junker's home-town team); and on Saturday, Jan. 6, the Prowlers will play North St. Paul.

In Friday night's game at Park Rapids, the Prowlers were able to build up a point-margin on the Panthers in a couple of instances. After trailing by a 16-14 score to open the second period, the locals, with Gary Kelly hitting for three field goals and four free throws, and Tom Lindberg notching a field goal and a pair of free throws, and with John Aune and Wayne Bjerken adding a field goal apiece, moved into a 30-22 lead with short time remaining to the intermission. The Panthers, on a field goal by Fred Dierks (who won the game's high-point honors with 26 points), and three free throws, pared the Prowler lead to 30-27 at the half.

The Prowlers maintained that three-point lead at the end of the third period, and at one time in the third period coach Junker's club held a 40-33 lead with 1:03 to play. A field goal and a pair of free throws by Dierks pared the Prowler lead to 40-37 entering the fourth period.

Don McDowell and Joe Fowler scored field goals to give the Panthers a one-point lead to open the final period's scoring. Bjerken drove in to score on an underhand layup. Park Rapids, picking up 20 points via the free-throw line during the game, added a pair of points on Fowler's gift shots. Paul Klungness hit on jump shot. Dierks from the lane, sent the Panthers into the lead, only to have Lindberg lift a hook shot into the mesh to give the Prowlers a 46-45 lead. Chuck Husten scored on a layup, and, with 4:06 to play, the Prowlers Bjerken left the game on fouls. Dierks converted the two points on free throws. McDowell hit on a field goal with 3:24 to play, and Park Rapids held a five-point lead, 51-46. George Hankerson scored from close in to boost the Prowlers to within three points, but the Panthers rolled in two field goals and three free throws to "insure" the game. Just at the game's end, Hankerson shoved in a Prowler field goal, and the game score read: Park Rapids, 58; Prowlers, 50.

The Prowlers had three players in double figures for the game, with Gary Kelly having 16 points, Paul Klungness scoring 13 points, and Tom Lindberg adding 11 points

Veteran Pensioners Are Asked to Report on 'Outside' Income

It's pension reporting time for disabled veterans and the dependents of deceased veterans in North Dakota and Northwestern Minnesota. John R. Parrish, director of the Veterans Administration Center in Fargo, explained today why it's also a time of complications and individual problems, most of them unnecessary.

Along with their December checks, due January 1, all VA pension recipients will receive enclosed tabulating cards. They carry the words "please do not mutilate" although several hundred will come back in unusable condition.

On these cards beneficiaries must report all outside income received during 1961 and expected in 1962. Outside income means everything, including social security payments, except of course the VA pension payments themselves.

VA needs the reports to determine continued eligibility of pensioners and to make adjustments on the basis of increased or decreased outside income. One pension law cuts off payments when income of an individual, if single, exceeds $1,400 a year or $2,700 if he has dependents. Another law (1960) sets limits of $1,800 and $3,000 but provides for adjustments on the basis of income up to these maximums.

But the really big headache isn't in making the adjustments. It's in getting those cards back from the beneficiaries.

Mr. Parrish said that on the basis of past years, scores of recipients will simply extract their checks from the envelopes and, without looking inside, throw away the enclosed tabulating card. That is no excuse, by the way.

And others won't bother to fill out and return the cards because their incomes are already in excess, or will be during 1962. That's all right about 1962; but when 1961 income isn't reported, VA is interested in determining just when the beneficiary's income made him ineligible and why he didn't tell the VA at the time. If the recipient is at fault, he may be liable for repayment of all checks received during the previous years.

As usual several hundred recipients will mail the cards to the wrong VA office or to the U. S. Treasury.

And sometime in February, the Fargo regional office will, as usual, have to suspend payments to hundreds of beneficiaries whose reports have not been received.

Prompt and accurate reporting can save the VA — and the beneficiary — both the delay and the headache.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rulien left Saturday for Webster, S. D., to visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Fisher. Enroute home they will visit another son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson at Fergus Falls.

West Marshall Co. Farmers Union Has Membership Gain

Merton Roley of Warren, Chairman of Group, Sees 10 Per Cent Gain for '62

Indications given at a meeting of the board of the West Marshall County Farmers Union Thursday in Argyle are that local membership is well on its way to a 10 per cent gain for the coming year, according to Merton Roley, Warren, board chairman. Membership in the West Marshall group last year included 467 families.

January 8 through 15 was announced as "Farm Progress Week" and attention was called to the area winter conference which will be held January 18 at 1 p. m. in the municipal auditorium in Thief River Falls and includes West Marshall county. Special effort will be made to complete the membership campaign by the time of the winter event.

Comments and discussion by members present indicated satisfaction with the stand taken on farm activities, by Orville Freeman, secretary of agriculture. Roley will meet with Freeman when he makes the campaigners trip to Washington, D. C., January 26.

Neil Kruger of Warren is vice president of the west Marshall organization with other board members including Bernard Stucinski, Florian local; Noble Storbakken, Big Woods local; M. E. Erlandson, Happy Corner local; James Jarshaw, Viking local; Dallas Hagglund, March local; J. Verner Peterson, Northwest Valley local; and Hans Kirkeide; Old Mill local.

Procedure in Vets Seeking Hospital Care Unchanged

Closing of the Grand Forks VA Office at the end of December will not interfere in any way with the medical care and hospitalization of eligible veterans in the surrounding area, Mr. John R. Parrish, director of the Fargo Veterans Administration Center, said today.

Admission to a VA hospital, Mr. Parrish explained, is usually made on the request of the personal physician of the eligible veteran. This method of securing admission of a patient will not change as a result of the closing of the contact office in Grand Forks.

Parrish added that a VA representative will be in Grand Forks one day each week to meet with these veterans who require information and advice about any of their rights concerning VA benefits. He will be in room 208 at the Grand Forks postoffice Thursday of each week from 9:30 a. m. until 1:00 p. m.

One of my first and most worthy conservation dreams seems nearer becoming a reality now than ever before.

If we are to conserve, enhance and wisely use our natural resources we must better understand them. This means conservation education and who will deny that education is best absorbed by the young?

Like a multitude of others, I had my fling at attempting to establish conservation education in the schools. It is far from finding a place on the curriculum, and even as part of another course few are qualified to teach it. This takes us back to the teachers colleges. Getting it into the curriculum here presents more problems and the whole thing gets discouragingly remote and improbable.

Now a glorious new opportunity has sprung into being — the Youth Firearms Safety Training classes. Here each year some 17,000 boys and girls are taught safety in gun handling by a voluntary corps of dedicated citizens and game wardens. What a tremendous boost conservation would get if even one half of these kids would advance directly from safety training into an interesting course of practical conservation.

In this course they would learn to identify ducks and other wildlife, how to dress a deer and fillet a fish, the reason for game laws and the importance of enforcement. They could also be taught some basic ecology. Conservation will take a giant step forward when sportsmen realize that to conserve and enhance wildlife the major job is management of the environment rather than the bird or animal. They must learn, also, the basic biological laws which govern the balance of nature — The tremendous reproductive power of wild animals in replacing their own kind. Why the average life of a pheasant is less than one year. Why a lake will produce only a certain number of pounds of fish each year. Why rabbits, reproducing at 900 per cent each year, do not over populate the earth. And much, much more.

This training could lead to a new organization of conservation minded youth interested in, not just game and fish, but all phases of conservation. They might be known as the Conservation Rangers and they might well do for a conservation revolution what 4H and Future Farmers have done for the agriculture revolution.

Plans are moving in this direction but, of course, there are many problems. Who will teach these courses? How will the potential volunteer teachers be given a necessary short course to get them started? There must be movies, colored slides, prepared talks, printed material, awards such as shoulder patches and much more. Where will the money for these things come from? The obstacles, while great, appear small in comparision with the good which would come from a youth movement in conservation.

To bring such a movement into being is a Herculean task and the best road to follow is not clear. Advice at this stage is most welcome. Does the plan have merit, or is it an idle dream? How do we proceed? Can you think of a better name? Will the kids go for it? Will it have public support? If you are interested or have an idea, please write. It seems to me this could become the greatest conservation movement of our time.

Tell me if I'm dreaming.

Non-farm Jobs at Peak in State in November

Nonfarm employment in Minnesota in November reached an all-time high for the month at 971,000, according to Frank T. Starkey, commissioner of employment security. While this total showed a seasonal drop of 9,300 from the October level, it represented a gain of 7,600 over November of last year, the first time in 1961 that current employment has been above year-ago figures. Indications are that employment this winter, while involving usual seasonal declines, should continue at levels higher than for the corresponding months last year.

At the same time, Starkey said that the 33 state employment service offices in Minnesota filled 9,000 jobs in November, 16 percent more than in November of last year. Emphasizing the Department's increasing activity in placement of the more highly-skilled and professional workers, the commissioner reported a 47 percent increase, this November over last, in filling professional type jobs. There was also an 88 percent increase in placements on clerical and sales jobs and a 25 percent increase in placement of skilled and semi-skilled workers.

Contributing most to the over-the-year employment increase were the manufacturing industries, whose gains helped to offset losses in transportation, constuction and mining. Accentuating the seasonal drop between October and November were the usual seasonal employment decreases in construction, canning, transportation and service industries; these more than offset the effects of higher employment in retail trade and the return of workers in the transportation equipment industry who had been involved in a labor dispute.

Estimated unemployment in Minnesota rose to 68,000 in November, 15,000 above the October level, but still 4,000 below a year ago. Correlative with the employment statistics, November also marked the first time this year that the unemployment figures showed improvement from the comparable period in 1960. The rate of unemployment in the state (the number unemployed divided by the total labor force) rose to 4.9 percent in November from 3.7 percent in October; but it was still below the 5.3 percent unemployed in November last year.

Production workers in Minnesota's manufacturing industries earned an average of $101.63 per week in November, up eight cents from October and $5.21 over the average weekly wage of factory production workers a year ago. Average hourly earnings in November held steady at $2.48 which was a cent higher than in October. The average workweek declined slightly, from 41.1 hours in October to 40.9 in November; however, this was still eight-tenths of an hour above November, 1960.

AAA Asks for Sane Holiday Driving

Asks Motorists to Heed All Traffic Regulations

Minnesota AAA today urged motorists to heed all traffic laws and regulations during the Christmas and New Year Holidays and offered the following safety tips for drivers:

1. Leave an hour or two earlier than originally planned for a trip of any distance since winter driving hazards and excess traffic might put you behind schedule.

2. If you have been drinking—either let someone else drive or take a cab home.

3. Be especially alert for youngsters playing outside during their Christmas vacation.

A Pair of Powerhouse Squads

A stranger coming into the local Arena on Saturday mornings, from 9:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon, would think that small people from Mars had invaded the place. The Arena is jam-packed with youngsters wearing green jerseys, red jerseys, blue jerseys, and orange jerseys. Heads covered with protective helmets, and shins protected with bulky leg guards. All this furor only indicates that the grade school hockey schedule is under way for the 1961-62 season.

In last week's opener, the Northrop Indians and the Washington Wildcats turned in convincing victories. Coach Dick Brooks' Indians defeated the St. Bernard's Broncos, 7-0; and the Wildcats, coached by Gayle Halvorson, defeated the Knox Tigers, 8-0. The two squads, which are undoubtedly the "powerhouse" clubs of the grade school league, will meet head-on next Saturday morning, Dec. 30, at 9:00 a. m.

Coach Brooks' Northrop squad will have the following boys in uniform: goal, Jerry Owen; defense, Billy Olson, David Forsberg, Don Eide, and Jimmy Gibson; centers, Dana Stromberg, Cal Wicklander, and Jerry Casavan; and wings, Emery Wicklander, Chuck Olson, Ronnie Hanson, Arlan Gustafson, and Jimmy Jacobson.

And the Wildcats will have Scott Dowers in goal; Jerry Droppo, Gary Sabo, Gary Owen, Darrel Voecks, and John Hammer at defense; Tom Stromberg and Rich Holmes at center; and Arlan Overbye, Stewart Rugland, Dennis Reese, and Allan Rugland at the wings.

Several of the boys on the two squads will be doing double duty as the coaches shift these players from defense to forward, and back to defense. It should be quite a tussle.

A four-team hockey program, under the guidance and coaching of Eddie (Gus) Holmes, will get under way on Friday. This program, set up by the recreation board, will provide hockey for those boys who are above the age limit for the V. F. W. Midgets, and who did not make the Prowler 'B' team squad. This program should be of great value, and it wouldn't be surprising if several future Prowlers would come from these teams.

Who Will Beat Them?

Two weeks of competition has been completed in the men's curling leagues at the Fair Grounds arena, and the Ardell Liden rink, with two wins and no losses in the Monday night league, and two wins and no losses in the Wednesday night league, have become a problem for the other rinks. Who will beat them, that's the question?

The rink, which was one of the strongest rinks in last season's play, has been somewhat revised for this season's curling. Throwing the lead rocks this year is newcomer Kermit Hanson; in second is Lyle Liden; at third is Dewey Liden; and skipping is Ardell Liden.

The four sheets of ice at the arena are in excellent condition, and the color scheme in use this year is very attractive. And for the "experts" who watch the matches from "behind the glass", bucket-type seats (from the old Avalon theater) have been installed. Visitors are welcome.

Aid and Comfort

The Cass Lake Panthers provided Region Eight basketball squads and district 29 teams in particular, with some aid and comfort when, last week, in a game played at Cass Lake, the Panthers defeated coach Bun Fortier's defending district and regional champion Lumberjacks, 42-38.

That loss will rub some of the sheen off the Bemidji club, but it isn't any assurance that come next March 12 and 13 that the Jacks won't be representing district 29 in the Region Eight tourney at Grand Forks.

Bemidji can absorb these early-season losses, and the Jacks have, during the past several years, been beaten on occasion in December and January, but it's the games in March that are crucial. Bemidji will unquestionably be the district favorite in the tourney to determine the 29th district's entry in the Region Eight tournament. And the Jacks will move into Grand Forks as the regional favorite, too. But Cass Lake is entitled to our compliments for beating the Jacks. It doesn't happen very often.

MINNEAPOLIS MAN AGAIN WINS DUCK STAMP DESIGN

The U. S. Department of the Interior has announced that a Minneapolis man, Edward A. Morris, is the winner of the 1962-63 duck stamp design contest. Morris also won the contest last year and is the first artist to win two years in a row. The winning design shows two pintail drakes coming in for a landing. It was selected from 124 drawings submitted by wild life artists in 28 states.

Judge Paul A. Lundgren Dies Christmas Eve

Succumbs at Age 67; Rites Today at 2 from Trinity Church

Paul A. Lundgren, district judge since 1948 and chief judge of the Ninth judicial district since 1958, succumbed unexpectedly at Northwestern Hospital Christmas Eve at the age of 67. He had established his law practice in Thief River Falls in 1927, and in the intervening years had played an active part in a wide variety of community affairs.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon, Thursday, at 2 o'clock from Trinity Lutheran church, with the Rev. Marvin O. Carlson, pastor of the First Lutheran church, officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery. The Green Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Judge Lundgren was born April 23, 1894, in Sibley county, Minnesota, near Gibbon, and was graduated from Winthrop high school in 1913. After graduating from Gustavus Adolphus college in 1917, he taught school for several years in South Dakota and in Minneapolis, after which he graduated in 1925 from the University of Minnesota law college, and was admitted to the bar in that year.

He engaged in the practice of law in Thief River Falls in 1927 and served several terms as county attorney in the 1930s, and also served as secretary of the Civic and Commerce association for ten years. He was appointed district judge in May, 1948, and was elected to that office in November, 1948, and reelected in 1954 and 1960.

Judge Lundgren was founder and first president of the Pennington County Historical society, and in 1938 served as exalted ruler of the local Elks lodge, and in 1942 as potentate of Kem Temple of the Shrine at Grand Forks. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and of the Midwest Shrine association. He also

Time Deposits in TRF Banks to Get Higher Interest

Good news for patrons of Thief River Falls financial institutions is contained in the announcement that, effective January 1, 1962, the Union State and Northern State banks will increase from three per cent to four per cent the rate of interest paid on certificates of deposit for a year or longer.

Many other Minnesota banks also are taking similar action after having recently been granted authority to do so.

At the same time the First Federal Savings and Loan association raised its dividend rate, effective January 1, from three and three-quarters per cent to four per cent a year.

Penalty on 1962 Auto Plates Takes Effect After January 10th

January 10 is the last day to purchase 1962 vehicle license plates without penalty, according to Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles in Thief River Falls. A penalty of one dollar will be imposed beginning January 11 and the penalty will be increased to $2.50 on February 1.

Annually there are between 6,000 and 7,000 plates issued from the local office, Mrs. Hanson siad. This year the sales are lagging behind the 1961 sale, indicating that a last-minute rush is in the offing before the penalty goes into effect. Persons who purchase their plates immediately will avoid standing in line the last several days, the deputy registrar stated.

Persons purchasing plates are requested to bring their application card and 1961 vehicle registration card with them when applying for the 1962 plates. "It must be emphasized how important it is for the owner to bring in the application card," Mrs. Hanson siad. "This card speeds up the service tremendously and permits the department to process the registrations at less cost."

In addition to issuing the 1962 plates, the deputy registrar will receipt the 1961 registration card which will serve as the 1962 registration until the new card is prepared in St. Paul. When the new card is received, the old card must be destroyed.

The receipted 1961 card can serve another purpose if application is made before January 1. Motor vehicle tax is deductible on both state and federal income tax returns. Those applying for registration before January 1 can deduct

Farmer Tax Guide Is Available Here

Booklet May Be Obtained at County Agent Office

George O. Lethert, district director of internal revenue, announced today that the new 1962 edition of the 64-page "Farmer's Tax Guide" is being released shortly, well in advance of the filing period to afford farmers ample time to prepare their returns for the calendar year 1961. Lethert said that copies of the comprehensive green and white booklet are now available for the asking at Internal Revenue Service headquarters office, St. Paul, and from county farm agents.

"The early release of the publication is part of Internal Revenue's stepped-up program for improved information, education and service to all taxpayers.

"The 15 chapters of the booklet contain easy to read instructions in both general and specialized areas of federal income and self-employment taxes as they apply to farmers. Discussed are: Filing requirements and return forms, the importance of good records (with illustrations of sample record forms), farm inventories, condemnations, trades, diseased livestock, the new feed grains program payments, marketing quota penalties, and many other subjects.

"A farmer's tax calendar has been added this year which tells the farmer what he should do and when he should do it in regard to his federal taxes during 1962. A sample filled-in federal income tax return is also contained in the booklet.

Men Who Fled Jail in Warren Taken in Calif.

Pair Now Face More Charges, Including Armed Robbery

Two escapees from Marshall County's jail enjoyed only 4 days of freedom as they were nabbed in California for a robbery committed Friday after slipping through a hole they punched in the jail wall in Warren the preceding Monday.

In addition to the charges on which they were held in Marshall County prior to their escape, Lyle Dean Dagen, 27, Kennedy, and Lemuel James Larson, 22, Eagle Bend, now face additional charges of three auto thefts, jail breaking, writing bad checks and armed robbery. In addition Dagen's girl friend, Mabel Hegfund, 18, Holt, faces charges in California of conspiracy to robbery.

Last seen in Felton, south of Ada, late Tuesday afternoon, the trio cashed a check on an Argyle bank in Battle Lake, Sheriff Oscar Erickson received word that they had attempted to secure money from a relative on Wednesday when they were in Lovelock, Nev. Friday the group was arrested in Napa, Calif. in connection with an armed robbery.

Police in Napa reported that the two men had held up a downtown bar and had gotten $680.20. One of the men had a towel wrapped around his head, turban fashion and had a penciled moustache and eye shadow on at the time of the hold-up. The other had a toy pearl-handled pistol displayed in his belt and lipstick and penciled makeup on his face.

They were arrested about an hour after the holdup in the restroom of a nearby tavern. Most of the stolen money was found in a garbage can at the rear of the second tavern. Some of the clothing worn at the time of the hold-up was found in the rear of the second establishment and other of the clothing was found in the Napa River.

Sheriff Erickson said that the disposition of the two men is still pending with the possibility they will be returned to Marshall County to stand charges. The girl is involved with the law only in California where she purchased the regalia used in the stickup.

LO'L Turkey Plant Has Record Output

Turkey processing at the Land O'Lakes plant in Thief River Falls for the 1961 season ended December 6 with record production, according to John Lang, plant manager. Birds processed in 1961 showed an increase of 50 per cent over the 1960 season.

Because of the large volume of turkeys received at the plant this year, the plant was forced to operate on Saturdays as well as the five-day week which has been customary in the past. This year the processing season began in July, nearly a month earlier than in 1960 and continued somewhat later than last year.

The plant draws birds from a radius of approximately 100 miles. Due to the low turkey prices prevailing this year, most of the birds were received by Land O'Lakes on a "pool" basis with few outright purchases made, Lang said.

In the above photo workmen are tearing out what was formerly an exterior wall of the building to make additional space in what will be the new assembly room of the plant. Operations are continuing without major interruption except for offices which have been inconvenienced by the failure of new furniture to arrive. Completion of the addition and remodeling is expected in about a month or six weeks, according to Gordon Dow, company president.

Suronen-Sevre Wed; Make Home in Grand Forks

Miss Verna Jane Suronen, daughter of Mrs. Ida Suronen of St. Hilaire, and Darrell D. Sevre, son of Oscar Sevre of Euclid, were united in marriage Saturday, November 25 at the First Lutheran church in this city. Rev. Marvin O. Carlson officiated at the 7 p. m. double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli, yellow and bronze mums graced the altar as the organist, Mrs. William Halbasch of this city played the traditional nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Lester Vigness singing, "Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride, escorted to the altar by her brother, Ernest Suronen of Hopkins, was gowned in floor length nylon tulle over ruffled net and taffeta. The fitted lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline with long nylon tulle sleeves coming to a point over the wrists. The bouffant skirt featured tulle paneling in the front with spaced rows of hand clipped lace encircling the skirt. Her elbow length silk veil edged in lace was caught on a crescent crown of pearls and lace. Yellow autumn roses and white feathered mums made up her cascade bouquet.

Miss Shirley Suronen of St. Hilaire was her sister's maid of honor. She waore a beige chiffon over taffeta street length dress with matching head band. Large bronze mums and yellow garlands made up her crescent cascade bouquet.

Larry Rux of Grand Forks was bestman with Kenneth Ortloff of this city and Melvin Mortenson of Grand Forks as ushers. Gentlemen of the wedding party wore white dinner jackets, dark trousers and yellow carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Suronen wore a bronze and yellow print dress while the groom's foster mother, Mrs. Henry Rux, wore a teal blue dress. Both had corsages of autumn roses accented with yellow.

Following the ceremony a reception, given by the bride's mother, was held in the church parlors with about 150 guests attending. A four tiered wedding cake, decorated in white was topped by a miniature bride and groom. It was baked by Mrs. Wilbur Hallstrom of St. Hilaire and cut and served by Mrs. Howard Kersten of Minneapolis, sister of the bride and Mrs. Melvin Suronen of Minneapolis, sister-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Gladys Krause of this city and Mrs. Doris Peterson of St. Hilaire poured while waitresses were Mrs. Ted Economon, sister of the bride of Fargo, Mrs. Bill Sundholm, also a sister of Minneapolis and Mrs. Dean Brown of Grand Forks.

Mrs. Gene Brandt of Minneapolis presided at the guest book while Cheri Kersten of Minneapolis and Sharon Peterson of St. Hilaire had charge of the gift table.

For travel, the bride wore a deep lavendar suit with black accessories.

She is a 1956 graduate of Lincoln high school and Mr. Sevre is employed as an electrical serviceman by Electronic Sales in Grand Forks where the couple are making their home at 807 Sunset Drive.

Out of town guests attending the wedding came from Minneapolis, Barnum, Hallock, Blackduck, Euclid, Crookston, Angus, Hopkins, Stephen, Grand Forks, Fargo and McCanna, North Dakota.

Eagles Sponsor Christmas Party for Youngsters

Marquette Baby Baptized Sunday

Melinda Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marquette of Goodridge was baptized at the 10:15 a.m. service at Trinity Lutheran church, Sunday, December 24 with Rev. Harold Peterson officiating.

Rules as to Junked Automobiles Cited by Secy. of State

Jos. Donovan Explains State Statute Relating to Dismantling of Cars

There is an apparent lack of knowledge on the part of motor vehicle owners as to their responsibility when a vehicle is junked, dismantled or sold for salvage, according to Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles in Thief River Falls. Information on this has been released by Joseph L. Donovan, secretary of state.

The law requires the owner of every such vehicle to return the registration card and license plates to the motor vehicle department with a signed report showing disposition made of the vehicle and if sold, to whom it was sold and the date of the sale. Failure to do so is a violation of the law and could subject the owner to possible arrest and punishment as a misdemeanor.

"Leaving the plates and tabs on the vehicle is an open invitation for some unscrupulous person to use them on an unregistered vehicle," Donovan said. "This is especially true when small tabs are issued as in 1961."

Donovan requests every owner who junks a vehicle or who sells a vehicle to another for junk or salvage to remove the license plates and tabs and bring them to a deputy registrar with his registration card where a proper signed report will be completed as required by law. If this is not convenient, the owner may mail the plates and registration card directly to the department in St. Paul with a report showing the disposition made of the vehicle. The law provides that the owner shall pay the cost of mailing the items to the department.

Need Not Pay for Items Not Ordered, Says Atty. General

Walter Mondale Offers Advice to Recipients of Unsolicited Merchandise

"Fraud feeds on profits. Cut out the profit and we can kill off the frauds," is the advice of Walter Mondale, attorney general for the state of Minnesota. He referred to the flood of unordered merchandise which usually accompanies the holiday season.

"You get a package of greeting cards, or a book, or a toy, or seeds, or any of countless seasonable items," Mondale stated. "You'll probably soon receive a bill. Must you pay it? The answer generally is, 'No, you don't have to pay'."

Mondale suggested the following rules when unordered merchandise is received:

You need not accept items you did not order.

You can return any package, unopened, to the mailman, telling him you refuse to accept it.

You may open the package to see what is inside, but you are under no obligation to return it.

As long as you do not use the merchandise yourself you have no legal obligation to pay for it.

Keep the merchandise a reasonable time. If it is not picked up, or you are not provided with return postage, you may dispose of it. You may completely ignore all dunning letters.

"Dont' let pressure tactics fool you out of hard-earned cash," the attorney general said. "You cannot be forced to buy or pay for something you neither requested or want."

Marshall-Beltrami Soil Conservation District Grows in '61

Marshall-Betrami Soil Conservation district noted an active year, according to the annual report signed by Alton Anderson, Grygla, chairman of the district board of supervisors. All of eastern Marshall county is now included in the district since Linsell township voted membership in 1961 by a vote of 20 to 0.

A total of 24 farm pits were constructed within the district in 1961 in comparison with only seven in 1960, the report stated. Constructed during the year were 113 miles of drainage ditches, the second largest amount of ditching since the formation of the district.

A new service was initiated by the district in 1961 with the purchase by the district of trees from private nurseries at quantity discount. By selling to cooperators in this fashion, the district gave purchasers a better selection of trees at a more attractive price. Other accomplishments listed in the report were several phases of the district's educational program and the soil tour held in August.

Fifteen new cooperators were added to the district during the past year, bringing the total membership in the district to 289 farms. Ten basic farm plans were completed to bring the total completed to date to 119. Practices applied during the year and the total units under the programs to date include the following respectively:

Conservation cropping system, 2,025 and 21,980 acres; crop residue use, 749 and 40,730 acres; pasture planting, 585 and 4,254 acres; rotation grazing, 123 and 3,165 acres; land clearing, 1,023 and 5,000 acres; tree planting, 14 and 50 acres; wildlife area treatment, 6,360 and 27,182 acres; surface field ditches, 83 and 646 miles; group drainage ditches, four jobs totaling seven miles in 1961 and 34 miles to date; and soil surveys, 11,080 and 132,106 acres.

Among accomplishments listed by the district were awards given to Oliver Howland and Lyndon Magnuson for being district supervisors for 10 years; election of Ole Prestebak as a new supervisor to succeed Lehart Stock; reelection of Howland as secretary of the Area I board of supervisors; and attendance by part of the board at the training meeting for district supervisors held in Crookston.

Robert Kloubec of Thief River Falls is work unit conservationist for the district with Ralph Rundell as conservation aid and Lawrence Neuschwander and Robert Berbott as district aids.

Supervisors of the district include Alton Anderson, Grygla, chairman; Lyndon Magnuson, Grygla, vice chairman; Oliver Howland, Grygla, secretary; Peter Aune, Gatzke, treasurer; and Ole Prestebak, Goodridge, reporter.

Prowler Six Defeats E. G. Forks, Crookston

Coach Gene Sacks' hockey Prowlers, after winning a pair of Region Eight conference games during the week, will move out against some of the state's top-ranked teams on Friday and Saturday when the locals participate in the holiday tournament at Roseau. On Friday night, with the face-off at 7:30 P.M., the Prowlers will play coach John Matchefts Eveleth Golden Bears. The second game on Friday's bill will find Roseau playing St. Paul Humboldt. On Saturday night, at 7:30 p.m., the Prowlers will play St. Paul Humboldt; and at 9:00 p.m., the Roseau Rams will play Eveleth.

The next home appearance for the Prowlers will be on Thursday, Jan. 4, coach Bob Johnson's highly-rated Minneapolis Roosevelt club will play here.

In marking up their two victories in conference play, the Prowlers, on Saturday night, defeated East Grand Forks, 3-1, and on Tuesday night the blue-and-gold defeated coach Dave Hendrickson' Crookston Pirates, 4-0.

Jerome (Tony) Poole led the Prowler scoring in the win over East Grand Forks, banging in a pair of rebounds, with brother Larry Poole assisting. Sophomore Elroy Frolland accounted for the third goal when he beat goalie Dale Stauss with a backhand shot early in the final period.

In the victory over Crookston Central on Tuesday, Larry Poole, with an exhibition of hustling hockey, led coach Sack's club to a well-earned 4-0 win. Larry scored a pair of unassisted goals, and set up Tim Teal for the game's first goal, scored in the second period. Tony Poole converted a rebound on Ron Kvikstad's long shot to account for the fourth Prowler tally.

Larry Poole's unassisted tallies came in the third period when, with the Prowlers skating short-handed, he rushed into the Pirates' zone to recover the puck, and, after outmaneuvering the defense, drove the puck past goalie Ron Carpenter.

In a preliminary game played on Tuesday night, the Prowler

'B' team defeated the Crookston 'B' team 7-0. Dennis Halder, John Weigelt, and Bob Loeffler scored for the local B's in the first period. Halder added a goal in the second period, and in the third period, Bruce Olson, Dennis Sullivan, and Bobby Stordahl scored for the locals.

Police List Two Traffic Mishaps

Car Strikes Building Early Thursday Morning

Two traffic mishaps were reported by city police this morning, neither of which caused personal injuries to those involved, nor was there a great amount of property damage.

Tuesday at 1:40 p. m. a truck being backed out of a driveway on Main av. between Third and Fourth streets by Neil McKechnie, city, struck a car driven north on Main av. by Robert H. Baker, Fargo, N. D.

Damage to the Baker car was estimated at $50, none was caused to the truck.

Early this morning (3 a. m.) a car driven east on Fourth st. by Lyle G. Simon, Plymouth, Mich., skidded across Atlantic av., struck a parked car owned by Peterson-Biddick Co., then caromed into a utility pole and finally struck the Peterson-Biddick building.

Damage was estimated at $70 to the Simon car, $15 to the other vehicle. Damage, if any, to the pole and building was not listed. Police are still investigating the case.

An Annual Affair

The third annual "Old Timers" vs. Thieves-hockey game at the Arena here Sunday afternoon was, from the standpoint of the players, a tremendous success. The Thieves, with better organization, and having had the benefit of several games as a unit, defeated the Old Timers, 10-3. Joey Poole, Mike McMahon, Dale Wennberg, and Eddie Holmes contributed two goals apiece to the Thieves' total, and DelRay Offerdahl scored one goal, the game's first.

The fans who witnessed the game saw a number of former Prowler all-state tournament players in action. In fact, eight of the boys that were on the ice, dating from Bob Baker in 1945 to Archie Schneider in 1960, were all-state tournament selections. Here is the roster of the players who were present, and the years in which they were all-state tournament choices; Bob Baker, defense, 1945; Marv Jorde, center, 1951; Jack Hoppe, goalie, 1954; Mike McMahon, defense, 1954; Joey Poole, center, 1954-55; Duane Glass, defense, 1956; Dale Wennberg, center, 1959; and Archie Schneider, defense, 1960. Of the former Prowler all-state hockey tournament players not able to be present on Sunday were the following: Jim Doyle, defense, 1945; Wes Hovie, wing, 1945; Jack Erickson, defense, 1951-52; Jackie Poole, center, 1956; and Glenn Carlson, wing, 1956.

Of course there were a couple of players in the Old Timers' lineup who would have made all-state tournament mention if there had been an official high school tournament in their high school days. Referring to defenseman Tony Dorn and wingman Morris (Mouse). Efteland. Tony and Mouse were members of the Hornets junior team that played, as a high school team, in the invitational high school hockey tournament played at Roseau in February of 1942. The local team, coached by Walt DePaul, and captained by Doug Snelling, won the tournament, defeating Baudette, 4-1, in the finals.

Here is a recital of the scores of that 1942 tournament: Eveleth, bye; Thief River Falls, 6, vs. Warroad, 3; Baudette, 7, vs. Hallock, 1; and Roseau, 5, vs. Williams, 3. Second round games: Thief River Falls, 1, vs. Eveleth, 0; and Baudette, 6, vs. Roseau, 5. Finals, Thief River Falls, 4, vs. Baudette, 1.

And referring back to the Old Timers vs. Thieves game, if Bill LaFave had come into the dressing rooms and offered to give "rub downs" to the athletes (and there were several of the Old Timers who needed these "rub downs") it would really have been like old times. The boys missed Bill.

Gophers vs. the Crimson

An interesting two-game hockey series will be played on the Williams arena ice-sheet at the University of Minnesota on Friday and Saturday when coach Ralph (Cooney) Weiland's Harvard squad meets coach John Mariucci's Minnesota club.

Four of the members of the Harvard team, led by captain Dave Grannis, are Minnesota boys. In addition to Grannis, the Minnesota boys wearing the crimson of fair Harvard are Gerry Jorgenson of Thief River Falls, Romauld Ikauniks of Crookston, and Ron Thomson of Minneapolis.

Jorgenson, a former Prowler who is in his junior year at Harvard, alternates at center on Harvard's second line. Jerry, at 5' 7" and weighing but 145 pounds, is the smallest member of the squad, but according to coach Welland "Jorgenson is a real hustler who likes to fight for the puck, and playing with a pair of excellent wings, he has helped turn Harvard's second line into the team's top-scoring unit."

Ikauniks, who played with Bill Sullivan's Crookston Cathedral Blue Wave a couple of seasons ago, is a sophomore at Harvard. He was a star on last year's Harvard freshman team, but has seen only "spot" duty so far. Coach Welland ranks Ikauniks as an excellent prospect.

Hockey Boosters Supply Northrop Warming House

Clarence Amiot, general manager of the Thieves hockey club, and secretary of the local Hockey Boosters club, announced that the warming house at the Northrop rink will be open. Earl (Red) Hoppe will be the supervisor at the rink. The warming house is a project of the hockey Boosters club.

Over 1,100 Deer Taken in Area in '61 Season

One out of every two hunters tagged a deer during the recent season, November 11-19, 1961, at the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, according to Herb Dill, refuge manager.

Based on daily automobile counts during the season, and a tally of license plates, the identity of 439 hunters was learned. These hunters were asked the following questions.

Did you hunt on the Agassiz Refuge?

	Response
	Yes	No	No reply
Did you hunt on the Agassiz Refuge?	244	10	185
Did you tag a deer?	131	113	195

Automobile license plates checked indicated that 62 percent of the cars on the refuge were from Polk, Pennington and Marshall counties. The remainder were well distributed, mainly from the southern part of the state. Out of state cars checked were: North Dakota 5, New York 1, and Florida 1.

One hundred and sixteen hunters living near the refuge were interviewed personally, Dill stated. These people reported tagging 95 deer on the refuge for 82 percent success.

State conservation department officials polled 258 hunters in Thief River Falls who reported tagging 219 deer, or 85 percent successful. These hunters hunted throughout northwest Minnesota.

This indicates, Dill said, that local hunters enjoyed about the same rate of success off the refuge as on it.

A final tabulation of the total number of deer taken on the refuge will not be possible until all of the returns from hunters are in, Dill stated. "However," he added, "based on information now available, over 1,100 deer were harvested on the refuge and in the immediate vicinity.

Doctors Give Advice on Holiday Drinking

Would you hold cotton soaked in chloroform over your nose and mouth while driving your car? A ridiculous question? No more ridiculous than drinking and driving, says the Minnesota State Medical association. Contrary to popular belief, alcohol is not a stimulant, but a depressive which acts the same way as an anesthetic.

The higher functions of the brain —judgment, conscience, moral sense, and self-control—are the first ones affected by alcohol. When this happens a person looses the inhibitions which civilization has placed upon him, and he appears stimulated. The lower "animal" senses come to the front because the higher senses have been put out of business. It's like making a car run faster downhill by releasing the brakes when not using power.

When you have 0.15 per cent of alcohol in your blood you lose your judgment and ability. When you have 0.40 per cent you pass out and when you have 0.60 per cent you will probably die.

This holiday season, warns the association, remember that at least three hours are required to eliminate one ounce of pure alcohol from the blood—the amount of alcohol found in two martinis. This one ounce of alcohol will also affect your eyesight in the same way as if you put on dark glasses at night.

QUESTIONS— Answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans' benefits may be obtained by visiting or writing the VA Contact office at the Fargo VA Center, Elm Street and 21st Av. North, Fargo, North Dakota.

Q—My father, no longer living, had a total of 30 days of military service, all during World War I, and he had no service-connected disability. My mother has no income of her own. Is she eligible for a pension from the VA?

A—No, thirty days of service is not long enough to meet the requirements for such a pension.

Q—Can wives and children of veterans be treated in VA hospitals?

A—Not unless they are also veterans in their own right. However, VA hospitals may furnish emergency treatment to anyone, to save a life, but payment must be made to cover the cost of the care.

Q—When will training under the GI Bill end for Korea veterans?

A—No education or training under the Korea GI Bill will be furnished beyond eight years after a veteran's discharge or release from active service, or the end of his basic service period, which ever is earlier. In no event will education and training be furnished after January 31, 1965.

Q—Do eligible incompetent veterans personally receive checks from the VA?

A—No, the VA Guardianship Service administers the financial affairs of eligible incompetent veterans, including aid to their dependents.

GIANT TELESCOPE WILL BRING PLANETS CLOSER

Great things—such as determining the size of the universe—are expected of the giant Navy radio-telescope under construction at Sugar Gove, W. Va. When completed, the telescope will be the biggest in the world and the largest movable structure man has ever built for installation on land. Its steerable bowl-shaped antenna is 600 feet in diameter and weighs 32,000 tons, about equivalent to two heavy cruisers. When it is finished in 1964, the instrument will be able to give accurate data about the surface temperature of the planets and may even answer the question of whether the universe had a definable beginning in time.

Concepcion, Chile, has been severely damaged by earthquakes in 1570, 1730, 1751, 1835, 1939 and 1960.

Color photography is just 100 years old, but this hobby on which U. S. amateurs spend a third of a billion dollars each year is a horse of a different color from what it was in pioneer days. In 1891, for example, one George Lippmann displayed color photographs that were quite good. But Lippmann's laborious method remained only a curiosity, since exposure time — up to 100 million times as long as required today — would strain the patience of the most willing subject.

A blow to women drivers is a National Safety Council statement that they have higher accident rates than men when statistics are related to the number of miles driven by each sex.

Ingenious method is used to handle bags of color pigments at Holland Color and Chemical Co. A dozen bags are metal-strapped together between corrugated cardboards. On the bottom sheet are nine stubby "feet", short lengths of corrugated tubing leaving spaces for the insertion of the fork of a lift truck. They're easily stacked and handled by machine and no bags touch floor or ground.

You've heard how "modern science helps solve the housewife's problems." Well, the shoe was on the other foot after a group of nuclear scientists were stumped in their efforts to find a supply of small, watertight containers to store uranium. A housewife employee came up with a deft solution: Use pressure cookers, she said. And she was right.

A New Year

"The sun is just rising on the morning of another day, the first day of a new year. What can I wish that this day, this year, may bring to me? Nothing that shall make the world or others poorer, nothing at the expense of other men; but just those few things which in their coming do not stop with me, but touch me rather, as they pass and gather strength:

"A few friends who understand me, and yet remain my friends.

"A work to do which has real value without which the world would feel the poorer. A return for such work small enough not to tax unduly any one who pays.

"A mind unafraid to travel, though the trail be not blazed. An understanding heart.

"A sight of the eternal hills and unresting sea, and of something beautiful the hand of man has made.

"A sense of humor, and the power to laugh. A little leisure with nothing to do. A few moments of quiet, silent meditation. The sense of the presence of God and the patience to wait for the coming of these things, with the wisdom to know them when they come."

—W. R. Hunt

Happy New Year

The passing year will not go down in the records of this agricultural community as one of the best, but there have been worse years in terms of averages. The most encouraging thing we can say about the crops this year is that they were better than expected. There were weeks, during the drouth period, when our farmers were concerned about getting enough feed. Some much-needed rains, and permission to harvest the hay on soil banked lands, greatly improved the general situation.

For the turkey growers it probably was the worst year of record. Not many growers broke even, if any, and for most of them the loss was substantial.

While our individual farms have become more specialized, fortunately for the area as a whole our agriculture is highly diversified and we hear few complaints. Folks hereabouts are looking forward to the year that is ahead of us. They are not looking back, and our guess is that we have reason to look forward to the New Year hopefully.

After all, worrying about the things we cannot control serves no good purpose. If we all put in a little extra effort, trying to do better with the factors that are within our control, we can be quite sure that the results will be fairly good.

And so, in that spirit we wish you a happy, prosperous New Year, hoping that your special efforts will bring you extra good returns.

Boys and Jobs

Abraham Ribicoff, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said recently:

> "We have too many laws that do too much coddling of children. I would say that there's nothing as valuable or as useful as gainful employment for children."

This conclusion was based on his own experience. It was not unusual for boys, when he was a boy, to be on the lookout for part time jobs at the age of twelve.

We are sure Mr. Ribicoff would not favor a return to the exploitation of children in sweatshops, but at the present time there are not enough job opportunities for the young people, which, some observers believe, is a contributing factor to youth delinquency. Only a few jobs are available to boys under 18, and any youngster who hasn't learned something about working for a dollar until he is 18 enters the employment field under quite a handicap.

Commenting on the Ribicoff statement, the Saturday Evening Post observed:

> "Most healthy-minded kids nowadays do like to work & are proud of the jobs they get, despite the sneers of professional teen-haters. One lovely young miss, now in college, worked all summer in a bakery; it was fun, she said, and she enjoyed the aroma of doughnuts. Another girl worked in a drycleaning establishment, hanging up clothing. It was mostly standing-up work, and boring, but she needed the money and is glad she got the work. Several boys of high-school age "worked around" with contractors and house builders. None was harmed by the experience; all felt they were making progress.
> "There is a lot of work, big work, yet to be done in this country. The future will be won by people who know how to do things—and you don't learn much by loafing."

The German "Miracle"

Henry Hazlitt, writing in Newsweek, tells a little of the background of the German "miracle" economic recovery. He attributes the recovery largely to the fact that the German leaders did not yield to the temptation of seeking growth by inflation. He reports:

> "In 1951 the U.S. State Department sent a commission of American economists to West Germany to investigate and to make recommendations to that government on fiscal policy. The chairman of the commission was Prof. Alvin W. Hansen of Harvard. Prof. Walter W. Heller, now chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisors, joined the commission and is credited with having participated in writing the report.
> "Here are some of its recommendations: (1) That Germany had an "excessive concern for price stability," and tended to "confuse wartime inflation with the normal operation of peacetime credit." (2) That "a rate of interest high enough to stimulate any large volume of personal savings would seriously curtail investment." (3) That to give special inducement to corporations to increase their investment in new plant and equipment by permitting fast depreciation allowances" was an expenditure of tax funds which would otherwise have been collected by the government." (4) That "the nostalgic hopes—looking toward a revival of the nineteenth century role of a capital market are doomed to disappointment."
> "Fortunately for Germany and the world, Ludwig Erhard, the German Economics Minister, rejected these recommendations in toto. He put a tight lid on any increase in the money supply. He refused to pursue a cheap-money policy. He encouraged savings by a high rate of interest. He permitted rapid depreciation on investment. He restored the capital market. He refused to impose a top income-tax rate higher than 50 per cent. He balanced the budget, encouraged private enterprise, restored incentives. In his own words, he "abolished practically all control for allocation, prices, and wages" and "reintroduced the old rules of a free economy."
> "The result was the miracle of German recovery, a record unequaled in the same period in the entire Western world. Had the Hansen-Heller recommendations been adopted, Germany would have been plunged into another orgy of state planning and inflation. David McCord Wright, comparing the German record with the British record under the Labor government, found that British prices under inflation (1948-56) increased 45 per cent while German prices fell 5 per cent. While real wages in Germany more than doubled, British workers got a bare 10 per cent increase. Germany's manufactured exports, with lower costs, rose from 7 per cent of the world market to more than 15 per cent. Its gold and dollar surplus soared, while that of the British declined."

The nations of Western Europe learned their lessons the hard way. We still have too many men in high office who think we can solve our problems the easy way by inflation. Can't we learn from the experiences of others? Must we too learn the hard way?

A Common Language

The Gallup Poll comes up with the startling conclusion that an overwhelming majority of Americans favor a universal language. Well now that that 's settled it is encouraging to know that a great deal of progress has already been made in such a common language development. Fortunately for us that language is English.

By a wide margin English is in first place as the second language in most literate countries. It is the first choice of foreign languages in the Soviet Union. And incidentally, the English that is taught in Russia is much more like our American English than the Oxford version of England.

Belts Save Lives

(Sleepy Eye Herald Dispatch)

Don't overlook installation of seat belts if you are buying a new car. Would even be a good idea to have them put in the car you are driving now.

A Sleepy Eye man and wife, involved in an accident a few months ago, give seat belts credit for saving their lives. A friend whose husband was killed in a crash says a seat belt undoubtedly would have saved his life.

Wisconsin has enacted legislation requiring belts on all 1962 automobiles. If fatalities per accident decrease in Wisconsin other states will soon follow.

Whether we will use belts consistently, even though they are available, is another question. Law can't enforce their use—and we are a careless people.

Interesting Opinions

"People should not sneer at ceremony and dignity in courts of law. If judges sat with their feet on the bench, their ties off and a spittoon in the corner, people would have little regard for justice."

Lord Clyde, Lord Justice General of Scotland.

"If you are between the ages of 40 and 60 and have a chronic feeing that things are closing in on you, you are probably right. People in their forties and fifties make up around 22½ pct. of the population, and this percentage is slowly decreasing. Yet these same middle-agers probably do at least two-thirds of the brain-racking, decision-making, tax-paying, civic-improving, meeting-attending, office-holding & college-tuition-paying. And the burden appears to be growing."

Changing Times

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

The bride was sligthly honeymoon conscious and suggested that they shouldn't act like newlyweds or to tell anyone they were recently married. He promised.

When they came down to breakfast the next morning she noticed that other guests were staring at them.

"I thought I told you not to tell anyone we were just married," she said reprovingly.

"I didn't, the groom countered. "I told them we were just friends."

Manslaughter on the make

The death toll from highway accidents is expected to be in the neighborhood of 40,000 this year. You're looking at one of the main causes—poor vision.

Safety studies show that accident-free drivers are generally superior to accident-repeaters in sharpness of vision, ocular muscle balance, and depth perception.

Don't let an accident send you in for an eyesight examination. Go now—be safe later!

The Short Session

You will vote on a Congressman from your own district, our Services to the Blind program will continue, and confusion about forgiveness of 1961 income tax is removed—all this was done in a two-day special session.

I appreciate the generous comments about my leadership in bringing this about but I would pay tribute to the legislators who accepted the principle of prior agreement and cooperated to pass the bills promptly so our people would not be burdened with a long expensive meeting of the legislature.

There are many things needing to be done. My purpose is to bring people together so we can agree on programs and move ahead. If partisanship will be set aside we can accomplish much for Minnesota.

Three Areas of Concern

There are many areas of state responsibility needing attention and bolstering. One is provision for senior citizens. We are fortunate to have Bernard Nash as special consultant and Mrs. Walter W. Walker, Minneapolis, as chairman of the Governor's Council. One foundation effort is to get county committees established. There are now 24 such groups. Ask your welfare board if your county has one. If not, start one. Ask me for information. Older citizens are like everyone else. They want to be useful; they want to feel needed, they want to be in their home communities. There needs to be education for retirement, useful programs after retirement, concern about housing, medical care, nursing homes.

Another group of our people very much on my mind are the Indians. Many studies have been made but there are frustrations and progress is slow. I have an action committee working under John Kennedy of St. Paul and also a group of pastors are coordinating plans. Most importantly, I am in touch with the Indians themselves, to aid them in their desire to become self-sufficient and self-reliant.

The third area is that of the mentally ill. I am encouraged at the work of our Hospitals, and other parts of the overall program. I look forward to recommendations to Judge Edward J. Devitt's Survey Committee with keen interest. We have a long way to go yet to have a wholly effective preventive, treatment and follow-up program in our state.

My main goal is that every individual in our state have freedom to live and grow, equality of opportunity and protection under the law, and that no one among us be completely satisfied until everyone among us has dignity, an opportunity to work and provide for the needs and aspirations of his family, and a full realization of the American ideal.

A Happy New Year to you.

Offer Tips on State Federal Income Tax

This is the first in a series of informative articles prepared under the supervision of the Minnesota State Bar association to assist you in preparing your 1961 Minnesota and federal income tax returns.

The 1961 Minnesota Legislature made numerous changes in the Minnesota tax law, some of the more important of which will be pointed out in this and later articles.

To begin with, the withholding of Minnesota income tax at the source is required of all employers with respect to wages paid to their employees on or after October 1, 1961. Many of the features of the Federal withholding provisions are embodied in the new Minnesota withholding law. The due dates for filing reports and for remitting the taxes collected coincide with the Federal due dates, and definitions of many of the terms used conform to the Federal law.

In general, the Minnesota Department of Taxation will follow the rules and policies established for Federal withholding where practical. However, the Minnesota and Federal withholding provisions differ in certain respects, and these differences may create problems unless the helpful instructions and tables contained in Circular MW-B and issued by the Minnesota Department of Taxation are specifically followed.

Most individual taxpayers will be allowed a credit equal to 75 per cent of their 1961 Minnesota income tax liability as otherwise determined after deduction of personal and dependent credits, plus surtaxes (except for a new 5 per cent surtax). The new law provides that the 75 per cent credit will be available only to the taxpayers who have filed Minnesota income tax returns required to be filed for taxable years beginning January 1, 1955, and who have timely paid all taxes and interest shown to be due on such returns for all such taxable years.

The Department of Taxation has indicated, although it has not formally issued pertinent regulations, that the harshness of this requirement may be lessened by administrative or legislative action. Nonetheless, the 75 per cent credit will probably still be unavailable to taxpayers whose failure to file timely returns and to pay the taxes and interest due thereon was intentional or attributable to willful neglect.

Finally, the Minnesota tax law now requires certain taxpayers to file declarations of their estimated Minnesota income taxes for 1961 and subsequent years. A declaration of estimated 1961 Minnesota income tax must be filed if you expect your estimated 1961 Minnesota income tax (taking into account the 75 per cent "forgiveness" provision) to exceed Minnesota income taxes withheld by $20 or more, and if (a) your 1961 Minnesota gross income is expected to include more than $200 from sources other than wages from which Minnesota income taxes are withheld, and (b) you are single and your gross income exceeds $750, or you are married and your combined gross income exceeds $1,500.

If you are required to file a declaration of estimated 1961 Minnesota tax, your declaration must be filed on or before December 15, 1961, on Form M-14, and must be accompanied by the full amount of the estimated tax. Individuals who receive at least two-thirds of their gross income from farming may elect to wait until January 15, 1962, to file their declaration of estimated Minnesota tax. At that time, the entire estimated income tax will be due.

If however, a farmer prefers, he may file his final 1961 Minnesota return on or before February 15, 1962, and pay his entire tax due at that time instead of filing a declaration on or before January 15, 1962. Declarations of 1962 Federal and Minnesota taxes will be discussed in a later article.

(This column is written to inform, not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of a trained expert who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Fishing Licenses Cost More in 1962

1961 Legislature Raised Fee from $1.50 to $2.25

It will cost more to fish in Minnesota in 1962.

The 1961 session of the legislature saw resident fishing license fees increased as of 1962. Individual resident licenses for the coming year are priced at $2.25, as compared with $1.50 up to now. Combination resident licenses will be $2.75 in 1962 as compared with $2.00 this year.

Increases in the rates for non-resident licenses went into effect in 1961. Individual non-resident licenses were raised from $4.00 to $5.25. A new combination non-resident license was priced at $8.25.

No other 1962 game and fish license fee changes have been made. Darkhouse spearing licenses remain at $1.00 and fish shelter house licenses also are $1.00 A spearman must have both licenses.

Trapping licenses remain at $3.00, as do hunting licenses.

State park stickers, however, have been increased from $1.00 to $2.00 for 1962.

Miss America Goes College

East Lansing, Mich.—The mantle of education has taken the place of the cloak of glamour over the shoulders of Nancy Fleming, right, Miss America for 1961. She is hard at work at Michigan State University here carrying 21 credits of classroom study and aiming at the honor roll in a course in home economics with emphasis on communications and arts. She hopes to teach home economics on educational television. Nancy has compatible assistance in her transition to university life. Her "big sister" is Barbara MacDonald, left, 1960 Michigan state winner in the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Nancy was Betty Crocker winner that year in her local high school at Montague, Mich. The girls are shown testing color materials in a study of basic tailoring techniques. Barbara is a sophomore in home economics majoring in retail merchandising and is pursuing her college work with the aid of a General Mills scholarship. The Betty Crocker Search each year results in $110,000 in scholarships following a written test on homemaking. The national winner, chosen from more than 400,000 high school seniors, is awarded a $5,000 scholarship.

CHAMBER L.I.F.E.

Living-Industry-Farming-Education

By Rolly Larson
Manager, Chamber of Commerce

"Another sucker is born every minute" is an old axiom. This little, crude phrase has a great deal of truth and significance whether we like to admit it or not. The very meaning of the word "sucker", in this instance, means "A person easily duped or deceived".

From time to time the Chamber of Commerce office receives a rash of telephone calls that quickly portray a familiar picture. Some group of sales people is in town, is using a clever means of selling their product or service, and after the 'victim' customer or purchaser thinks about it, realizes that or at least feels that he or she has been "duped". In all likelihood, the salesman is legitimate but very, shrewd or high-pressured in nature, and so the momentarily unsuspecting prospect suddenly becomes the purchaser of something he or she does not want, need, or cannot afford. After thinking about it he or she will call the Chamber of Commerce office and say, "What am I going to do, what am I going to do?" Well, in most instances; it is too late to do anything; except pay the bill for what you have agreed to purchase.

The Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the National Better Business Bureau and the local law enforcement agencies, does have a Solicitations Control Program and a Better Business Bureau service. When you have a question about some sales group, solicitations group, or whatever, you are perfectly welcome to call us at 681-3720 and we'll see if we can help you out. That's precisely why we have this service. We do not want to see Thief River Falls on the "sucker list" and neither do you. So let's cooperate.

Along the line of suggestions would you please do this? Don't be 'taken in' or swept off your feet. Be an individual and know your rights. The greatest "deal" in the world will probably still be there tomorrow. If you ever have a question in your mind and have occasion to call us, I hope that it is before you are sorry, and I hope that you have some information about the party you want investigated: license numbers, make and model of car, description of the individual, name of his company, etc. Be alert, observant and you can be a good detective. Often your information can lead to the apprehension of some shady character and save many, many people money and embarassment.

I hope that you're having a very happy and sincere holiday season and we do enjoy seeing you as you Shop and Trade Where Bargains Are Made--In the Heart of Northwest Minnesota, Thief River Falls.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Matthew	25	1-13
Monday	Proverbs	6	6-15
Tuesday	Psalms	103	11-18
Wednesday	Luke	12	16-21
Thursday	James	4	13-17
Friday	Haggai	1	1-8
Saturday	Hebrews	6	1-12

The folks who lived in the day of the hourglass had a psychological advantage. They could see time passing.

And as each fine grain slipped through the neck of the glass, a man's conscience would whisper within him: less time left!

When we look at a clock its hands seem motionless. Is that why millions put off the important decisions that ought to be made right now?

Whatever its cause, procrastination is a disease. It lulls the senses into indolence. It wastes our energy on trivial pursuits, while important tasks remain undone. Especially it attacks the soul, tempting man to believe that there will be plenty of time later to tend to his spiritual needs.

But the cure is simple . . . and immediate. Just set the alarm clock and begin the New Year with worship in your Church. You'll soon be facing every important task with eagerness and courage and faith!

More Time Given for State Income Tax '62 Estimates

Rolland F. Hatfield, Minnesota tax commissioner, Thursday extended to Jan. 15 the deadline for filing state declarations of estimated 1961 income without penalty.

The filing deadline originally was Dec. 15. Hartfield previously had Dc. 31 because the Christmas mail rush delayed mailing of declaration forms.

He said he granted the extra 15 days yesterday because the mail still is moving slowly.

In another announcement, the tax commissioner said Minnesota taxpayers will soon receive two mailings on state income tax from his department.

The first will be 1961 income tax forms, including a forgiveness credit statement schedule based on the tax withholding law passed by the first special session of the 1961 legislature.

The second will be a revised forgiveness schedule based on the amendments to the withholding law passed Dec. 19 by the second special session.

George O. Lethert, district internal revenue director, said yesterday more than 1,250,000 federal income tax forms and instructions for individuals are being mailed to Minnesotans. Many of them reached Thief River Falls Friday.

Salvation Army Distributed 91 Yule Food Baskets

Rotarians Collect $121 for Christmas Cheer Fund and Is Awarded Trophy

Rotarians of the Thief River Falls Rotary Club did the loudest bell ringing for the Salvation Army during the pre-Christmas campaign and captured the trophy awarded by the local Salvation Army unit. The Rotarians gathered $121.34 as compared with $114.57 for the Lions and $58.35 for the American Legion post. A Veterans of Foreign Wars benefit contribution totaled $131.

Envoy Carl Paulson of the local unit noted that a large increase in services to needy families at Christmas time this year was apparent over the 1960 season. This year 91 food baskets were distributed, 486 toys, treats, gifts and skates were given, 200 persons in rest homes and hospitals received gifts and 460 Christmas dinners were provided through the local office. This is the largest volume in recent years.

The Christmas program on Dec. 23 was presented to a capacity crowd at the citadel and a Christmas film, "To Each a Gift" was shown at the service. Children of the Sunday School presented a program of recitations and treats were distributed.

Envoy Paulson again thanked individuals, service clubs and veterans groups, religious organizations and business places for their contributions during the Christmas season. "Without this generous support we would be unable to help others in the true spirit of the season to the extent that we did this year," he stated.

Insurance on '63 Wheat Crop Will Cost Less in RRV

Wheat crop insurance coverages will be up and the rates down for 1963 in all of the Valley counties in Minnesota, state director Ralph Childs announced today. "Although there was some disappointment these improvements could not be effective for 1962, we are happy to receive word from our national manager that the changes are definite for 1963," Mr. Childs stated.

"Tentative calculations of the wheat coverages indicate the bushel guarantees will be increased nearly 20% in most of the Valley counties. Premium rates charged will go down from 5% to 20% depending upon the loss experience of the individual county. Farmers who have carried the insurance through the years or apply for the protection available for 1962 will automatically be converted to the higher coverage and lower premium for 1963 according to Mr. Childs.

Significant improvements will also be made in the bushel guarantees for barley and flax in 1963, but the average increases will not be as high as for wheat. Most counties will also enjoy lower premium rates on these crops but a few counties will have a higher rate on flax because of an unfavorable insurance loss history.

The new coverages and rates are tentatively scheduled to be released in April or May of 1962. David Drotts of TRF is the crop insurance agent for Pennington county.

Scattered Snow Expected for Area During Weekend

Predicted Cold Snap Fails to Materialize Here Early This Week

A small bonus, in the form of warmer temperatures, is being given area residents over the New Year weekend by the weatherman Relief from sub-zero temperatures is expected to last through Monday. The one catch is that some scattereed snow flurries will be thrown in with the warmer temperatures.

Temperatures since Thursday were slightly above zero. Thursday's high was 5 and the low was -4. Friday's high was 7 and low -1, while the low this morning was 5 above. We have received .02 inch of precipitation in the form of .8 inch of snow.

Thus far there have been 14 days in December when the temperature dipped below zero for the low and four days when the temperature did not rise above zero. This compares with 19 below-zero lows in Dec. 1960 and five days in which the mercury stayed below zero all day.

The forecast is for variable cloudiness and warmer temperatures, with widely scattered snow flurries through Sunday. The highs today are expected to range from 15 to 23 and the lows from 5-15. Monday's outlook is for about the same kind of weather. HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Nash-Finch Closes Branch in G. Forks

Firm Had Beginning In That City in 1897

The Grand Forks branch of Nash-Finch Co. will be dissolved as of the end of 1961 and will become a part of the Fargo branch, Harold B. Finch, chairman of the board for the company, announced. The branch employed about 35 persons.

"It was not easy to make the decision to close our Grand Forks warehouse," Finch commented. "It was here in 1897 that our business had its beginning. It was our birthplace and our home for so many years."

While the branch office and warehouse at 503 DeMers Ave. will be closed, a number of employes will continue to live in Grand Forks Cecil Hanson, branch manager, said. Most other employes have accepted transfer to Fargo, Hanson said.

Babson Is Relatively Optimistic over 1962

In accordance with its custom of recent years, the Times today publishes Roger W. Babson's Business and Financial Forecast for 1962, copyrighted by the Publishers Financial Bureau of Babson Park, Mass. Babson's 1961 forecast proved to be 83 per cent correct, which is considered an excellent record. Following is his statement for 1962.

1. I am hopeful for 1962; it should be a better year for my readers than 1961. Industrial production will exceed that of 1961.

2. There will be neither a nuclear war nor total disarmament in 1962. Considerable progress may be made toward a ban on atomic weapons.

3. Some thirty stocks may reach an average of 1000 during 1962, although these will not necessarily be the thirty Dow-Jones stocks.

4. Retail trade will make new records during 1962. Increased newspaper advertising, especially in colors, will be a great boon to merchandising.

5. Commodity prices will be erratic during 1962. Agricultural prices will be held up by legislation, but many metals will sell for less.

6. The official cost-of-living figure will rise slightly in 1962, but there may be a scandal in Washington over how this figure is calculated or adjusted. The real increase in the cost-of-living will be due to increased wages demanded.

7. The only certain shortages during 1962 will be in land suitable for parking places and waterfront property readily accessible to building lots; also for automobile "graveyards" near cities which have been zoned.

8. The building of shelters will look silly before the end of 1962. Certainly the Federal Government will not underwrite the building of private shelters for individual families.

9. Good real estate must rise in price as the population increases. Elementary mathematics determines the price of suburban real estate. This is notwithstanding the claim of the "space companies" which are said to be interested in selling rights on the moon. There probably are crazier speculations.

10. While the land on which your house now stands should increase in value during 1962, the building itself depreciates from the moment when it is first occupied. A possible exception would be certain very attractive ranch houses painted in color.

11. Automobile production will be the most important statistical indicator during 1962. This applies to both the number of automobiles and their sales value. We now have no reliable figures for the latter.

12. We will gradually approach an average of two cars for every family. The life of automobiles should gradually increase. The percentage of automobiles annually destroyed will decrease in 1962.

13. Automobiles and gasoline will be, increasingly, sources for raising money by taxation. These means will be extended to include an additional assessment on the manufacturers of automobiles;

14. Taxes, as a whole, will continue to increase in 1962 for every

Ten other losses ranged from $200 to $700.

Of the fires, 14 were grass blazes and ten involved tractors, cars and motors; ten, appliances and light fixtures; nine, chimneys and furnace pipes; nine, rubbish; 11, furnaces, stoves, fireplaces and water heaters; six, matches and candles; ten, miscellaneous; and five false alarms.

Two Men Beaten in Grygla Fracas

Three Assailants Bound over to District Court

Second degree assault charges have been filed against three area men following a severe beating given to two Grygla men a week ago. The assault arose from domestic difficulties, according to the Marshall county sheriff's department which investigated the incident.

Hospitalized for several days at Northwestern Hospital in Thief River Falls were Stanley Erickson, 24, and Alfred Mielke, 50, both of whom were severely pounded and kicked in the face, one being severely cut on one eye. The altercation took place at Nell's Tavern in Grygla with the result being that the beer license for the tavern was indefinitely suspended by the Grygla village council.

Bound over to district court on $1,000 bond each after a preliminary hearing in Warren justice court were the three assailants, Arnold Tannem, 23, Donald Ray, 26, and Delwyn Holthusen, 21. KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. ARTHUR GUTTERUD

Kitchen Karnival will have as its last recipe for 1961 a prize winning recipe sent us by Mrs. Gutterud. They keep well frozen, when heated in the oven to that "butter melting" temperature they perk up an appetite and when fresh disappear fast.

PRIZEWINNING BUNS

Dissolve 2 cakes dry or compressed yeast in ¼ cup warm water for 10 minutes. Mix together, ½ cup sugar, 2 cups milk, 1 tsp. salt, 2 tbls. lard, 2 eggs and 3 cups flour.

Add dissolved yeast.

Let rise until double in size and shape into buns, plain or fancy.

Place on greased cooky sheet and bake in 350 degree oven for 15 minutes. From beginning to the end of baking it takes about five hours.

Helpful hint: If you have trouble with buns drying out, sprinkle with a few drops of water and wrap in tin foil before heating in oven.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gutterud have been residents of this city for the past eight years and have one son, Myron whom is married. They are also raising their grand nephew, Ross Gutterud, who is 6 years old.

Mrs. Gutterud is employed by Land O'Lakes and Mr. Gutterud recently by the local potato house.

Both have hobbies of gardening, flower raising and hand work.

Send your favorite recipes to Kitchen Karnival for future use. Share those favorite dishes, whether its pastries, desserts, salads, hot dishes or different methods of preparing meats or gravies.

Home Record-keeping Can Be Simple Matter

A new year and impending income tax time may be reminders that some improvements in the family record-keeping system would make preparing tax returns less hectic.

Many families avoid keeping records because they have no god workable system, according to Hal Routhe, extension economist at the University of Minnesota. Routhe has worked out a simple record-keeping system which he believes any family will find it easy to keep. He cautions, however, that working on records systematically is necessary to success. Here are the essentials of the system he recommends:

1. Have a business center where you can keep your financial records. This may be a desk or only a drawer.

2. Develop a good check book system. Write checks for tax-deductible items so your checks will serve as receipts. Keep carbon copies of all your bank deposits, identifying each item as salary, other income and so on.

3. Have some place such as a spindle or a box to keep receipts, cancelled checks and deposit slips before you record them.

4. Keep a record book in which you enter items of family income and expenses. You can record items in detail or simplify as much as you wish. But be sure to keep your record book up-to-date.

5. Have a place to file your records after they have met your needs at income tax time or at the end of the year. An indexed accordion-type folder or metal file is suitable for keeping cancelled checks, receipts and other records. Keep cancelled checks in chronological order.

An easy system such as this one avoids drudgery and more than repays you by enabling you to fill out your tax returns more easily, Routhe says. Futhermore, such a system will provide information for budgeting family expenditures and for more careful credit planning. But, he warns, never keep more information than you will use. The more complicated you make your record-keeping system, the sooner you will give it up entirely.

family. Business net taxes, however, will decrease in 1962, through the granting of depreciation refunds which can be done by Executive order. The manufacturer may greatly increase his deductions for past investments and new machinery, plant, and equipment. Douglas Dillon feels that such tax reductions will increase the purchase of new equipment, develop greater efficiency, and result in a net improvement in the employment situation. This is good news for 1962.

15. Speculation in real estate and securities will be active during 1962; but good children will gradually be recognized as the best investment. Young people will be married earlier and will want to have large families.

16. Public education will gradually be reorganized during the years ahead. Schoolhouses will be built as places to "park the kids" while the parents are at work. New schoolhouses will be built so as not to be over one story high, with lots of sunshine.

17. Owing to the lack of airport facilities and to inadequate equipment, there will be increasing airplane accidents during 1962.

18. With all the above changes, plus increased public improvements and longer vacation periods, families must save somehow and cut somewhere. I think it will begin in 1962 with clothing. This will gradually become cheaper and more attention will be paid to color.

19. The time is approaching when the weaving of cloth will be greatly curtailed. Clothes will be made like paper. Plastic coats are already on the market. These are produced by feeding the cellophane into a machine which cuts to desired sizes and bonds (not sews) the material into beautifully finished goods of different colors.

20. We will hear more about automation during 1962. But the cost of building automatic factories is so great that the change is coming slowly. Even electronics hav been overemphasized.

21. There need be no unemployment among steel workers during 1962. But Government unemployment figures will remain high. Foreign competition, due to low wages abroad, will be an important factor. Women will prefer to work in air-conditioned factories and have their home pantries filled with precooked foods.

22. Labor unrest will grow in extent and power. The Kennedy Administration is friendly to union leaders and their demands. There will be demands for more "fringes" in 1962. A steel strike is possible.

23. The real value of the dollar will decline slightly during 1962, due to the decrease in the productivity of labor. The electronics industry will temporarily suffer in 1962 if atomic warfare is outlawed. But otherwise the electronics industry will increase for some years to come and hold up the dollar value. Watch polymer chemicals and "epoxy" cements.

25. There will be enough money for mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration in 1962 Plenty of money will be available for mortgages guaranteed by the Veterans Administration, although this supply varies with different sections of the country. Interest rates on conventional loans not having any government guarantees will be a little higher. Real estate people will worry about the public's desire to build, rather than about their obtaining mortgage money.

26. The kilowatt hours of electricity produced in 1962 will exceed the total of any previous year. This is favorable to utility preferreds.

27. Steel production in 1962 will exceed this year's 100 million tons, but the increase will come from producing steel in colors.

28. Cement production will be about the same in 1962 as in 1961, but the industry's capacity to produce is increasing too rapidly in view of the demand. The cement manufacturers must give more attention to colors.

29. Expenditures for plant and equipment in 1962 will increase, supplemented by large appropriations for repainting factories and offices in many colors.

30. Newsprint production depends upon the number of newspapers and the amount of advertising sold. I forecast a decline in the amount of newsprint sold during 1962, but advertising receipts may increase through the better use of colors. This may result in the increased use of coated paper to better take color printing — with a 50 per cent increase in advertising rates.

31. Furniture manufacturers are marking up prices so that young couples will buy furniture in the raw and paint same themselves.

32. There will be some increases in color TV sales in 1962. In fact, I think the present TV market is far from being saturated.

33. First-class postage rates will not be increased during 1962. Hence, more money will be spent on direct mail selling. This should help job printers in 1962, as their present margin of profit is very small. Billboard advertising will increase during 1962, due to a new kind of paint.

34. Lumber will do well to hold its own in 1962 and much of it will be sold colored. Wall-to-wall carpeting will become even more popular, reducing the price of the best hardwood floors.

35. Fewer "scatter rugs" will be sold in 1962. Rug dealers must go to brighter colors, even for "orientals"

36. One of the greatest developments during 1962 will be the increased use of color in homes, offices, stores, and factories. This should increase both the demand for and the price of good paint.

37. Exports will probably increase during 1962, but the surplus of trade in favor of the United States is constantly decreasing.

38. President Kennedy is encouraged by the recent elections in New York, New Jersey, and Texas. This Democratic trend will continue during 1962, notwithstanding former President Eisenhower's campaign speeches.

39. President Kennedy will be more favorable to "big business" in 1962 only when he is able to use big business to increase employment. Profit margins will not improve during 1962, although most industries will do better in terms of gross and volume.

40. Bond prices will not change much during 1962, except in the case of "non-taxables." European investors are buying American stocks and bonds feeling that their money is safer in United States industries and real estate. Even the first mortgage bonds of transcontinental railroads are being bought by Europeans. The manufacturers of West Germany are making huge profits through the use of new machinery and low wages. They are sending their money to the United States to be invested. They seem to prefer suburban real estate, shopping centers, and electric utilities. I hope they are not buying into too many "fly-by-night" new electronic companies.

41. Buying of Mutual Funds will continue to exceed selling in 1962. Considering that brokers make much more profit by selling Mutual Funds than by selling shares of individual stocks — and considering the thousands of salesmen selling Mutual Funds — this should help stock prices during 1962. Remember that the Mutual Funds operators must go to the New York Stock Exchange to purchase stock to support these Mutual Funds which salesmen are selling in the field.

42. The so-called "service industries"—including education, beauty parlors, travel, entertainment, and government positions—should prosper in 1962.

43. Among the fastest growing industries in 1952 will be the plastics and glass industries. These materials will gradually take the place of wood, stone, cement, and even some metals, — except as these are colored. Plastics and glass will become more important building materials and perhaps be used much more for automobiles.

44. Some unexpected event or discovery will cause the Dow-Jones Industrial Average to sell much higher during the next few years. As an illustration of what one of these unexpected events will be, I mention the polymer developments in chemistry, including "DNA" and "RNA", which may provide the source of life and extend it—yes, perhaps restore it, in special cases.

45. I am bullish on Canada for safe investments during 1962. Canada has a small population of only 18,000,000, but it is rich in natural resources and has a sound, progressive government. I do not expect a nuclear war to be started by Russia; but if it comes, Canada will be a good place to live and to have your money invested.

46. South and Central America also have great natural resources; but most of their countries are ruled by selfish dictators. I believe most of our southern neighbors will suffer from serious inflation during 1962 and become a great problem for the United States.

47. Although the countries of Europe could be the greatest sufferers in case of World War III, the people I meet in Europe fail to realize this. I forecast that they will look at the situation more realistically during 1962.

48. West Germany is very prosperous; East Germany is in terrible condition. Much unemployment exists in Italy, France, and even Great Britain. I advise against investing money in Europe during 1962.

49. I am uncertain how to advise about Africa. But it is very rich in natural resources — including gold, diamonds, and almost every metal — as well as having the greatest undeveloped water-power in the world. Barclays Bank I am personally acquainted with and recommend. Both Barclays and the Standard Bank are owned in England and have a great many branches; the latter has over 850 branch offices in Africa. Readers who are interested in keeping in touch with Africa may secure free of charge the Standard Bank Monthly Review by writing the Standard Bank of South Africa, 10 Clement Lane, London, EC 4. The banking of Northern Africa is controlled by the French. I would advise against putting money into Northern Africa during 1962.

50. The final result of 1962 — whether it will make us a stronger or a softer nation — spiritually, physically, and mentally — depends upon our parents, teachers, preachers, and newspaper publishers. These, and not Russia, hold the future of the United States in their hands.

Aviation Fans to Meet January 18

Experimental Aircraft Group to Name Officers

Over 50 educational aviation films, covering the period spanned from the invention of the airplane to the present, are available to chapters of the Experimental Aircraft Assn., one of which was recently organized in Thief River Falls, it was announced by EAA headquarters, Milwaukee, recently.

One of these will be shown to the local group when it holds its next meeting Thursday, Jan. 18. Also scheduled is election of chapter officers.

The films available to EAA chapters range from aviation history, 1903 to the present, to aircraft technology and piloting sciences. Everyone interested in aviation, whether a member of the local EAA chapter or not, is invited to attend the meetings and see the films as they are of benefit to all segments of aviation.

Many, such as the 16 mm. color-sound film about the famous Navy Blue Angels aerobatic team, are also of interest to the general public. The film scheduled at this month's meeting is a 200 ft., 8 mm. color movie of the 1960 EAA fly-in at Rockford, Ill. Present plans call for a movie to be shown at each monthly meeting of the local chapter, with meetings open to the public.

31 YEARS as city editor of the Thief River Falls Times have been completed by Norman Holen who moved here from Argyle in 1930. Holen has relinquished his position as of January 1 but will continue with the paper in a less demanding capacity. His "Topics of the Times" column, which has been unfailing since he began his editorship here, will also continue in each Thursday edition. During his newspaper editing, Holen has met more than 2,000 publication deadlines and has missed only five days of work due to illness in his 31 years at the Times.

Retiring City Editor Submits to Interview by Successor in Post

by Marv Lundin
Times Reporter

More than 2,000 deadlines ago, Norman A. Holen embarked on an editing career which began at Argyle and for the past 31 years has been his profession at the Times. And while he proclaims those years to be uneventful while swallowed up in the depths of every day routine, his has been a significant part in the recording and promoting of progress for this community.

Holen entered the world in 1894 at Argyle where he received his elementary education. In 1915 he was enrolled in the first journalism classes made available at the University of Minnesota and directed by the late W. P. Kirkwood. With other college work in economics, he graduated in 1917 and was elected to the Grey Friars senior honorary fraternity at the university. He is also a member of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity. He served in his senior year as managing editor of the Minnesota Daily.

After graduation from the university, he worked for two years as a teller in the Citizen's State Bank in Thief River Falls which was operated by his uncle, T. L. Melgaard. He moved to Argyle in 1921 to handle the business affairs for his father. This included management of the Argyle Mercantile store and supervision of extensive farming interests. He was married in 1923 to Miss Grace Wilson, a native of Thief River Falls.

In 1925 he began editing the Marshall County Banner at Argyle and served there until 1930 when he accepted a position as city editor with the Times. The position here had been vacant for several months and his first employers were W. E. Dahlquist, still editor of the Times, and the late A. E. and C. W. Mattson. His resigning that position January 1 to continue in a less demanding capacity with the Times comes after 31 years of service which has been made notable by only a few days of absence due to illness during that time.

It was 30 years ago when Holen wrote what he considered to be his first "big story" for the Times. This was complete coverage on a fire which swept several square miles in the Fourtown area east of Grygla causing several deaths and the loss of an extensive amount of property. Together with editor Dahlquist he visited the area to gather information for the story and followed the initial account with several stories on relief progress for the fire sufferers.

During his tenure in the city editor's chair, Holen has seen the Times publication change from a Thursday weekly to a Wednesday weekly and then to the semi-weekly status it now holds. He has recorded the deaths of a large number of prominent citizens who have made their mark on the community through interest in civic affairs.

"Topics of the Times", the personal column which has provided readers with Holen's sage comment for the more than 30 years he has been with the Times, will be one of his continuing contributions in the less demanding capacity. This column is a continuation of his initial column in the Banner at Argyle. Known as the "Argyle Angle" that column was often quoted in the "Literary Digest," a magazine which since ceased publication. Differing from many personal columns in other newspapers, where writers rely on others for items, a large portion of "Topics of the Times" contains original Holen humor.

A charter member of the Thief River Falls Lions club, Holen has served as a board member and has been publicity chairman for the organization since its beginning. He is a member of the local Masonic Lodge and a past master of the Argyle Masons, a member and past trustee of the Elks Lodge and a former member of the Carnegie Public Library board. He also remembers serving as president of the Marshall County Taxpayer's League in the early 1920's. "We didn't want the commissioners to spend so much money," he commented.

His has been a career devoted to duty, satisfying if not illustrious, memorable because of playing a vital role in the advancement of a growing community. With the exception of approximately the past 10 years, he handled the writing chores without a reporter to assist him. This is a path which will be indeed difficult to follow.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Time, what is that? It moves along unceasingly, waits for no one but links the years together in an endless chain. When New Year's eve came and the clock struck its last hour, last night, we left ourselves being carried along on the tide of time, looking to this year as a new leaf on a tree. Another January first, another beginning!

Tips on Electric Ranges

Maybe Santa left a few electrical appliances in your stocking so I have a few suggestions so they will last longer for you.

1. Clean heating elements by burning off any spilled food and brushing with a soft brush. Never scrape it off or use water to clean unit.

2. Keep the 4 S's away from the wires of an open unit—salt, soda, soap and sugar.

3. Avoid using a higher heat than necessary.

4. Rotate the use of the surface units as you do your spare tire on your car, using the largest unit only when using a large pan.

5. Keep the drip pans beneath the surface units clean to prevent burning of wires leading to surface units. In order to clean, it may be necessary to lift up the surface unit.

6. Use utensils with flat bottoms and tight fitting lids. When a large utensil must be used, protect the porcelain enamel around the surface with a heavy asbestos sheet larger than the utensil with a hole in the center the size of the unit.

7. Clean the porcelain top after it is cool with warm, soapy water or whiting. Wipe up lemon, vinegar or other acids immediately.

8. Clean oven with soap and water. Leave door open until oven is cool. Never store food in oven. Avoid putting exceptionally heavy objects on oven door or surface units.

9. Be sure the deep well cooker has water in it before you turn on the switch. Always remove the pan and use a rack when baking in a deep well cooker.

10. Keep broiler pan clean and stored in utensil drawer except when broiling.

Care of the Dryer

Blower Dryer — Empty lint after each day's use. Clean thoroughly with vacuum cleaner when necessary.

Filtrator Dryer — After each day's use, wipe lint off filtrator. Wash filtrator periodically. Empty tray at bottom of dryer after each load if it is not piped to drain. Occasionally water tray should be washed.

Condenser Dryer — Check interior of dryer for lint accumulation every other week during first two months of use and clean when necessary. After this period check and clean occasionally. This will depend on how much dryer is used and the type of articles dried.

All Dryers —

1. When drying starched clothes, start with cold drum. Use a clothing brush and cold water to remove any particles of starch after drying heavily starched articles.

2. DO NOT: use dryer for drying articles treated with flammable solvents.

3. Leave door slightly open after each use. Be sure Time Control is in off positon.

4. Clean exterior with a damp cloth.

10 College Students Tell of Experiences

College students home for the holidays discussed their college advantages and disadvantages with senior students at Lincoln high school Thursday afternoon in the high school cafeteria. More than 50 high school and college youngsters attended the social coffee hour which permitted informal discussion and visiting.

Several major considerations were outlined by college students in their selection of schools. Among them were the courses offered for the vocation desired, proximity to this area, cost of tuition, fees and living expenses and individual attention which can be obtained from instructors when classroom lessons are not completely understood.

A random choice of local students attending 10 institutions of higher learning was made by a Times reporter and their interview comments are recorded below:

Robert Benke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Benke and first year engineering student in a five-year course at the University of North Dakota, likes the size of classes and opportunity for individual help at UND. He cites the compact campus, availability of recreation facilities and excellent library for reference work. "If you want to work you can get an education," he said, "but if you want to play you have to work to get your grades first. If you don't maintain your grades, the college has no need for you."

Jack Goulet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Goulet, is a freshman in pre-architecture at St. John's University at Collegeville. After three years there he will have another three years at the University of Minnesota to complete a Bachelor of Architecture degree. He enjoys the beauty of the campus at the all-male school and cites the 100-year plan for the college prepared by Marcel Breuer, Austrian architect, who assisted in design of the U.N. building in New York and UNESCO building in Paris. The school offers a well-rounded curriculum. Tame deer roam the campus. "The new church designed by Breuer is magnificent," he states, "and the college has the largest abbey in the world with 250 Benedictine Monks."

Jerry Wedul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christensen, is a junior at Bemidji State College with majors in biology and Russian and a minor in English. Cost was a main factor in his choice of BSC since it offers a sound education for a future vocation in education at comparatively moderate cost. Active in the Lutheran Student Association Jerry is now northern area representative for the Land O' Lakes Region of LSA. The school is in the midst of a building program with recent or planned construction including a physical education building, science and mathematics building and two new dormitory wings.

Judy Magnuson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Magnuson, plans to major in mathematics or physics at Concordia college where she is a freshman. Planning a high school teaching career, she finds the college has a friendly atmosphere. "The large number of required subjects guarantee a liberal education," she said. "It takes time to adjust to lecture classes where teachers take much more for granted than they do in high school. And don't forget to mention our famous choir directed by Paul J. Christiansen."

Karin Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Larson, is seeking a government position in foreign service by taking courses in political science and history at St. Olaf college where she is a second year student. One of her courses is Spanish since she hopes to work in South or Latin America. "With an enrollment of about 1,900 students, this TALC-affiliated school is small enough to allow personal contact with instructors," she said. Her extra-curricular work has been mainly geared to student political activity.

Sharon Knutson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harland Knutson, is in her first year of training at Northwestern Hospital School of Nursing in Minneapolis. Together with Nelda Nelson, her roommate and also a 1961 LHS graduate, she will attend classes at Macalester college in St. Paul until June. Next summer she begins hospital floor work 35 hours per week in addition to classes and the third year of the three-year course will provide training in psychiatrics. She likes the idea of training for a profession. When moving into the 4th floor of former Asbury Hospital which is now a home for the aged in Minneapolis while a new dormitory for Northwestern is being built, she raised the eyebrows of an elderly woman on an elevator when she informed the lady that she and the group of students with her were "moving in." Somewhat taken aback by the age of the girls and the nature of the home, the lady none-the-less replied, "Well, I'm sure you'll like it here."

Marlys Madunich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Madunich, is a first year student in medical technology at the University of Minnesota and would like a career in research. She likes the large school because of the opportunity for a "broader education" through personal appearances of internationally known personalities, large number of foreign exchange students and other outstanding events on the campus or in the Twin Cities. Although only a freshman, she is president of her section of Sanford Hall, the girls' dormitory. "Don't forget our football team," she cautioned. They play UCLA in the Rose Bowl Classic January 1.

Mark Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Justus Larson, has just begun the five-year course in pharmacy at North Dakota State University in Fargo. He chose the school because of its high pharmacy college rating and its relative nearness to this city. He believes pharmacy will provide him with the security of a profession with an eventual aspiration for a business of his own. Classes are fairly small at the school and individual help is available if desired. Dormitories are filled and he lives off campus. Product of a music-minded family, he would like to join the NDSU Gold Star band's saxophone section in the future, after his first year of study is completed.

Milon Alby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Alby, is gaining education toward a career with the federal park service through forestry courses at the North Dakota School of Forestry at Bottineau. The school has an enrollment of about 200 students and offers a full junior college curriculum. He has made application for a scholarship and hopes to attend Utah State University next year. "Next year the school will have all new dormitories," he said, "and small classes make it possible for students to receive additional help from instructors. Cost of attending the school is also attractive."

Rolland Smith, son of Mrs. Lillian Smith, plans a major in elementary education at Moorhead State College where he is a freshman. He appreciates a small school where "students aren't just a number" and there is a congenial social atmosphere among all the students. Dormitory life creates a challenge to apply yourself to studying and rivalry among the three colleges in the Fargo-Moorhead area creates intense interest in all inter-school events. He is a member of the saxophone section of the MSC concert and marching bands. Music may be a minor in his college courses.

hibits are returned to farmers after the show.

The program is being arranged by County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk. Legumes, grasses and dairying will be included in the education portion of the Seed and Feed show.

Dairy farmers in the area will hear two featured speakers on important dairy topics. Dr. Bill Mudge, extension dairy specialist, will discuss feeding of dairy heifers for development of strong milk cows. He will also talk on how to feed milk cows to get the most profitable output of milk.

Dr. Ed Frederick, N.W. School, Crookston, will discuss breeding and mastitis problems in dairying. Dr. William Hueg, extension agronomist, will discuss forages such as silages and hay and methods of getting the most of these crops from each acre.

An added feature of the show are booths which will display new commercial products handled by local seed, feed, fertilizer and dairy firms who are co-operating in putting on the show.

Present at the meeting Wednesday to plan the dairy portion of the show were: Klem Gigstad, Co-op Creamery; Art Stenberg, Land O'Lakes district director; Jim Muzzy, ADA district director and president of Red River Valley Holstein Association; Milo Moe and Bill Rupprecht, Consolidated Breeders; Don Bruggeman, American Breeders; Wally Jordet, Land O' Lakes; Clyde Christensen, president, Top of the Nation Dairy assn. and Stuart McLeod, RR Valley Dairy Ass'n.

Rolly Larson, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce stated the chamber will again aid the show. Peter Probasco, Vocational Agriculture instructor at Lincoln high school is in charge of working out details of an FFA grain clinic to be held during the show.

Other agencies co-operating in staging the event are the banks of Pennington county.

Seed growers selected Andrew Skaar as delegate to the Minnesota Crop Improvement Association meeting to be held during Farm and Home Week held at the University of Minnesota, January 16-19.

HAP . . . . .PY NEW YEAR! After the formal frivolities of welcoming a new leaf on the calendar of time, now is the hour for some serious thinking and initiation of action to make 1962 a year worth welcoming. For Thief River Falls and the surrounding area the coming 365 days will be a social and economic challenge.

As has been the habit of people who don't know any better, I am going to make several predictions as to what 1962 will bring to this area. More than one of the following are based on wishful thinking without factual foundation.

(1) At least one new industry will choose to locate in Thief River Falls, probably not with an extensive payroll but with a product geared to the advancement of modern times.

(2) Organization of a city planning commission will be formulated and will draw on information gained in the Chamber of Commerce Community Survey for information. It will come up with some concrete findings and, before the year is over will have an effect on several community needs.

(3) Voters in the Thief River Falls school district will be confronted with a bond election for the construction of either a junior high school, new elementary school, or both.

(4) Organization of an activity group for persons 65 years of age and older will take place on a community basis and senior citizens will be given an opportunity to take an active part in several phases of community activity.

(5) Agriculture will prove more profitable than 1961 with generally good crops throughout the area due to more favorable weather conditions and improved management pratices. Increased livestock production will be noted, particularly in feeder pigs and beef cattle. Turkey numbers will be substantially reduced from the disastrous numbers raised in 1961.

(6) Engineering will be started on the river improvement project for Thief River Falls and three neighboring townships but no actual work on clean-out will be initiated.

For 1962 my hopes for you are that your putts drop, all your fish are big ones, your lawns stay green, your cash registers ring, your granaries bulge, your debts diminish and your summer vacation seems too short.

Some of the hazards of apartment living were noted in a letter from Miss Janice Lindberg to her mother, Mrs. K. E. Lindberg of 910 Main av. N. But American ingenuity came to the rescue of Miss Lindberg when unexpected company arrived at the two-room apartment she shares with two other working girls in Seattle, Wash. She used a leg off the coffee table to roll out the pie crust and took a door off a closet to lay across two chairs for the festive table. Who can top this saga of making what you have on hand suffice for the moment?

HERE'S TO YOU AND SIXTY-TWO

Greetings to thee, little guys,
Slow of step and red of eyes.
Did you properly relieve Yourselves of care on New Year's Eve?

Did your all night revelry
Help turn back the stormy sea
Of cares to be confronting you
Throughout the course of sixty-two.

Does the ice pack on your head
Turn your thoughts to work instead?
Does the threat of more confusion
Prompt a New Year's resolution?

When heads return to proper size
And spirits slowly start to rise,
Harken with attentive ear—
Today has dawned another year.

CHAMBER L.I.F.E.

Living-Industry-Farming-Education

By Rolly Larson
Manager Chamber of Commerce

This is the time of year when people sanctimoniously expound about the pious resolutions they've made for the coming year. This is good! If only we would live up to our resolutions we could be better citizens, couldn't we? More often than not, we do not live up to our goals and that's bad.

In 1962, however, let's keep it simple and serious. Let's merely resolve to try just a little bit harder to be what we want to be. Instead of talking about goals, let's try to get a little closer to them. Let's become a little smarter and work a little harder. Let's push ourselves just a little bit farther.

All of us are great authorities on some subject, usually everybody else's business but our own. Naturally we must have mutual concern but that is not my point. What I'm trying to say is that each of us should try to do a little better in 1962. I've often thought that if every citizen in the Thief River Falls area did just that, this community would boom. We wouldn't have to talk about community development because we'd be right in it, clear to our ears. The increase in activity would have everybody busy. Going further, if each of us did a little better every year than we did the year before, the community would boom constantly.

So let's not talk about 1961. That's history now. Let's look at 1962, raise our sights, and then get into gear. That's a simple, serious, realistic resolution, and I dare you to make it and further more to live by it. Progress is up to you and me, not the next guy.

You'll see a few signs of progress if you Shop and Trade Where Bargains Are Made—In the Heart of Northwest Minnesota, Thief River Falls.

Reports from Washington indicate that Adlai Stevenson is not happy with his United Nations assignment and that there may be a parting of the ways with the administration in the near future. Columnist William S. White thinks Stevenson resents being merely a mouthpiece for the administration, and left out of the inner circle that formulates policy. Some of the policies would be a little difficult to explain.

Sue The Teamsters?

(Hoard's Dairyman)

For two weeks in late October and early November, the teamsters union in the New York City area was on strike. The issue revolved around the installation of time clocks!

While the teamsters took a two-week vacation, the dairy farmers on the New York market — some 47,000 of them — had to divert their milk to manufacturing purposes. The result has been a loss of $1.3 million. Another effect of the strike and its settlement is expected to be an immediate increase of 1 cent per quart in the retail price of milk and, in all probability, a further increase of another cent a quart to make the package cost total 2 cents per quart in the New York area. No estimate can yet be made of the effects on future fluid milk sales.

But let's get back to the effect on dairymen. Obviously, great damage has been inflicted upon innocent people. An angry New York dairyman, at the National Milk Producers Federation meeting in Seattle last month, said that the dairy cooperatives in the market should sue the teamsters union for damages. We can sympathize with his feeling. Simple justice and equity would indicate that damages are due. He knew, and we know, of course, that there is little or no hope of success in recovering damages because pro-labor legislation undoubtedly makes the teamsters immune to such action though great damage has been done.

One good purpose would be served by a court suit. It would publicize dramatically the losses suffered by innocent parties. Further, it woud point up the necessity for corrective legislation to resolve labor-management disputes which, if allowed to go to the strike weapon, stand to seriously impair the rights and welfare of innocent parties.

Depressed America

(The Morris Sun)

Some 750 counties in the United States have been designated as depressed areas since the enactment earlier this year of the federal aid program for depressed areas. Thus, according to the U. S. Department of Comerce, one-fourth of the counties in the country fall into the depressed area classification.

Now stop and think. Do 25 percent of the counties in the richest country in the world really need outside help? Is that large a portion of the United States unable to fend for itself without federal subsidy? Of course not.

What has happened to the depressed areas program is the same thing that so frequently happens to federal subsidy programs. They don't just grow. They explode.

Holding The Wage Line

(New York Times)

The Kennedy Administration is finding it hard to decide when wage increases become inflationary. The President told the A.F.L.-C.I.O. convention he expected management and labor to cooperate in maintaining stable prices so American goods could compete successfully in world markets. Appearing before the same convention the next day, Secretary of Labor Goldberg put far more accent on the justification for higher wages than on any exercise of self-restraint.

He directed special attention to the correction of wage "inequities through collective bargaining." There has never been a union in any industry that could not prove to its own satisfaction that its pay scales and fringe benefits were too low by comparison with those that existed somewhere else. Mr. Goldberg's announcement that the Administration favors bargaining to remove such inequalities is likely to stimulate a limitless range of demands, all of which would presumably fit within the stated goal of over-all price stability.

If the end effect of the President's campaign for voluntary holding of the price line is to throw all the responsibility on industry, Mr. Kennedy will undo all the efforts he has been making to persuade the business community that he does not apply a double standard to business and to labor.

Food for Thought

(Denver Post)

In these overwrought times, when doom is being shouted from the house tops, anyone who can truthfully say or write something to boost our morale is a friend indeed.

Maybe the cost of living isn't really as high as we thought it was. Here are some "facts and figures" about food, as reported in the August issue of Shell Chemical Agricultural News:

"The real cost of our food today is lower than it has ever been. We spend only 30 pct. of our take-home pay for food. Wages from one hour of factory work buy 83 pct. more round steak, 126 pct. more milk—than in 1929."

The same report says U.S. farmers are efficient and are becoming even more so. One farmer now produces food and clothing for 26 people. One hour of farm labor now produces four times as much food and fiber as it did in 1919-21. Crop production is 65 pct. higher per acre.

Food supplies in this country are called "the most varied and nutritious in the world." Food is a bargain in the U.S. today because of teamwork of farmers, industry and government.

So, anyhow, her's something for pop to think about as he helps push mom's groaning basket around the supermarket.

Eveleth Six Tips Prowlers 4 to 1

The Eveleth Golden Bears will meet the Roseau Rams at 9:00 o'clock tonight, Saturday, in the finals of the holiday hockey tournament being played at Roseau. The finals will have a championship tinge as the two teams were winners in last night's play.

Coach John Matcheft's Eveleth club defeated the Prowlers, 4-1; and coach Oscar Almquist's defending state champion Roseau Rams, and unbeaten in play this season, took the measure of St. Paul Humboldt, 4-0. In the first game on tonight's twin bill, coach Gene Sack's Prowlers will play the St. Paul Humboldt Indians, with the face-off slated for 7:30 p.m.

In Friday night's opener, coach Matcheft's Golden bears from Region Seven held a 2-0 lead at the end of two periods of play, with the combination of Frank Bonach and Mike Jugovich accounting for the Eveleth tallies.

Opening the third period of play, the Prowlers moved into contention at the 3:36 mark when sophomore center Don Mathieu beat goalie John Schutte, and the Bears lead by a 2-1 score.

With Team Teal in the penalty box, the Bears scored a goal on Steve Nelson's long drive from the blue line, the screened shot eluding goalie Tom Teal. And at the 7:19 mark, Bonach, completing a busy evening of play, rapped in [illegible] to give Eveleth their 4-1 margin.

The Roseau Rams, with two quick goals by Rick Ulvin and Paul Rygh, gained control of their game against the St. Paul Humboldt Indians, and went on to win by a 4-0 score. Ron Wellen scored Roseau's second period tally, and Gary Grugel closed out the game's scoring with a goal late in the third period.

Coach Gene Sack's Prowlers will meet the Minneapolis Roosevelt squad on the Arena ice here Thursday night, Jan. 4. Coach Bob Johnson's Teddies are rated highly in the Minneapolis high school league. Last year, Roosevelt dropped a 2-0 decision to the Prowlers in a game played on the Arena ice.

Urges Full Feed for Fresh Cows

Dr. C. L. Cole, 'U' of M. Authority, Offers Tips

"The old idea that we should get a fresh cow back or full feed gradually over a period of several weeks after she calves has no place in modern dairy herd management," C. L. Cole said today.

Cole, head of the University of Minnesota's department of dairy husbandry, spoke at a livestock nutrition short course for vocational agriculture teachers held on the St. Paul campus.

"We used to feel that a high level of concentrate feeding at calving time would increase the risk of udder swelling, mastitis, milk fever and other problems," Cole said. "Today we know that about the only thing we'll get from heavy grain feeding after calving is more milk."

He recommended that dairymen begin increasing concentrate levels for dry cows as soon as they've been properly dried off. "For top production a cow should be back on full feed by the time she calves," Cole said.

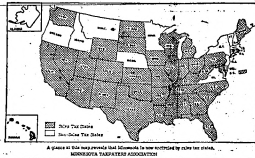
MINNESOTA NOW ISLAND IN SALES TAX SEA



A glance at this map reveals that Minnesota is now encircled by sales tax states.
MINNESOTA TAXPAYERS ASSOCIATION

State of Wisconsin Now Levies Sales Tax

Legislative action in Wisconsin has closed the last gap in a sales tax "curtain" around Minnesota, according to Charles P. Stone, General Counsel of the Minnesota Taxpayers Association.

"Wisconsin's enactment of a 3 per cent sales tax just before the new year has completed the map picture that shows Minnesota as an island in a sales tax sea," Stone said.

"The Dairyland State is the 37th to turn to the modern sales tax as a major source of revenue. Similar legislative action was taken in Texas earlier in 1961 and in Kentucky in 1960.

"It is the conviction of the Minnesota Taxpayers Association that eventually all states must look to the sales tax to achieve equitable and well-balanced tax structures."

In Minnesota, Stone said adoption of such a tax would make it possible to correct the "sorest" spots in our present tax structure.

"Its revenues would permit (1) replacement of the inequitable and outmoded personal property taxes on farm and business inventory and productive machinery items; (2) some relief—by way of reduction in the state mill levy—to overburdened real property taxpayers; and (3) some reduction in our high individual and corporate income tax rates," Stone said.

"If we are to stimulate Minnesota's economic growth and provide sorely needed job opportunities, the sooner these adjustments are made the better," Stone concluded.

Social Security Tax Increased January 1

Social security tax rates go up again Jan. 1, with the increased revenues helping meet the cost of benefit changes which became effective under amendments signed into law June 30.

The hike amounts to one-eighth of 1 per cent for employes and employers, and to two-tenths of 1 per cent for the self-employed.

This makes the new rate 3⅛ per cent for employe and employer, or a total payroll tax of 6¼ per cent for each employe, and 4.7 per cent for self-employed workers.

The tax applies to the first $4,800 of annual earnings by employes. So, the maximum annual amount of payroll tax will be $300 instead of the present $288, or $150 each on employe and employer instead of $144.

Self-employed have to earn $400 a year before they are taxed, with the tax then being applied to all earnings up to $4,800. The new maximum tax for self-employed will be $225.60 instead of $216 a year.

Changes effective this year included; Giving retired men the option to collect reduced benefits at 62 instead of at 65; increasing aged dependent widows benefits by about 10 per cent; increasing the minimum from $33 to $40 a month; providing more incentive for beneficiaries to work by reducing the amount that has to be withheld from their benefits because of earnings above certain levels.

Benefits under the old-age and survivors and disability insurance programs of social security had reached $1,047,000,000 in September, the last month for which complete figures are available. This was an increase of 12 million dollars over August.

The number of recipients during September was 16,107,659.

Estimated total tax receipts by calendar years are $12,700,000,000 for 1961, 13½ billion for 1962 and $15,700,000,000 for 1963.

An estimated 61¼ million employes were subject to the social security tax during September. The latest figures on employers showed there were about 5¼ million last year and an estimated 5,300,000 this year.

WE UNDERRATE OUR OWN STATE

Like the weather, there's been a great deal of talk about Minnesota's dwindling farm population and waning agricultural prowess. Governor Andersen is recruiting expert leadership to do something about this situation besides talk. Here are a few of many highlights marking a recent Farm Campus Conference on Country Life: Minnesota is second to only one other state in percentage of fertile crop land. . .We raise the most turkeys and are second in soybean production. . . We enjoy special advantages in the production of sugar beets, soybeans, malting barley, potatoes, livestock, and are well equipped for processing and freezing foods. . . Too much good Minnesota food goes on the market unidentified. . .We have done better developing natural than human resources, and should do a better job selling our exceptionally capable young people on exceptional agricultural and industrial opportunities right here at home.

Grapefruit, Honey Good January Buys

Broilers Also Low Priced, Agriculture Dept. Says

If you're resolved to watch your food money more closely in the coming year, you can get off to a good start by following the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for January, says Miss Laura Duerst, Pennington county home agent.

Topping the list is a tasty breakfast pair — grapefruit and honey, selling at attractive prices. Serve them together to start January on an economical note.

Broiler-fryers will be a good buy for January dinners. Altho prices may be up a little from the very low level of recent weeks, they will be lower than last January. Beans for baking will be plentiful for budget meals during the month.

Potatoes are in bumper supply this winter from a crop 5 million hundred-weight larger than expected. Prices will be the lowest in a long time. Made into pancakes and various casseroles, potatoes can be used as budget stretchers through the winter.

Feature apples in your January menus and offer them fresh to the youngsters when they come home from school. This year's apple crop is turning out to be even larger than expected.

Canned cherries will be in good supply and will be lower priced than last year.

Hunting, Fishing Licenses Due Jan. 1, Auditor States

County Auditor Charles Rodekuhr has issued a warning to local sportsmen that the Minnesota hunting and fishing licenses, issued last year, will expire on Dec. 31st. Anglers and hunters intending to pursue their favorite pastime this season (and this is particularly applicable to the winter fishermen) must have a 1962 fishing or hunting license. Some sportsmen, in previous year, have found themselves haled into court because of out-dated licenses, believing that these licenses are issued on a seasonal basis.

Seamstresses Are Advised to Select Fabrics Carefully

Extension Specialist from 'U' of Minnesota, Gives Tips to Beginners

As you learn to sew, you should also learn the importance of selecting your fabric carefully. Athelene Scheid, extension clothing specialist at the University of Minnesota, gives some points to remember about fabric to girls learning to sew in the 4-H clothing project or on their own.

First, check grain line in all the fabric you buy. Look at a piece of cloth. Some threads go up and down the length of the material. These are called lengthwise threads or grain. Others go across the cloth and are called filling threads or crosswise grain.

When lengthwise and crosswise threads are woven together they should cross each other at right angles. Such fabrics are on grain. However, if the threads slant or curve across one another, the fabric is off grain.

If the material needs to be straightened, smooth it out on a table, find a diagonal line across the goods where there is the most stretch and pull. If the grain line is not straight and you do not adjust it, the garment you make will not fit correctly.

When you shop, examine the torn edges of folded fabric to see if the ends are even. Remember, you will have to straighten every uneven piece of material. If you buy a print fabric, be sure that the design is straight along the torn edge. If the design is crooked, you may not want to purchase the fabric.

When you cut or fit a garment you must follow the grainline or filling threads.

The tightly woven threads along the sides of the fabric are called selvage. This means self-edge. The selvage is always the lengthwise edge of the cloth.

Make sure the material you buy is colorfast and will not shrink more than one percent. The label on fabrics will tell you other things you should know such as the composition of the material.

Year-end Memories

Perhaps the year's athletic event that generated the most entertainment, and the most sustained excitement, was the pair of basketball games that the Bemidji Lumberjacks and the Prowlers played during the regular season.

The first game of the annual two-game series was played on the local court early in January, and the Prowlers, on a field goal by Harvey Ebbighausen with a minute to play, defeated coach Bun Fortier's Jack, 48-46. The period-stop scores indicate the trend of the game. Bemidji held a 14-13 lead in the first period; the score was in a 28-all knot at the intermission; and in the third period the Prowlers moved into a 45-35 lead. The Jacks opened with a nine-point burst to open the fourth period, and with 2:20 to play, Spence Price knotted the game at 46-all. And then came Ebbighausen's winning basket.

The second game of the series was played late in January on the spacious Bemidji State College floor. And this game more than matched the contest played on the Prowler court. The game was tied 11-all at the end of the first period; Bemidji held an 18-16 lead at the half, the lead being gained on Larry Higgin's heave from mid-court just as the half ended. Bemidji held a one-point lead, 29-28, to open the final period. The game, which had the crowd in an uproar throughout, was tied as the final seconds were ticking off, and then Price, on a one-handed toss from just outside the free-throw circle, gave the Jacks a 40-38 win. This was high school basketball at its best. And it must be recalled that this Bemidji team gained the finals of the state tournament.

Baseball

In baseball there were a couple of highlights during the year. In July the Erskine Merchants played a Norman-Polk league against the Thieves on the Fair Grounds diamond, and in the second inning Daryl Foster, Erskine's burly first baseman (he weighed 245 pounds), connected with one of Arlan Hjelle's pitches and drove a grand-slam home run over the center-field scoreboard. The blow carried the score-board by plenty, and topped the Fair Grounds fence and landed on the highway. It was the most prodigious wallop we have witnessed at the Fair Grounds.

And continuing on baseball. That was a thrilling sub-district tilt that coach Jerry Lindell's Crookston juniors played against coach Ralph Skay's locals in an American Legion tourney game here late in July. For twelve innings, the locals' Gary Anderson and Crookston's Jim Turner, both righthanders, were locked in a 1-all tie. Legion tournament rules prohibit a pitcher from hurling more than twelve innings in a tournament, and Anderson and Turner were forced to give up their pitching chores. In the top of the thirteenth, off righthander Mike Charron, Gary Klungness, with one out, drew a walk, stole second, and scored on brother Paul's single to center. Righthander Mike McEnelly set down the Crookston club in order in the last half of the inning to give the locals a cherished 2-1 victory. A highlight of the game was the defensive play of coach's Skay's infield, with the boys completing three double plays.

Golf

The local golf scene was enlivened by the record-breaking round that was scored by Fosston's Jim Haugstul during a tournament played here in July. Haugstul, who has been monopolizing the tournament honors here the past year, racked up a record-breaking 30 in his second round of the 27-hole medal play tournament. Jim, exhibiting remarkable accuracy with his irons, and deft touch with his putter, carded a par on the first hole, and then marked up six consecutive birdies, and finished with a pair of pars to set a new course record. Haugstul's 30 was six-under par, and bettered by one the old record of 31 held by such noted golfers as Vic Juhg, Dick Evenson and others.

Tasa Chairman of County Board

Commissioners Meet Tues.; Vote to Pay Fox Bounties Again

Glenn Tasa was elected chairman of the Pennington county board of commissioners Tuesday when the board met to conduct business incidental to commencing a new year of county government operation. Donald L. Olson was elected vice chairman to succeed Tasa in that capacity. Retiring chairman is Merle Lindberg.

In a move expected to save the county more than $300 in insurance premiums but provide coverage, the board approved cancellation of nine polices in favor of a single policy covering seven motor graders, a truck, miscellaneous equipment of the county and liability.

By resolution the county governing body also set the first Tuesday after the first Monday of each month as the regular meeting date with the exception of July. The July meeting will be held on the second Monday of that month. Jurors were drawn for the district court grand and petit juries and the municipal division of the probate court jury.

Continuance of payment of fox bounties in 1962 after beginning payment in 1961 following a lapse of several years without bounty payments was also approved by the commissioners. Bounty will remain at $3 for adult fox and $1 for pups with half of that amount reimbursed from Minnesota Department of Conservation funds.

A petition from the Thief River Falls city council requesting the county to place a portion of Sixth street (highway 1) on the county state-aid highway system was received and referred to committee for recommendation at a later meeting. An appropriation of $100 to the Pennington County Crop Improvement association was made to assist in sponsor-

2 Roseau County Children Die in Fire Last Night

Dennis Pearson Farm Home Destroyed in Blaze Southwest of Warroad

Two Northwest Minnesota farm children died in a fire that destroyed their farm home about 11:30 Wednesday evening, between Warroad and Swift, in Roseau county.

Dead are Lucy, 8, and a 2-year old boy whose name was not available, children of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Pearson whose farm is approximately five miles southeast of Warroad.

According to informants at Warroad, Pearson had just returned home and had gone to the barn to check his livestock. When he returned to the house it was filled with dense smoke and even though he entered the house he was unable to get to the two children who were asleep in an upstairs bedroom. Both parents were home at the time.

Firemen from Warroad fought the blaze but a brisk wind hampered their efforts and they were unable to control the fire, which had gone too far before it was noticed.

The body of the girl was recovered sometime early this morning but firemen were still searching for the younger child at 9:30 a. m. Further details were not available.

The Pearsons have two other children who were staying with their grandparents, the Peter Pearsons, at the time of the fire.

1,648 Board North Central Planes in T.R. Falls in 1961

A total of 1,648 passengers boarded North Central Airlines planes in Thief River Falls in 1961, or 152 below the minimum of 1,800 called for under the Federal Aeronautics administration's "Use It or Lose It" policy.

The number of boardings last year represents a falling off of 137 from the total of 1,785 recorded in 1960. In December, 1961, there were 159 boardings, nine more than the fixed monthly minimum of 150.

Dale McIver, head of the state aeronautics division, announced recently that the federal agency has indicated it is making allowances for the greater length of the average trip originating in Thief River Falls compared to stations closer to the Twin Cities.

UF Drive Totals $15,353 To Date

Collections in the United Fund Drive for Pennington county in 1961 have now reached $15,353 and hopes are that the $16,000 figure will be met prior to a board meeting which will be held in the near future, according to J. J. Womack, United Fund treasurer.

Goal set for the drive was $18,750 and this year's collections are approximately the same percentage of goal that was attained last year. At the board meeting which will be announced later, the 1961 campaign will be reviewed and the disbursement of funds collected will be made to participating agencies.

Chamber Selects Site for Annual Meeting Jan. 18

St. Bernard's Basement Chosen; Tickets To Go On Sale January 8

St. Bernard's church basement has been selected as the site for the annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce to be held Thursday, December 18, according to Phil Hess, chairman of the annual meeting committee. A turkey dinner will be served with all chamber members and their wives urged to attend.

"This will be an excellent opportunity for members to find out more about the workings of their Chamber of Commerce," Hess siad, "since 13 local chamber officials will appear on the program to present a brief picture of the various phases of the organization and program of work."

In addition to the speaking program, there will be an initial presentation of the chamber-sponsored "Outstanding Citizen" award. It is hoped that this presentation will become an annual event. Recipient of the award has been selected but will not be made public until the annual meeting, adding an air of expectancy to the session.

"Tickets will go on sale Monday," the chairman said, "and we hope to make the event attractive enough to insure even better attendance than last year. We especially urge members to bring their wives to hear the educational program prepared. Donald M. Olson is serving as chairman of the ticket sale for the event.

Aliens Are Again Urged to Report

A. G. Vaughan, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization service, St. Paul, has again reminded all aliens to report their addresses during January.

Cards with which to make the reports are available at post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service throughout the country. The reports must be submitted to one of these offices.

Parents or guardians submit reports for alien children under 14 years of age. Vaughan urges all aliens to report before the end of January, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious penalties.

Births Rise As Co. Deaths Drop

More births and marriages and fewer deaths and divorces were noted in 1961 than in 1960, according to the statistical summary prepared by the office of Henry Storhaug, Pennington county clerk of court.

Births in 1961 totaled 338 as compared with 335 in 1960, while deaths dropped to 148 in comparison with 150 the previous year. Marriages last year totaled 109 against 91 in 1960, and divorces numbered 15 in 1961 and 16 in 1960.

'61 Feed Grain Program Held to Be Success

Accomplishments Cited by Winton Knutson, ASC Head

The 1961 feed grain program has successfully met all of its objectives, Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said today. The program was enacted last spring to meet a serious emergency which was then threatening agriculture.

The objectives of the program and how they have been met were explained by the chairman as follows:

1. Increased income for participating farmers. Net income is up by $1 billion, or 9 percent—partly because of the feed grain program. Farm-income prospects for next year are equally good, also partly as a result of the feed grain program. Not only farmers, but rural communities, processors, and others who sell to farmers, benefit from improved farm income.

2. Fair and stable prices for consumers for meat, poultry, and dairy products. Retail prices for these products have remained fairly steady and have actually shown a modest decline during the period of the program.

3. Lower costs to taxpayers. Savings of more than $500 million will result during the next few years from storage, handling, and transportation fees which will not have to be paid out because current government stocks are going down instead of up.

4. Reduced government grain stocks. Despite the record yields in 1961, total grain stocks will be reduced by some 200 million bushels—the first reduction in surplus feed grain stocks since 1952.

A program similar to the 1961 emergency feed grain program is in effect for 1962 crops of corn, grain sorghum, and barley. The program calls for the diversion of acreage from the production of these crops into an improved soil-conserving practice. Special payments are available to farmers who sign up and participate in the program.

Co. Fair Plans To Be Aired at Joint Session

To discuss the operation of the 1962 Pennington County Fair under joint sponsorship, the Pennington County Agricultural Society will hold a special meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the first floor meeting room of the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls, according to Kenneth Onken, secretary.

The group will meet with the reorganizational committee and a group of selected county people who have been appointed to serve as part of the organizational group. Penalty Deadline Draws Near for Vehicle License

$1 Additional Fee Set After January 10, States Deputy Register Here

Deadline is drawing near for the purchase of 1962 motor vehicle license plates without penalty, according to Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, Pennington county deputy registrar of motor vehicles. Beginning January 11 the additional fee of $1 in the form of a penalty will be assessed to purchasers.

The penalty will be increased to $2 on January 22 (since January 21 is a Sunday) and will be further increased to $2.50 on February 1. All applicants for license plates are requested to bring their punched application cards to help speed service and prevent long waiting lines.

Following last week's Times story concerning avoiding a last minute rush if plates are not purchased early, a large number of people secured their licenses well ahead of the deadline. "We appreciate this response," Mrs. Hanson said, "and the public will find that early purchasing will be more convenient for them also."

A word of warning was also issued by the deputy registrar concerning persons who plan to sell their present car before purchasing 1962 plates. It can't be done. State law provides that no vehicle may be transferred without bearing 1962 license plates.

N.W. Bell Report Shows . . .

Local Phone Utility Grows

"Telephone growth is continuing in Thief River Falls," stated James Koller, manager of the local office of Northwestern Bell Telephone company, in summary of 1961 operations of the company. "During the past year we have installed 99 new telephones, bringing the year-end total to 3,863."

Telephone users are also using their phones more for both local and long distance calling, according to the report. With 2,806 telephone users, local calls averaged 14,320 daily for a toal of almost five and one-quarter million calls in 1961 while long distance calls originating here amounted to 377,000 or an average of 1,450 each business day.

Northwestern Bell proposes to spend a record $47,500,000 in Minnesota during 1962 for expansion of facilities to improve and expand telephone communications for its 725,000 customers, Koller said. The 1962 construction toal will be $5 million higher than the 1961 expenditure — a record — to date. Throughout the five-state area served by the company, a record $116 million is earmarked for 1962 needs, an increase of nearly $8 million over 1961.

Of the 22,700 persons employed by Northwestern Bell, 8,700 live in Minnesota and 33 are currently employed by the local company. They include 20 in the traffic department (which includes operators), 10 in the plant department and three in the business office. Four Western Electric equipment men are also working on further local modernization.

Eight more Minnesota Bell communities were added to the nationwide wide Direct Distance Dialing network in 1961, Koller added, making a total of 22 which now have this long distance service. In addition, projects to bring "extended area service" to 12 communities were completed, enabling telephone users to call and be called from a neighboring community or communities without paying a long distance charge. Similar service is planned for Thief River Falls and several neighboring communities.

Throughout the five-state area served by Northwestern Bell — Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska — company telephones increased by 105,000 in 1961, bringing the total number of phones to 2,620,000. This includes over 480,000 extension telephones in residences. In this same area, some 8,000 calls were made every minute of every hour of every day, making a total of almost four and one-quarter billion calls.

Koller said the 1962 Minnesota program will include installation of central office equipment and placing of additional cable, poles and wire to meet an expected increase of about 62,000 phones and 2,565,000 additional long distance messages. Long distance messages completed during 1961 totaled 42,750,000 or about 133,385 per business day.

The 1962 state program also calls for continuation of the dial service program with more than 97 per cent of the Bell phones in the state on dial at the end of 1961. Construction of new buildings and additions in connection with changes to dial is also noted in addition to increase of facilities to provide for expansion and improvement of service.

Also planned is continuation of the program to make inter-city facilities storm-proof via use of buried cable and nearly 200 miles of microwave. At present there are nearly 1,900 miles of buried cable and 1,300 miles of microwave in operation in Minnesota, Koller said.

Sandra Grondahl Wed at Trinity to L. Underberg

In a candlelight setting of poinsettias, carnations and silver pine, Miss Sandra Ann Grondahl of Grand Forks became the bride of Al. Lynn Underberg, also of Grand Forks. Pastor Reuben Wangberg performed the double ring ceremony at Trinity Lutheran church in this city Saturday, December 9 at 7:30 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Grondahl, formerly of this city now of Middle River, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Underberg of Karlstad.

Traditional nuptial music was played at the organ by Mrs. A. L. Hamilton of this city, who also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Dale Brekke of Grand Forks singing, "Wedding Blessing," "Song of Ruth", and "The Lords Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in floor length white velvet. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline with appliques of silk flowers edging the neckline and "V" in the bodice front. Long sleeves came to a point over the wrists and the bouffant skirt fell into a chapel train. Her imported silk fingertip veil was caught on a crown of hand set pearls. A red poinsettia surrounded with white carnations and holly, centered on a white Bible made up her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Gene McMillan of Denver, Colorado, was matron of honor, while Mrs. Wendell Swan of Greenbush was bridesmaid. Both are sisters of the bride. They wore loden green velveteen dresses with matching accessories and carried white velvet muffs with attached red and white feathered carnations and holly.

Nanetta Swan of Greenbush was flower girl for her aunt. She wore a rose velveteen dress with velvet muff and rose color carnations.

Arlyn Johnson of Holt was ringbearer and was dressed like the attendants in a dark suit.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Grondahl wore a dark brown dress with gold accessories, while Mrs. Underberg wore a beige dress with matching accessories. Both wore Christmas corsages, gifts of the groom. Mrs. John Tuura of Middle River, grandmother of the bride, wore a dark green dress with matching accessories and a Christmas corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. A three layered wedding cake decorated in white and topped by a miniature bride and groom and lily of the valley centered the serving table. It was cut by Mrs. Walter Fischer of this city while Mrs. Milton Underberg of Karlstad poured. Mrs. Dale Grondahl of Red Lake Falls had charge of the guest book, and Mrs. Morris Koland of Karlstad attended the gift table.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Lincoln high school and a 1961 graduate of the clerical course at the area vocational school. She is presently employed as a service representative by Northwestern Bell in Grand Forks.

Mr. Underberg is a 1959 graduate of Karlstad high school and a 1961 graduate of Aakers Business college in Grand Forks. He is employed as an office manager.

For travel, the bride chose a brown suit with matching accessories. Following their wedding trip to the southern states, the couple are making their home at 409 Cherry Street in Grand Forks.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding came from Denver, Colo., Valley City, Grand Forks and Minto, North Dakota; Cloquet, Middle River and surrounding area.

Darrow Lundeen Herd Tops DHIA in Output During December '61

Topping the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement Association production list for the month of December was the herd of Darrow Lundeen, according to Orville Peters, supervisor. The herd averaged 1,291 pounds of milk and 48.8 pounds of butterfat.

Herd averages are affected by the number of dry cows in the herd. The amount of milk and butterfat produced is averaged out over all the cows, giving the farmer a record of the earning power of the herd for the month. If too many dry cows are included in the herd the average for that month may be low even though cows which are milking produce a large amount of milk.

Katie, a first lactation heifer in the Paul Morkassel herd at Warren, was listed as finishing the 1961-62 testing year with 10,630 pounds of milk and 512 pounds of butterfat in 331 days.

The 10 top herds in the association for December were as follows:

Dairy Herd	B-fat.	Milk Av.
Darrow Lundeen	48.8	1291
Art Stenberg	47.2	1251
Myron Carlson	42.3	1113
Don Bruggeman	40.8	1210
Martin Hanson	40.2	1016
Laverne Johnson	38.1	882
Wallace Reierson	36.2	991
Paul Morkassel	34.1	788
Maynard Mehrkens	33.5	903
Harold Sabo	33.5	836

There were three sheriff's cases, of which two resulted in pleas of guilty and fines, while the third was a bond forfeiture.

In a hearing Wednesday, Vincent B. Hesse, rt. 2, faced three charges. He pleaded guilty to each of two, possession of beer by a minor and having an open bottle of intoxicants in a car and was sentenced to a total of 20 days in jail. Three Involved in Grygla Melee Are Fined $100 Each

After spending 11 days in the Marshall county jail and upon advise of their attorney, Gordon LaBree of Thief River Falls, three men from the Four Town community agreed to plead guilty to assault in the third degree and were fined $100 each and costs in Justice of the Peace Carl A. Johnson's court in Warren Tuesday afternoon.

The three, Ronald Ray, 26, Delwyn Holthusen, 21 and Arnold Tannem 23, had been given a preliminary hearing and were bound over to district court on charges of assault in the second degree following a fight in Grygla. Hospitalized as a result of the fight were Alfred Mielke and Stanley Erickson, both of Goodridge. The second degree assault charge carries with it a prison sentence.

Sheriff Oscar C. Erickson and County Attorney Warren A. Saetre, after investigation of various angles connected with the parties involved, agreed to the lesser charge. The three paid their fines and costs immediately and were released.

Serious Cases At Low Ebb in '61 Probate Court

83 Petitions, Notices Filed During Year; Large Variety Noted

With the smallest number of serious cases brought before the court in many years, 1961 provided a variety of cases in the Pennington county judge of probate office, according to Herman A. Kjos, probate judge. Kjos also serves as juvenile court judge and judge of the probate court-municipal court division.

A total of 83 petitions and notices to appear were filed and appeared before Judge Kjos for a variety of offenses. Fifty of these were traffic offenses with 48 driver's licenses suspended from 15 days to one year, Judge Kjos said. Seventeen cases were transferred for processing in the municipal court division. Most of the remaining cases were petty matters, leaving only eight delinquent during the year.

In the probate court section a total of 61 entries were made, 44 new cases and the remainder of a miscellaneous nature. There were 10 new guardianships opened, two special administrations and 15 mental hearings including seniles, mental illness and inebriety. In the municipal court division 37 cases were processed and completed.

The court has jurisdiction over estates of deceased persons and persons and estates under guardianship — including mentally ill, mentally deficient, epileptic, inebriate, senile, psychopathic and dependent, neglected and delinquent children. On January 1, 1960, the court was also given jurisdiction over criminal and civil matters equal to that of a municipal court in this state.

Addition to Be Built to Redlake Hospital

A one story addition to the present Red Lake Hospital and alterations to the present building will be financed by a $275,000 grant for the facility. Bids for the project were awarded December 20 to the Halvorson Construction Co. of Grand Forks.

The project is one of three steps approved several months ago by the Health, Education and Welfare Department to better health standards on the Red Lake Reservation.

Dr. Erwin S. Rabeau of the Public Health Service stated that the new addition would go a long way today alleviating the crowded conditions at the Redlake Hospital and would enable the facility to bring its out-patient clinic, dental clinic and pharmacy back into the building. These three sections are currently housed in a separate building across the street from the hospital and will be abandoned. doned.

Dr. Rabeau said the hospital has been badly in need of additional space for several years. When the addition is completed, extensive alterations and repairs to the existing sturcture will be undertaken.

A second phase of the over-all project will be completed with an award of $105,306 announced last week. This will finance the construction of two bedroom homes for hospital and medical personnel, many of whome are now living in house trailers and old army barracks. The health service has three doctors, a dentist and two public health nurses plus other staff personnel at Redlake. Adequate housing has been sought for these people for some time.

The third phase of the project is a new health center at Ponemah which is now nearing completion.

Lions Informed of Crime Bureau

Agent Max Graham Speaks at Luncheon Wednesday

Max Graham, agent in this district for the Minnesota crime bureau, explained the functions of the organization to members of the Lions club at their luncheon meeting Wednesday noon in the Elks club rooms.

Introduced by Ralph A. Luhman, program chairman, Graham said that a chief purpose of the bureau, headed by Ray Noonan, former FBI agent, is to assist local law enforcement agencies. He added that the state is covered by nine agents, with his area embracing 12 counties.

The crime bureau, Graham stated, is made up of five divisions, including administration, criminal identification, laboratory, police training and investigation. He also gave details of some of the difficult cases the agency has handled.

State Approves 9 Wetland Areas

Nine new wetland projects totaling 2,650 acres have recently been approved for purchase by the conservation department's game and fish division. The projects are located in Norman, Todd, Ottertail, Swift, Pope, Lincoln, Brown and Yellow Medicine counties.

Wetland project proposals are evaluated in the field by the area game managers in the section of game and selected according to their value for wildlife and public hunting. By bringing these areas into state ownership, wildlife marshes are preserved and saved from drainage.

Weatherman Will Turn Cold Cheek To Area Tonight

The weatherman was nice to us the first few days in the new year but he's returned to his old tricks and the forecast is for an end to the "banana belt" weather enjoyed up until today.

The mercury hasn't been below zero the past five days and highs ranged from 15 Dec. 30, to 35 Tuesday and Wednesday. The day-to-day figures are: Saturday, high 15, low 3; Sunday, 18 and 2; Monday, 25 and 1; Tuesday, 35 and 11; Wednesday, 35 and 20 and the low thus far today was 18. No precipitation was recorded until early this morning, when light snow began to fall over the area.

The forecast is for considerable cloudiness, with snow showers and windy weather today, turning much colder tonight. Highs will range from 5 to 10 today and the low tonight will be from 10 to 15 below.

The high temperature forecast is noticeably in error as the temperature at presstime was 20 above. That probably is because the expected weather didn't arrive on time to make the temperature forecast valid. Predicting the weather is, indeed, an unpredictable proposition!

Hearing on Lost River Work Jan. 8

Two Judges to Conduct Meeting at Court House

A hearing on the Lost River improvement project will be conducted in the district court room in the court house in Thief River Falls next Monday, January 8, starting at 10 a. m., with Judge J. H. Sylvestre of Crookston and Judge Arnold Forbes of Bemidji in charge. The late Judge Paul A. Lundgren of this city also was a member of the original panel.

At the meeting, the amended report of the viewers will be submitted, and the judges will reach a decision as to the approval of the project, which would be executed by the Corps of U. S. Army engineers.

The board of the Red Lake drainage and conservancy district and its secretary, Stanley N. Mortenson, local attorney, met at Gully Friday evening with affected land-owners to answer questions relative to the project.

Prowler Six Defeats St. Paul Humboldt 2-0

A pair of goals by the Prowlers' sophmore line — a second period tally by Wayne Loeffler, and a third period goal by Elroy Frolland—plus the shutout goal-tending of Tom Teal, gave coach Gene Sack's blue-and-gold squad a well-earned 2-0 hockey victory over the St. Paul Humboldt Indians at Roseau on Saturday night.

In the second game on Saturday's finals, the Roseau Rams and the Eveleth Golden Bears played to a 3-all tie after a five-minute overtime period. Entering the finals minutes of the third period, Eveleth held a 2-1 lead, but Roseau's Paul Rygh and Bob Lillo hit the laces to give the Rams a 3-2 lead, with but seconds of play remaining. In these final seconds, Eveleth's Mike Jugovich beat goalie Gary Johnson to knot the game at 3-all. The overtime period was scoreless.

The Prowlers will meet the Minneapolis Roosevelt team here tonight, Thursday, at the Arena rink. And on Monday night, Jan. 8, the Warroad Warriors will play the Prowlers in a Region Eight conference game at the Arena. The varsity game will be preceded by a 'B' game, with the face-off for the preliminary tilt being slated for 6:30 p.m.

On Friday evening, Jan. 5, coach Farnk Macioch will bring his Roseau Rams 'B' team here for a game against the Prowler 'B' team, with game time scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

In the Prowlers vs. St. Paul Humboldt game on Saturday night, the game's first tally was marked up by Wayne (Lefty) Loeffler who, after hustling into a corner to recover the puck, maneuvered past a Humboldt defenseman and beat goalie Mark Waldo with a 15-foot shot. The Prowlers added an 'insurance' goal at the 7:38 mark of the third period when, after a neat bit of team play, with John Weigelt setting up the play, Elroy Frolland flipped a backhand shot past Waldo.

During the game, the Prowlers' goalie, Tom Teal, kicked out twenty-one on-goal shots, and recorded his second shutout of the season.

Wildlife Practices Rate ACP Cost Share

Minnesota Conservation Department pointed out today that in 1962, for the first time, farmers are eligible to receive cost sharing assistance for practices directly beneficial to wildlife under the Agricultural Conservation Program, (ACP).

The department's division of game and fish has worked with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), who administer the ACP program, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the Soil Conservation Service and the Soil and Water Conservation Districts in developing desirable practices which will be eligible for cost sharing. As a result of this work, two wildlife practices have been included in the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Practice G-1 provides for the establishment of vegetative cover and food for wildlife. Under the terms of this practice, landowners may receive cost sharing for the establishment of annual and perennial plants as well as trees and shrubs. Eligible plants under this phase of the program will be corn, oats, barley, and other crops for wildlife food, grasses and legumes for the establishment of nesting cover and the establishment of trees and shrubs primarily for winter cover. No harvesting of food and cover plants will be permitted. The rate of cost sharing under this practice is $4.00 to $5.00 per acre for seeding and $1.75 to $2.50 per 100 for trees and shrubs.

The G-2 practice is designed for the development or restoration of marsh areas for wildlife. It may be used to develop, create, restore or improve wetland habitat for waterfowl, furbearers or other wild life. Level ditching, excavating and dam construction are all covered by this practice.

The practices will be planned and supervised by the Soil Conservation Service. The maximum federal cost share will be 50 per cent of the cost not to exceed $2,000 per structure.

The state and county ASCS offices will be promoting these new practices for the betterment of wildlife habitat throughout the state. Conservation department game managers have also been instructed to encourage farmers to take advantage of these practices wherever possible. Landowners or operators may sign up for these practices at any time in their county ASCS offices.

1962 Babies Owe $1,603 As Share of Public Debt

The first child born in 1962 will owe $1,603. So will every other child born during the year. That figure is the per capita share of the public debt. Let's not make it bigger, requests the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

The dollar, 100 cents purchasing power at the beginning of this century, has 28 cents today (the two bit dollar is almost at hand). If inflation continues at the rate since the Korean War, the dollar will rot to 16.2 cents at the end of this century.

The federal debt and guaranteed obligations of the federal government, $295 billion, surpass by $42 billion all the debts of all the other countries in the world. Uncle Sam's load is really our load.

Winnipeg Tobins Here Sunday

The Winnipeg Tobins hockey team, an aggregation from the north end of Winnipeg, and playing as a team in the Manitoba Intermediate league, will play the local Thieves on the Arena ice here on Sunday, Jan. 7. Face-off time for the game is 2:30 p. m.

The Tobins aren't strangers to the Thieves or the local fans, for the club has played here several times. And the Tobins (taken their name from a community club in Winnipeg) have providd first as a unit for some time, and they pass crisply and set up their plays with professional finesse.

The Thieves, though, will have a strong team to send against the Canadians. Dale Wennberg, all-state tournament center a couple of years ago, has returned to town and he will center a line for player-coach Joey Poole's club. Joey and Dale will be able to skate with the Canadians.

We'll Soon Know

John Matchefts, coach of the Eveleth Golden Bears, and formerly coach of the Prowlers, made the comment on Friday, during the holiday tournament at Roseau, that coach Larry Ross' International Falls Broncos was the strongest high school hockey team he, Johnny, had seen this season.

We'll soon know just how strong a club Larry has, for this weekend the Broncos will meet a pair of state champions. On Friday night, on the Winter Sports Building ice in Grand Forks, the Broncos will play coach Sergio Gambucci's North Dakota state champion Redskins. And on Saturday night, in the spacious Roseau Memorial arena, coach Ross will send his club against coach Oscar Almquist's Minnesota champion Roseau Rams.

If the Broncos, who are carrying a 11-0 record to date, can win this two-game "road" series, fans will have to agree with Eveleth's Matchefts that International Falls is the state's number one.

It Must Have Been Gratifying

That solid 21-3 trouncing that the Gophers gave U. C. L. A. on New Year's Day in the Rose Bowl classic must have been especially gratifying to the Gopher coaching staff and the players.

When the Big Ten champion Ohio State Buckeyes declined the bid to play in the game, the Rose Bowl lost its championship status and became a glorified exhibition game and it was a gamble for the Gophers when they accepted the bid, for it was a case of much to lose and not too much to gain.

The Uclans had lost to Ohio State and Michigan during the regular season, and if the Gophers had played poorly, or lost, on New Year's Day, it would have been tragic. This season's Gopher squad was unquestionably more poised, better balanced on offense, and much stronger on defense than last season's club.

It was somewhat embarrassing to listen to the introduction of the Minnesota players, particularly when the home addresses of the starters was announced. There were only a couple of native Minnesotans in the Gophers' starting lineup. As one wag commented, the team out on the field is the University of Minnesota, Pennsylvania branch.

Well, at least Gopher hockey coach John Mariucci has a squad that is predominantly of Minnesota stock. And Gopher cage coach, John Kundla, is also well-supplied with graduates of the Minnesota high school system.

Miscellany

Arlan Hjelle, a standout pitcher and hockey player for the Prowlers during his high school days, has re-enrolled at Bemidji State College. Arlan spent the autumn months in Rochester, and was given a tryout by the Mustangs hockey club. . .Phil Hanson, spending his Christmas vacation up here, joined the Bums for an informal scrimmage game against the Vikings Trotters basketball team last week. All Phil did was to pour fifty-nine points into the basket. Phil, in his junior year at Augsburg college, isn't participating in basketball this season. He is concentrating on his studies so that he will be eligible for next fall's football season. It is reported that pro football scouts have been impressed by Phil's punting ability. Phil remarked that his younger brother Dennis, an eighth grader who is a tremendous prospect in basketball, is playing junior high school basketball. Dennis will probably play his high school basketball with the Washburn team.

1,441 Fires Burn 70,500 Acres in Minnesota Forests

1961 Loss Placed at $182,179; Timber Losses Noted on 7,882 Acres

With the exception of 1948, there were more forest fires in Minnesota in 1961 than in any year during the past 20, the conservation department reported today. In summarizing the year's forest fire losses, fire suppression chief Don Wilson said there were 1,441 fires during the year which burned a total of 70,500 acres.

Of the total acreage, 7,882 acres were classed as timbered and the balance as brush and grass. Total damage was placed at $182,179. It has been pointed out that estimates on timber losses are very conservative since they are based on the price the trees would bring "on the stump" (standing timber) and do not reflect the value of these trees after they have been converted into wood products at the factory or the mill.

Largest fire during 1961 was on May 24 south of Baudette when a farmer decided to burn over a grass area. Fanned by a 14 mph southwest wind, the fire spread into surrounding marsh areas and consumed 4,640 acres of grass before being brought under control.

Most damaging fire of the year was on May 11 near Nickerson in Carlton county. Pushed by a 32 mph wind, the fire burned 645 acres of which 455 acres were in timber. Total losses to merchantable timber and reproduction was placed at $8,539. This fire was believed caused by a trapper who was also a careless smoker.

"The fire resulting in the greatest damage per acre, however, was caused by a fickle mother nature on June 13 when lightning touched off a 30 acre blaze in a heavily timbered area 17 miles north of Orr in St. Louis county. Damage on this fire averaged over $48 per acre," Wilson's report said.

Survey Shows 386 Moose in State

Conservation Department Census Seeks Area Help

Minnesota Conservation Department's game section is conducting further investigations to determine the distribution and composition of Minnesota's moose herd.

Cards containing the information desired by the Department such as where and when the animal was sighted and its age and sex have been circulated to personnel of the Department of Conservation, the U. S. Forest Service and to private individuals in the moose range. When an animal is sighted the card is filled out and sent in to Pat Karns, area game manager at Ely.

Karns tabulates the information on the cards and issues periodic reports. The moose survey project is scheduled to last until June 1, 1963, in order to gather a sufficient weight of inofrmation from which to form accurate conclusion.

He reports that during the period May through November, 386 live moose and 13 dead animals were sighted by those taking part in the project.

Of these, 148 were bulls, 124 cows and 35 calves. There were 25 sets of twins spotted and 41 animals were not identified as to sex.

Information obtained from the card survey will be considered along with the results from the annual aerial moose census conducted by the department's division of game & fish and U. S. Forest Service each winter in determining the size and population trend of the moose herd.

Minnesota Gophers Win in Rose Bowl 21-3

Led by the spectacular play of their all-American quarter-back, Sandy Stephens, coach Murray Warmath's Minnesota Gophers scored a convincing 21-3 win over UCLA in the annual Rose Bowl game played in Pasadena, Calif. on New Year's Day. Stephens, who was voted the game's most valuable player, scored two touchdowns, and directed the Gopher offense expertly.

UCLA was the first to get into the scoring column, with fullback Bob Smith booting a field goal in the opening minutes to give the Uclans a short-lived 3-0 lead. A UCLA fumble gave the Gophers' possession inside the Uclans' ten-yard line, and Stephens drove over tackle for a touchdown. Tom Loechler, who converted on all three touchdown point-tries, gave the Gophers a 7-3 lead. And from there on the Gophers took control of the game.

A hard-charging Gopher line, featured by the tackle play of Bob Bell, hamstrung the Uclan offense.

The Gophers vs. UCLA game was one of four "bowl" games played on Monday. In the Orange Bowl in Miami, Louisiana State University defeated Colorado, 27-7 win. In the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, the nation's number one ranked team, Alabama, defeated Arkansas, 10-3. And in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, the Texas University Longhorns upset a favored Mississippi team to win by a 12-7 score.

More Geese Taken by State Hunters in '61

As a result of opening the goose season early, on Oct. 1, more geese were taken by Minnesota hunters this year than if the usual practice had been followed of opening with the duck season.

This year the duck season did not open until Oct. 14.

By this time, according to Dave Vesall, supervisor of the conservation department's game section, most of the snow and blue geese and many Canada geese, had pulled out of Thief Lake—a major gathering area for geese in northwestern Minnesota.

On Oct. 1, said Vesall, there were about 10,000 snow and blue geese and 6,000 Canada geese on the area.

Most of the snows and blues pulled out about Oct. 13 along with a large number of Canada geese. This survey information shows that if the goose opening had been delayed until Oct. 14, there would have been fewer geese available to Minnesota hunters.

Use of the Thief Lake project by geese has been encouraged as a result of the management measurs being carried out on the project by game managers in the section of game. New feeding fields for the birds have been established and a goose flock is being maintained to build up the use of the area.

Jay Haroldson, manager of the Thief Lake project, checked 236 goose hunters during the period Oct. 1-13, inclusive. They hunted 803 hours and took 63 Canada geese, 14 snow geese and 4 blue geese.

Very few geese were shot on the lake, most of, the hunting being pass shooting of field shooting with decoys, according to Haroldson.

Rep. Odin Langens Return to Capital

Had Spent Three Months in the Ninth District

Congressman Odin Langen of Kennedy announced that he and Mrs. Langen were leaving Minnesota around January first and will motor to Washington for the coming session of Congress. The Langens spent Christmas on the family farm near Kennedy with sons Wayne and Lynden, daughter Lois, and Wayne's wife and two children.

The Langens, who have been home in the district since the end of September, expressed satisfaction at having had the opportunity to visit with so many friends and constituents during the past three months and expressed thanks to many people who made it a point to write or vist the Crookston office to relay advice and confidence in the Congressman's efforts to serve the people of northwestern Minnesota.

Congressman Langen extended his most sincere wish that people in the Ninth District have a most prosperous New Year, and pledged his every effort in the Congress to help make it so.

Consumer Price Index Declines During Oct.-Nov.

Food Price Listed By Labor Department As Main Contributor

Consumer Price Index declined by 0.1 percent between October and November to 128.3 (1947-49=100), according to the U.S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

A further drop in food prices, largely due to seasonal influences, contributed most to the decrease, although prices of nonfood commodities also averaged somewhat lower. Services as a group registered a small increase, partially offsetting the overall downward price movement.

The small price change in November marked a continuation of the overall stability shown by consumer prices during the past year, except for an 0.4 percent rise in July. The stability of average prices since midsumer has resulted from a 1.4 percent drop in food prices from their July seasonal peak, balanced against advances for nonfood commodities and services. Compared with November 1960, consumer prices have advanced by 0.7 percent, marking the smallest rise for a comparable period since 1955.

Good Will Agency Formed in State

10,000 Lakers Group Seeks to Promote Minnesota

Governor Anderson today announced that the first step in expanding a Minnesota "Goodwill Ambassador" program will be taken Friday, when he issues the first charter for a new organization to be known as The 10,000 Lakers.

The Minnesota Sales Executive Club will receive the first Ten Thousand Lakers charter from Governor Andersen, long with and a supply of booklets listing many of our state's outstanding "sales points".

Thomas Patterson, marketing manager Vincent Brass and Aluminum Co., Minneapolis, is 10,000 Lakers chairman for the Sales Executives, who have volunteered to spearhead the movement until other movements have been chartered and the individual membership has reached 10,000, when Laker membership will be made available to everyone who wants to become a Minnesota Goodwill Ambassador.

Governor Andersen first revealed his plan for an organization of Minnesota ambassadors at a Sales Executives meeting last May, when, he recalls, the idea was well received. Since then he has issued ambassadorial credentials to three individuals who volunteered to promote Minnesota on business and vacation trips to foreign countries.

"I have talked with many Minnesotans who would like to have some opportunity to aid in the growth and development of our state," Governor Andersen says. "I believe The 10,000 Lakers can be the means of individual and united activity in this worthy cause. And I hope that every Minnesotan with pride in our state will want to become a member and an effective spokesman for Minnesota wherever each may go."

INCOME TAX ADVICE

By Minnesota State Bar Assn.

Filing Income Tax Returns

(This is the second in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee)

Generally, you must file a Federal income tax return if you receive gross income of $600 or more during the taxable year. However, if you are 65 or over on the last day of the taxable year, you need not file a Federal return unless you receive $1,200 or more in gross income during the year. These rules apply whether you are married or single, a minor or an adult. Although not required to do so, you should also file a Federal income tax return to obtain a refund of any income taxes withheld from your wages where your gross income is less than $600. You must file a Minnesota income tax return if you are single and your gross income exceeds $750. If you are married, you must file a Minnesota income tax return only where the combined gross income of you and your spouse exceeds $1,500.

Gross income for Federal income tax purposes refers to all amounts which you receive for work you perform and also includes income and profits which you receive from the investment of savings and the sale of property. As such, gross income does not include amounts received by you as Social Security or railroad retirement penison benefits, gifts, inheritance or workmen's compensation benefits. The 1961 Minnesota Legislature redefined gross income of an individual to be his Federal adjusted gross income with certain modifications which will be discussed in later articles.

The specific form to use in submitting your return is really a mater of personal choice based upon the type of income you have, the type of exclusions you claim, and the amount of deductible expenditures you have incurred. Federal Form 1040 and Minnesota Form M-1 can properly be used by any individual taxpayer regardless of the source or amount of income. However, for taxpayers with only a small amount of dividends and interest to report, Federal Form 1040A and Minnesota Form M-1A are available. You are allowed to itemize your deductions and exclude amounts received as sick pay only if you file Fedefal Form 1040 and Minnesota Form M-1. Federal Form 1040A and Minnesota Form M-1A can be used only if your total income is less than $10,000 and if not more than $200 of this amount has been received free from withholding taxes. Most taxpayers will have a choice as to which of the Federal and Minnesota forms to use. This choice should be based upon the respective ease of filing the particular form and upon a consideration of the return which will result in the lower amount of tax which you will pay.

All of the listed returns can be filed jointly with your spouse or separately by the spouses having the specified amounts of gross income. Where husband and wife each have taxable income it is usually advantageous to file a joint Federal return and separate Minnesota returns.

The majority of simple tax returns can best and most properly be prepared by you, the taxpayer after studying the instructions available to you. The Federal Internal Revenue Service makes available the boklet entitled "Your Federal Income Tax" to help you understand more complicated problems and more adequately submit the required information.

"A wildlife sanctuary in the middle of the prairie." That's the way SCS technician A. C. Libby, Breckenridge, describes the farm of Kenneth Hoppe, Barnesville. "Wildlife is my hobby," says Hoppe. "I became a cooperator with the Wilkin SCD in 1952, started my tree planting program in 1953, and still add to it." He has one 3-acre tract planted almost completely to trees and shrubs; two 6-row field shelterbelts, each one-half mile long; and a 6-row farmstead shelterbelt protecting the buildings and home orchard. Hoppe's tree areas abound with songbirds, pheasants, and sometimes a deer or two. Wind erosion control and higher crop yields are added benefits.

Heavy lime applications — one ton per acre over previously recommended rates cured most of Harold Trimmel's alfalfa problems. Morrison County Agent Erwin Wamhoff says Trimmel now raises good alfalfa stands and gets good yields on fields where he used to have a tough time getting alfalfa established. Trimmel, who farms near Little Falls, finds he has fewer erosion problems as the organic matter builds up in his light, sandy soil.

A heavy offsetdisc with 24-inch blades spaced 12 inches apart has replaced the moldboard plow for Waseca county farmer Earl Davison. Davison, who farms 283 acres near Waterville, makes two trips across a field with the disk, then plants. County Agent Cletus Murphy says this system helps Dalvson control erosion, improves soil tilth, and incorporates crop residues into the soil with some left near the surface. "It takes a lot of power, but I'm well satisfied," says Davison. "This method has stopped erosion loss and helps conserve moisture."

Job Offices In Nation Show Job Placing Increase

Nov. Non-Farm Totals Show 19 Per Cent Jump from Previous Year

Public employment offices in the Federal-State system made 511,200 nonfarm job placements in November, in increase of 19 percent over last year and the highest number for that month since 1950, according to Robert C. Godwin, director of the Bureau of Employment Security.

Sharpest increases over a year ago were in manufacturing, up up 30.3 percent, and trade, up 30.4 percent. Government placements, down 29 percent, represented the only category showing a decrease in volume as compared with last year.

Placements were higher in all occupational groups, with skilled workers up 35.5 percent, semiskilled up 38.1 percent and professional and managerial placements up 32 percent.

Although the volume of placements in November was down 14 percent as compared with October, Goodwin pointed out that the normal decline between the two months is about 20 percent.

Morkassel Cow Has High Record

A registered Guernsey cow, Morkassel Dynamic Katie, owned by Morkassel and son of Warren, has completed an official DHIA production record, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club of Peterborough, N.H.

This record was for 10,160 pounds of milk and 488 pounds of fat. "Katie" was a junior two year-old and was milked two times daily for 305 days while on test. This official production record was supervised by University of Minnesota.

Many of our private, national and international problems seems to stem from the basic fact that we can, and very often do, spend our money before we earn it.

"There is in trees no perfect form which can be fixed upon or reasoned out as ideal; but that is always an ideal oak which, however proverty-stricken, or hunger-pinched, or tempest-tortured, is yet seen to have done, under its appointed circumstances, all that could be expected of oak."

—John Ruskin

So Mote it Be

Is the United Nations about to fall apart. Such a possibility no doubt was in the background of the discussions between Prime Minister Macmillan and President Kennedy at their Bermuda meeting.

Lord Home, Britain's foreign secretary, commented recently on the "unstable foundation" of the UN. Speaking to the House of Lords, he stated that conditions in the Congo might reach a point where Britain would have to withdraw financial support of its UN commitments.

Commenting on these developments, the Winnipeg Tribune expresses concern about the prospects, stating:

"In our opinion there is much wisdom in Lord Home's advice. We agree with him that the operation in Katanga was not well-handled, nor that it was necessary. We do belive, however, that the UN action having been taken, obligates Britain to support it, at least in its present concept. Far more serious than Britain's withdrawal of financial support would be the shattering effect on world morale."

The Tribune thinks Britain's opposition to the UN action against Katanga is a creditable stand. Britain had supported the earlier resolution to use force to prevent civil war in the Congo but opposed the November 24 resolution which authorized the secretary-general to employ force to remove the foreign mercenaries who helped sustain the cecessionist government of Premier Tshombe.

Britain has maintained that the primary function of the UN is peacemaking and security. As Lord Home sees it, the organization is now becoming a debating school for acceleration of independence and the eradication of colonialism." According to the Tribune:

"In his opinion, these are subsidiary issues, steeped in confusion. They should not be dealt with in an arena of rash partisanship. India, for instance, attempts to justify her seizure of Goa on the charge of colonialism, ignoring moderate procedures.

"Lord Home was counselling this vast body of world opinion to address itself to the practical aspects of the world today. Pointing to its influence and its true potential as a peacemaker, he advised UN supporters to be patient and not demand the millennium at a cost of disrupting confidence of others in more sensitive spheres than their own. He approved the 'one country, one vote', but cautioned 'if that vote is not used with wisdom, discretion, tolerance and restraint, then the UN could become nothing less than a demonstration of power without responsibility."

Summing up its observations on the divisions and conflicting group interests within the UN, the Tribune points up the need for a new appraisal of purposes and objectives, saying:

"Apart from the East-West alignment which manifests itself on many occasions, UN today is comprised of two basic groups. There are those nations with power and those without. When it has suited their purpose, the big powers have ignored UN. Some instances in point, Russia in Hungary; France in Tunisia; and with Britain in Suez; United States in Cuba; and now India in Goa. These have been external adventures which demonstrated in how little regard the big powers held UN when they felt their own interests were at stake. Against these actions, however, there has been a body of world opinion steadily augmented by nations and statesmen we never heard of a few years ago. There are indications that even the big powers hestitate to offend it without weighing the possible consequences in fields where even they must ultimately seek international support."

"Neither Britain nor the United States can abandon the United Nations nor permit it to subside into a feeble but pecular aspiration found haunting the battlefields of World War II", concludes the Tribune. To which we add a fervent "Amen".

THE ANDERSEN LETTER

Three Guide Lines

A short time ago we had the first conference on Agriculture and Country Life in Minnesota at the St. Paul Campus of the University. I say "first," because it will be followed by regional conferences throughout the state which I feel confident will be most beneficial.

Several hundred people gathered from every part of the state to hear three speeches — Deming of Federal Reserve, Fenske, St. Paul Campus, University of Minnesota, Donohue, Professor of Sociology — and to participate in panel discussions led by farmers and farm leaders. At the close of the day there were five minute summaries of every discussion group and recommendations. Commissioner Duane Wilson and Conference Chairman Bob Rupp are channeling all recommendations for action, further study, or organization.

One of the key thoughts mentioned time and again that impressed itself on me was that we live in a time of rapid change and those states and industries which, and people who, recognize this and adjust most readily and effectively to the changes will come out in the most favored positon in the years ahead. I am sure this is not only true of agriculture.

As I apply this to our present general situation three guide lines suggest themselves:

1. We must face facts. This includes separating fact from fancy, opinion and prejudice. Most arguments and misunderstandings would be avoided if people took the time and patience to dig out the facts.

2. We must agree to work together. Divison and dissension breed inaction. It is perfectly obvious that we are interdependent—no person or group can long benefit at the expense of others—cooperation for mutual benefit is the only hope for progress. "We must hang together or we'll all hang separately" is still an appropriate observation.

3. We must be constructive. There is little gained by unanimous agreement that things are bad, they're going to get worse and there's nothing to do about it. My associates over the years know how many times I have said, "Please don't tell me why it cannot be done—let's talk about how it can be done".

If we will face facts, work together and think and act constructively, much can be accomplished in our state. There is an enormous amount to do. Many committees of dedicated people are developing plans and a number of new projects are under way. My aim is to focus attention on a problem or opportunity and to stimulate local action on a private basis if possible, on a volunteer basis if feasible, or on a governmental basis if necessary.

I believe Minnesota is entering a period of great growth and development. Your comments and suggestions on how to make the most of our potential would be much appreciated.

HERE ARE 2 OF THE NEW JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLETS

WHICH ONE IS THE CONVERTIBLE AND WHICH THE HARDTOP?

Did your keen old eyes tell you the top one's the convertible? Well, sir, that turns out to be our new Impala Sport Coupe whose solid steel roof line is a dead ringer for the Impala Convertible's below. But after rich new styling, then what? Look at the power department, where there's a new choice of V8 vigor. In the ride department, things are Jet-smooth. In glamor and go, comfort and craftsmanship, this one's got everything you'd reasonably expect of an expensive car. Except the expense.

Slip inside a Jet-smooth Chevrolet, relax in one of the comfort-high seats and notice how good you feel. Ready for action? Just flick the key and let 'er purr (you have your choice of two standard engines—a 135-hp 6 or 170-hp V8—or optional-at-extra-cost V8's way up to a 409-hp mile-shrinker). That gentle cradling motion you enjoy is Jet-smooth ride at work. And the richness and spaciousness of the interior are Body by Fisher at work.

Now, we ask you, is there any more you could reasonably expect of a car? If there is, your dealer will be very happy to show you (1) just where you can find it in the handsome new Jet-smooth '62 Chevrolet and (2) what it feels like to own a costly car—without the cost.

Above charts, provided by the Safe Winter Driving League, illustrate test results by National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards. For each "braking distance" above you must add 22 feet, which is distance traveled during average "reaction time" needed to think and get your foot on brake after seeing a reason to stop. Skidding and reduced visibility are the major added hazards of winter. Can you see and stop in time? Are your windshield wiper blades giving clear, streak-free visibility? Does your defroster work?

Tests Indicate Value of Tire Chains, Says U.S. Safety Council

Many urban area motorists from snow-belt states who are good drivers on a "dry track" become nearly helpless in winter storms because they don't know how to drive on ice and snow, according to Harry Porter Jr., manager of the traffic department of the National Safety Council.

"These drivers cause thousands of property damage and many fatal crashes each time Old Man Winter swoops into their communities," Porter said. "They have become so dependent on good winter road maintenance by snow removal and sanding crews of the city and state that they ignore their personal responsibility to be mentally prepared and to have their vehicles equipped for unusually severe winter driving conditions," he said.

"When such drivers crash into someone or get stalled they blame the storm, the street or highway department, or the other driver, but seldom themselves," Porter said.

"Many drivers don't use good judgement in when to drive, and fail to equip their vehicles properly if they must be out in a sevre storm. "They get stalled and block snow removal equipment and add to the tough job of keeping streets cleared.

"Inadequate traction and reduced visibility are two of the six basic hazards of winter driving that cause motorists trouble." The other four are effect of temperature, reduced ability to stop and steer, unexpected icy conditions and ice and snow made slippery by traffic.

To help drivers help themselves in the prevention of accidents and costly delays, Porter urged all snow-belt drivers to consider the following facts and recommendations based on research by the council's committee on winter driving hazards:

Always drive with the thermometer in mind. Braking distance about doubles as the temperature rises from 10 to 32 degrees. Wet ice at 30 degrees is more slippery and offers about half the traction of ice around 10 degrees above zero. A car going 20 m. p. h. takes 114 feet to stop on glare ice at zero degrees, but at 32 degrees above zero, the same car will take 235 feet to stop. Reinforced tire chains will reduce stopping distance to about 77 feet.

Consider these test facts during severe conditions: On glare ice snow tires proved 28 per cent better than regular tires, regular tire chains 231 per cent better, and reinforced tire chains, which the committee recommends every driver carry in his trunk for emergency conditions, 409 per cent better.

On loosely packed snow, the snow tires are 51 per cent better than regular tires, and reinforced tire chains 313 per cent better in traction ability.

Poor traction on snow or ice stretches braking distances from three to twelve times the distance you need on dry pavement. Once again, good tires, snow tires, and chains give greater control. On glare ice at 20 m. p. h. braking distance for regular tires is 195 feet, for snow tires 174 feet, for regular tire chains 99 feet, and reinforced tire chains 77 feet.

Steering is also extremely delicate on ice and snow. Forces that tend to throw your vehicle into a skid are introduced as you steer into a turn. Any attempt to make a sudden steering change is extremely hazardous.

Porter urges motorists to follow the committee's six basic rules for safe winter driving: (Have good tires and chains, (2) Be able to see and be seen, (3) Get the feel of the road, (4) Follow at a safe distance, (5) Brake before turns, and (6) Pump your brakes.

3,195,000 Visit State Parks in '61

The visitor day figure for Minnesota state parks has again gone sota state parks has again gone over the three million mark, the conservation department reports.

A visitor day unit is defined as one person spending one day at a park. By staying at a park two days, a person would account for two visitor days; by staying a week, he would consume seven visitor days, etc.

Director of state parks U. W. Hella, said this year's firgure was 3,195,876 as against last year's 3,200,000.

Park attendance nationally also failed to show any increase over last year, he added, although camping activity continued torise in 1961.

He said the slight decrease in the toal visitor day figure in Minnesota could probably be traced to the fact that Old Mill state park in Marshall county had hardly any use at all due to drought conditions in the northwestern part of the state that dried up the park's swimming area.

Swimming was the prime attraction at the park, said Hella, because of the scarcity of suitable surface water in that part of the state.

Dryden announced today. The stamp, picturing a mesa in Northwestern New Mexico, will be printed in two shades of brown and blue on white paper.

In all kinds of weather . . .

How many times have we walked to church in the snow together . . . and in the rain . . . and in all kinds of weather?

I don't think we've ever stayed home on a Sunday because we were afraid we might get our feet wet. To me, this would be like answering a dinner invitation by saying you couldn't make it unless the sun were shining.

The Church, after all is God's House, and in it I've always felt that I was both a member of the household, and an invited guest.

In this House, you and I have found not only a deeper understanding of each other, but the ability to be tolerant of faults, to forgive and forget smaller angers, and — most important of all — to resolve to try again tomorrow. And this is but a small part of all the Church has given us, and of all that it stands ready to give everyone, everywhere.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

JC Week Plans Discussed at Meet Thursday

Committee Reports Heard on Several Local Chapter Events

Jaycee Week, which will be observed January 21-27, was discussed, among varied other business when the Thief River Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce met Thursday evening at the Elks club rooms. Plans for an extensive membership campaign in connection with Jaycee Week were also announced at the meeting.

Included in plans for the special observance, which is designed to acquaint communities throughout the nation with the principles and activities of Jaycees, will be erection of a window display at First Federal Savings & Loan association and Jaycee participation in radio broadcasting on station KTRF.

In a quest for increased membership, the local chapter will secure five small pigs which will be cared for by members who have not secured a new member. Signing of a new member will provide immunity from care of the pigs, according to James Carlson, first vice president of the local chapter who is heading the membership campaign. Further details will be announced later.

Leslie Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nelson of rural Thief River Falls and winner of the Jaycee-sponsored "outstanding farm boy" award, reported on his trip to the International Livestock Show in Chicago. He gave his impressions of the show and other points of interest which he toured in Chicago.

Lambert Rinowski reported that the used ice skate collection for needy youngsters had been completed with 32 pair collected and 29 pair distributed through the local Salvation Army unit. All skates were repaired, blades shined and skates polished and new laces provided prior to distribution. He thanked local hardware stores for their contributions of used skates which provided a major portion of those collected.

In reporting on the nativity scene erected by the local chapter on the north lawn of the Thief River Falls postoffice, Charles Holmquist stated that many favorable comments had been received. He recommended the purchase of additional figures for the scene in 1962. Expenses this year were approximately $150. Daryll Smith, chairman of the bulb sale which is held to finance the nativity scene, noted a profit of approximately $115 from the sale.

Attention was called to the Region 2 meeting to be held January 31 at Bemidji and authorization was given to the sports committee to enter a team in the regional bowling tournament to be held in connection with the event. Team members will also attend the regional meeting in the evening.

Preliminary plans were announced for the boss-employee banquet which will be held February 27 with Bert Jones, state Jaycee president, as the main speaker. Presentation of awards for outstanding boss and outstanding young man will also be made at the banquet. Committee appointments and further details will be announced later.

DISCUSSION of projected needs for the Thief River Falls educational system was held further last week between school administrators and Richard Hammel, Minneapolis, architect retained by the school board to assist with expansion planning. Hammel is shown at left comparing notes with Supt. Hankerson while he was in the city Wednesday and Thursday for further study. A special board meeting has been slated tentatively for January 22 for discussion of a proposal to be presented by Hammel and based on the need as determined by school administrators. At present projected need is seen as space for 650 junior high school students and need for nine elementary classrooms. Building site has been briefly discussed but type of construction is still in the future planning stage.

Sheriff Report Shows Decrease In Juvenile Cases

Traffic Violations Rise Over 1960 Figure; Two Killed in County in '61

The annual report released Monday by Sheriff Charles Richards shows there was a 30 per cent increase in traffic violations in 1961 as compared with 1960, while juvenile court cases showed a drop of 75 per cent during the year.

Two persons died on highways in Pennington county during the year, one on a trunk highway, the other on a state-aid road. There were 39 accidents in Pennington county, of which 23 resulted in property damage only and 15 in which personal injury occurred. A total of 28 tickets were issued those involved in accidents for traffic law violations. Twenty-six people were injured in the 15 personal-injury mishaps.

There were 17 cases of speeding, 9 driving while intoxicated, 15 careless driving and 10 cases in which open bottles of intoxicants were involved, plus numerous other violations in which there were only one to four involved over the year.

There were 12 persons committed to institutions for mental illness, one senile and one inebriate, by order of probate court.

In non-traffic violations the possession or drinking of intoxicants by minors headed the list with 40, with fraudulent check violations second with 19 cases. Furnishing beer or liquor to minors resulted in 10 cases, as did disorderly conduct.

The increase in traffic violations over 1960 shows 54 moving violations in 1961 compared with 35 the previous year, while non-moving violations were 29 and 23 respectively. The 1960 total was 58 compared with 83 in 1961.

The juvenile court record showed 17 traffic violations in 1960, as compared with eight in 1961; 38 other charges in 1960, greatest of which was drinking or possession of beer, as compared with six in 1961. The total cases in 1960 was 55, decreasing to 14 in 1961.

Fair Reorganization Given Strong Support

Combined Meeting Has Large Attendance of Workers Thursday

Enthusiastic interest in reorganization of the Pennington county fair was shown at a combined meeting of the reorganization committee and the board of the Pennington County Agricultural Society held Thursday evening in the meeting room of the courthouse in Thief River Falls. More than 30 interested persons attended the event in spite of heavy snow and threatening storm conditions.

James Parkins member of the agricultural society board which has operated the county fair in previous years, presided at the session which included an outline of work accomplished to date by the reorganizational committee. Reviewal was also made of the events leading up to the decision by the agricultural society board that continued operation of the fair by the group was not feasible.

It was pointed out by C. W. Rodekuhr, acting secretary of the reorganizational committee, that the new group can not operate the 1962 fair. The committee petitioned the former group to operate the fair this year and consent was formally announced at the Thursday night meeting. Entertainment for this year's fair will be selected at the state convention in Minneapolis January 8, 9 and 10.

Considerable discussion Thursday evening centered around the sale of membership in the nonprofit organization for which articles of incorporation have been sent to the state for approval and filing. It was noted at the meeting that the life memberships entitle the holder to participate in operation of the fair, vote at annual meetings and be protected by the corporate nature of the organization against any liability. The memberships will not be transferable and will have no redeemable value.

February 1 was set as the date for the next meeting of the organizational committee with appointed individuals who will be assisting with the sale of membership. Other interested persons from thruout the county, invited by the committee members, are also encouraged to attend the session. Price of membership and method of conducting the sale will be discussed further at that meeting.

"While it is true that 1962 operation of the fair will be in the hands of the present stockholder group, the membership campaign cannot be over-emphasized," stated Ray Oen, chairman of the reorganization committee. "All money collected will be held in trust until the new organization assumes fair operation, but we must have a strong membership when it comes time for court presentation concerning our position. This is why we must get our membership campaign underway at an early date."

The nucleus group of the new organization will meet prior to the February 1 meeting to plan a prospectus for the membership canvass and hear an appraisal to be made of present fair grounds property. The appraisal will serve as a guide in setting membership fees although a separate appraisal must be made for formal presentation to the court when dissolution of the "old" organization comes up for hearing.

Electric Power Use Sets Peak in City

Use of electrical energy in Thief River Falls climbed to another record peak in 1961, continuing the annual increase trend which has been noted for a number of years, according to Morris Owen, chief engineer at the city power plant. Total electrical usage in 1961 increased 744,900 KWH or three and one-half per cent over 1960.

City residents used 21,998,572 KWH of current during 1961 of which 21,519,572 was purchased by the city from the United States Bureau of Reclamation. Turbines operated by water power from the dam generated 457,300 KWH during the year while the No. 12 Fairbanks produced 10,200 KWH, the No. 10 Fairbanks produced 1,700 and the Nordberg engine produced 9,800 KWH in 1961.

Two peak loads were hit during 1961, both on the same day. On December 5 when line trouble caused an outage in Bureau of Reclamation power, a peak of 4,516 KWH had been reached. When the power came back on, the peak jumped to 4,956 KWH as refrigeration units began operating and housewives returned to meal preparation.

Low water level in the river this year reduced the production output of the turbines from 1,094,400 last year to this year's total of 457,300. Other engines operated a total of only 23 hours to produce 21,700 KWH in 1961 as compared with 119 hours and 122,900 KWH in 1960 when more outages were noted. Power purchased from the Bureau of Reclamation in 1961 was up 1,483,100 KWH from the total of 20,036,472 purchased in 1960.

Boy Scout Week Activities Aired At Dist. Meeting

Several Boards of Review Arranged; Feb. 12 Set as Court of Honor Date

Plans for a number of Boy Scout activities were made when the monthly meeting of the Pen-Ro-Shall district and Scoutmasters' Roundtable was held Thursday evening in the Rex Cafe in Thief River Falls. It was noted that Boy Scout Week will be observed February 7-13.

Tentative arrangements were made for boards of review to be held tonight, January 8, as well as January 22 and 29. An Eagle board of review will be held Sunday, January 28, at Trinity Lutheran church in this city. All events will begin at 7:30 p. m. with the exception of the latter which will be held at 2:30 p. m.

A Court of Honor will be held on February 12 with a tenderfoot investiture including Order of the Arrow camping merit badge presentation, directed by John Brenna; Second Class awards under the supervision of Robert Protz; First Class awards by George Mostue or Cyril Havel; merit badges by Clarence Knutson; Star awards by Evonne Olson; Life awards by Douglas Remick; and Eagle awards by Quentin Jones.

A scout week window display will be erected in February and the annual fishing derby for scouts in troop 57, sponsored by the St. Bernard's men's club, will also be held in the near future with dates to be announced later. Next district meeting will be held Thursday, February 1, at 6:30 p. m. in the Rex Cafe.

Drouth Reduces Farm Income in Area in '61

Economic recovery in the Ninth Federal Reserve district during 1961 did not quite match that of the nation as a whole, the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank noted today in the annual report issue of the Monthly Review.

The impact of last summer's drouth on the western Dakotas and Montana held farm income down 6 percent causing a slower rise in district personal income than in the nation as a whole.

Drouth cut back acreage yields of small grains, notably wheat, and caused pasture and forage shortages in western livestock areas. In the eastern corn and soybean producing areas of the district, however, excellent growing conditions were responsible for record breaking production of these crops.

Business activity turned down in the harder hit drouth areas and continued at low levels in the iron ore mining regions of the district. Industrial output, however, as measured by indexes of killowatt hours of electrical energy used for industrial purposes, rose quite steadily following a low in February, and by October this measure of industrial activity had risen 8 percent. Expanding demand increased district employment in manufacturing firms, especially in the durable goods industries in Minnesota.

District mining activity trends were mixed in 1961. Copper production was fairly normal, but iron ore production continued to decline. Iron ore shipments from U. S. ports in the Lake Superior region were down 18 percent from the 1960 level. This decrease is significant considering that 1960 was a recession year.

The amount of contract awards made for all types of construction in the district during the first ten months of 1961 was down 2 percent from the same period of last year. The decline in residential building and heavy engineering projects such as highways, other public works and private and public utility construction more than offset the 9 percent increase in the amount of awards made for non-residential building.

A major transition in residential construction during 1961 was the trend toward more apartment house building.

District bankers found 1961 to be a year of substantial deposit growth coupled with unusually modest loan demands. Deposit growth both here and in the nation reflects, in part, a national monetary policy aimed at promoting economic recovery from recession by stimulating monetary expansion.

Community Plans Group To Invite Business Speakers

An invitation to Guy Keinhofer of the Minnesota Department of Business Development was authorized Thursday noon at a meeting of the steering committee of the Chamber of Commerce community planning committee in the Rex Cafe.

Keinhofer was given a choice of several dates and it is hoped by the group that he will be able to select one of these for a meeting with the steering committee and representatives of the county board of commissioners, city council, Jobs, Inc., and the Chamber of Commerce board. Further information on the meeting will be published in later editions of the Times.

Area Caught in Throes of Frigid Winter Weather

6.3 Inches of Snow is Received Last Week; More Snow Is Forecast

Winter's icy grip tightened on this area over the weekend, after several days of banana belt weather early last week. The arctic weather factory ground out sub-zero temperatures and 6.3 inches of new snow for the area, liberally mixing high winds with the other ingredients.

Bad weather was not confined to this part of the nation alone, however. Bad weather was general east of the Rockies, with tornadoes hitting Florida causing one death. In all, last week's wintry weather resulted in 15 deaths, according to news reports.

The day-to-day weather in Thief River Falls over the weekend was as follows: Thursday, high 30, low 2 with 2.5 inches of new snow; Friday, -2 and -25; Saturday, 16 and -22 with two inches of new snow; Sunday, 15 and -4 with 1.8 inch of snow, and the low this morning was -5.

The forecast is for mostly cloudy skies, windy and colder with occasional snow flurries today, some blowing and drifting snow through Tuesday. Highs will range from 0 to 10 above and the lows will be from 5 to 15 below.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holbrook returned Sunday from Sheridan, Wyoming, where they spent Christmas with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Noel and family.

Date of Chamber Annual Meeting Changed to Jan. 25

Conflict With Other Groups Causes Change; Program Arrangements Completed

Announcement of a change in date for the annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce was made late last week by Phil Hess, chairman of the annual meeting committee. Due to a conflict, in dates with other organizations, the meeting time has been set back from January 18 to Thursday, January 25.

Ticket sales for the event begin today under the direction of Donald M. Olson. A turkey dinner will be served at the banquet which is slated to begin at 6:30 p. m. in the basement of St. Bernard's Catholic church. Ticket prices have been set at $1.75 for men and $1.25 for ladies to encourage chamber members to bring their wives with them to the session.

Presentation of an "outstanding citizen" award will be made and the directors of the organization will all have a part in the program which will feature the chamber of commerce role in "1962 on Parade". Program details will be covered in later issues of the Times.

Announce Plan to Erect Tower for TV Reception Here

Plans have been completed for the erection of a 500-foot tower for the purpose of feeding cabled television into homes in this area, according to Gene Sjoberg, proprietor of Sjoberg Appliance in this city.

To be erected south of the city, the tower will be as tall as any in Minnesota. Erection is expected to begin early this spring. Hookup with the tower will eliminate police broadcast interference and will also enable local television viewers to have more channels available, Sjoberg said.

The late Judge Paul A. Lundgren of Thief River Falls was also a member of the panel of judges.

Postal Receipts $133,939 in 1961

Receipts at the Thief River Falls postoffice in 1961 were $133,939.77, compared to $130,313.66 in 1960 and $125,236.08 in 1951, Postmaster R. J. Dryden announced this week. The gain of $3,626 over 1960 is slightly below the average rate of increase for recent years.

'61 Support Price on Grains Raised by Marshall ASC

Attention to an increase of six cents per bushel in the support price for flaxseed, rye and wheat has been called by Edward A. Johnson, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service committee. The increase is on the basic 1961 price support rate, and has been made due to recent reductions in rail freight tariffs.

Borrowers will be paid the additional amounts due them on warehouse-stored loans after maturity and farm-stored loans will be given the additional credit per bushel when delivery is made, Johnson said.

Record Review Reveals . . .

1961 Weather Is Cold, and Dry

Weather in 1961 provided a great deal of conversation in the Thief River Falls area, as well as the Upper Midwest in general. Starting off extremely cold in January, it warmed up a great deal from February on through June, throwing in a disastrous drouth in the early summer and a severe hailstorm in August before ending the same way it started—c-c-c-cold!

The early summer drouth was one of the worst in our area's history before it was finally broken in July. Disaster measures were taken through opening up soil bank lands for hay cutting. Despite the toll taken by hot, dry weather, area farmers managed to get about half a crop and sufficient hay for the winter.

The hailstorm in August did much damage to homes and business buildings in the city, where it struck with greatest fury. Lumber yards and roofing contractors did a land-office business, insurance adjusters had more work than they could handle for many days afterwards.

In the national weather picture, Hurricane Carla, called the worst in history, struck the U. S. gulf coast, wreaking havoc but with little or no loss of lives.

A month-by-month rundown of weather is as follows:

January

The coldest month of the year, by far. High was 39, low -32 with 20 days out of the 31 featuring temperatures below zero. There were eight days during which the high temperature did not go above zero, of which there were six consecutive days of sub-zero readings. Snowfall amounted to 7.5 inches. In contrast, there were six days when the mercury was 32 or warmer.

February

Much warmer than January — only 10 days of below-zero readings, of which there was one day with a high of 0. The high was 41, low -13 with .19 in. precipitation in the form of 4.6 in. of snow.

March

The dry weather trend leading to the summer drouth was evident from the precipitation—or lack of it—in both February and March. There was only .19 inch in March also. The high was 6.3 low 8 above.

April

Normally one of the wetter months, April brought less than an inch of rainfall—.99 to be exact. Temperatures shot upwards, high 66, low 7. The mean temperature this month was 35.3.

May

There were seven days of freezing weather this month, with a high of 84, low 21—and only .82 inch of rainfall as the dry trend continued. There was still time to bring a good crop if rain would come—but it didn't!

June

A real scorcher, almost as hot as a normal August—and dry! The precipitation was only .44 inch and the high temperature, 94, just about all it took to spell ruination of crops over a wide area. By this time measures were taken by Congress to provide relief from the drouth. Many, if not most, counties in a three-state area were declared disaster areas and farmers began cutting soil bank hay against winter's lean months. The low temperature in June was 39.

July

The drouth was finally broken as rain started falling July 10. From there on it was a fairly wet month with a total of 4.98 inches which the parched ground soaked up as soon as it fell. Brown lawns in the city began to green up and the sound of power mowers was again heard in the land. The high was 92 and the low was 42.

August

This was the hottest month with a high of 95 and a low of 41. Rainfall totaled 2.66 inches approximately (in the city.) The of-

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. MEL ZITZOW

For homemakers who enjoy trying something completely different in the form of variety for the family table, here is an intriguing recipe direct from England. Mrs. Zitzow, an English war bride, frequently serves what has long been known in her family as "Toad in a Hole," or "Yorkshire Pudding". It can be used with a full course meal as a type of replacement for bread or is best when served with creamed potatoes with milk gravy. At any rate, the ingredients are economical and the recipe is certainly worth a try.

TOAD IN A HOLE

1¼ cups flour	12 pork sausages
2 tsp. baking powder	1 egg
¼ cup shortening	Milk
Sprinkle of salt

Method: Work shortening, flour and baking powder as for pie crust. Add eggs, enough milk to make the consistency of pancake batter. Put in 9" greased square pan. Place pork sausages on top of batter and bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Cut in squares. Serves 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Zitzow are at home at 603 S. Tindolph in this city and have three boys, Wayne, 15, in 10th grade at Lincoln, Darryl, 12, 6th grade and Rocky, 9, in 4th grade at Knox.

Mrs. Zitzow who came here from England 16 years ago has lived in this city since and has hobbies of knitting, crocheting and upholstery. They are members of St. John's Lutheran church and active in church affairs. Mel is a linotype operator here at the Times. As a family they enjoy summer outdoor sports, ping, pong, and the men, darkhouse fishing in the winter months.

CORRECTION: In last Monday's Kitchen Karnival of Prizewinning Buns the amount of flour should be 8 cups, not 3.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Now that so many of the stores are having after Christmas sales, these sales may mean a saving on the budget, if you buy the quality that will meet your needs. The label is one of your best buying guides, but you must also be equipped with information to interpret the label correctly.

If you want an easy-care fabric in a shirt or a dress, you can choose between a synthetic and a cotton with a special finish. But read the label so you know what you are getting and how to care for it.

Easy-care fabrics have proved a blessing to many homemakers, but these fabrics have also caused some care problems.

Synthetic fiber shirtings are of two kinds, one consists of 100 percent synthetic fiber and is often knit. This fabric is ideal for travel because it is lightweight, washes easily, dries quickly and does not need ironing. Its drawbacks are that it is less comfortable than cotton because it does not absorb moisture and is less opaque than cotton.

The group of synthetic fibers which seems to be most satisfactory for use in easy-care fabric is the family of polyesters. Dacron is the most familiar member of this family. The label will carry the genevic name of polyester.

A blend of a synthetic fiber and cotton is another popular type of fabric used in easy care garments. One of the most satisfactory of these blends is 65 percent polyester fiber—such as Dacron—and 35 per cent cotton. The synthetic fiber has the qualities of wrinkle resistance, fast drying and little need for ironing; the 35 percent cotton contributes absorbency for comfort and opaqueness for eye appeal. Follow the directions on the labels for care in the laundry.

Poor construction can be costly to you as a consumer so check to be sure you know what you are buying.

Here are some points to look for in buying a blouse, shirt, or dress.

Fullness of cut through the chest and shoulders.

Tails long enough to stay tucked in. Inexpensive blouses and shirts sometimes have too short tails.

Sleeves fully cut and amply deep armholes.

Buttonholes with firm, closely spaced stitches with a bar tack across each end. Sometimes nearly new garments are discarded because buttonholes have frayed badly.

$46,000,000 Is Paid to State Jobless in '61

Minnesota's workers whose employment had qualified them for insurance benefits in time of layoff or job less received a total of almost $46 million last year in unemployment benefits, it was reported by Frank T. Starkey, state commissioner of employment security. The amount marked a 25 percent increase over 1960.

The number of unemployed workers receiving one or more weeks of benefits under the insurance program last year was 98,424 compared to 89,954 in 1960. Of those drawing benefits in 1961, there were 31,828 who exhausted their benefit rights on current claims. This represented a 47 percent increase over the 21,626 exhausting their benefits in 1960, Starkey said.

The number of weeks for which benefits were paid totaled 1,576,380 in 1961, compared to 1,277,092 in 1960. The average weekly amount paid to eligible claimants last year were was $29.17, up 92 cents from the previous year's average.

In addition to the benefits paid out under the Minnesota law, which is financed by a tax on employers' payrolls, the department administers two insurance programs —for federal employees, and for ex-servicemen for which it is reimbursed by the federal government. Mr. Starkey reported that over $3½ million was paid out through these two programs in 1961.

Because of the increasing number of persons in the nation who had exhausted their unemployment insurance benefits the federal government early in 1961 provided funds for a "temporary extended unemployment benefit" program, which allowed qualified claimants to draw from 9 to 13 weeks of additional benefits if they were still unable to find work. Under the program, the department of Employment Security made benefit payments in 1961 totaling over $8½ million. Initial claims under that program totaled 29,685 with 12,848 persons drawing the maximum allowed them.

CHAMBER L.I.F.E.

Living-Industry-Farming-Education

By Rolly Larson
Manager Chamber of Commerce

January, in particular, is a month filled with annual meetings, banquets, and a host of other scheduled activities. This is good. Community activity is essential and certainly is an enjoyable and integral part of our daily lives.

Unfortunately, from time to time with all of our many fine organizations, we find that respective activities conflict with one another which can only result in a lesser response at each of the conflicting functions. This is bad.

One year ago the Chamber of Commerce embarked on a new project, that being a "Community Event Scheduling Service." It has been made known to the public that this service exists and public cooperation has been asked. The Chamber maintains an office, it has a phone, a secretary, and a beautiful wall-sized calendar for no other reason than to schedule significant community activities and to prevent conflictions on any given date or time.

Many groups have responded favorably to this service that has been provided and have saved themselves some trouble. Not only can organizations better insure themselves of successful activities but may also show respect to other organizations by not competing with them for a date that has been previously filled.

Understanding fully that sometimes conflicts are inevitable I should like to ask once again that all organizations at least make an attempt to show their consideration by cooperating with this provided service. It is not too much to ask as it is in the very interest of every community group. The Chamber of Commerce will provide this service again in 1962. Please take advantage of it and respect what it stands for.

We can respect what we stand for, too, if we Shop and Trade Where Bargains are Made — In the Heart of Northwest Minnesota, Thief River Falls.

EGF Man Named FFA Foundation Donor Chairman

J. C. Tanner Selected at State Meeting: Robert Backstrom, Warren, Cited

Glenn M. Anderson, St. Paul, was elected vice president and finance chairman of the Minnesota Future Farmers of Education Foundation at the eighth annual meeting held recently in St. Paul. Reelected were G. R. Cochran, state supervisor of agriculture education, president; and W. J. Kotesmaki, state FFA executive secretary, secretary-treasurer.

J. C. Tanner of East Grand Forks was elected regional donor representative for Region I on the board of directors. Robert Backstrom of Warren, who retired from the board in compliance with a constitutional provision which limits tenure, was voted a special citation for assistance in promoting Foundation activities.

The Minnesota FFA Foundation was established eight years ago to provide business, industrial, civic and farm organizations and individuals with an opportunity to cooperate further in the programs of vocational agriculture and FFA. Contributions may be made thru regional donor chairman with all funds accepted to be used exclusively for the purpose of stimulating and promoting the best interests of high school vocational agriculture students and FFA chapters.

During 1961 a total of 135 individuals or firms contributed to the Foundation with donors at the annual meeting voting to continue to finance a farm management award program for vocational agriculture students excelling in improvement enterprises. More than 8,200 FFA members participated in this program during the past five years.

Prowler Quint Takes Unbeaten Stillwater

Coach Jack Junker and his Prowler cagers returned to the city at 7:00 a. m. on Sunday after being "on the road" all night as they returned from their two-game series against Stillwater and North St. Paul. The Prowlers scored a win, against the previously unbeaten Stillwater Ponies, on Friday night, winning by a 64-61 score in an overtime tilt; and losing on Saturday night to North St. Paul, 59-49.

On Friday, Jan. 12, the Prowlers will travel to Bemidji fc. a game against coach Bun Fortier's defending Region Eight champion Lumberjacks. The game will be the first of the traditional two-game series with the Jacks. Bemidji will play a return game here on Saturday, Feb. 10.

Friday night's surprising win over Stillwater, a team that had registered a 53-48 win over the top-ranked Austin Packers on Thursday night, ended a five-game winless streak for the Prowlers. And what added relish to victory was the fact that Stillwater is the "home town" of Prowler coach Jack Junker.

The Prowlers held a four-point lead, 45-41, entering the fourth period of the game against the Ponies, but the Stillwater aggregation, turning in an 18-point period, moved into a lead of two points with but three seconds of regulation time remaining. Gary Kelly, from just off to the right of the key, looped in a one-handed shot, tying the game at 59-all and forcing a three-minute overtime period.

In the overtime period, the Prowlers took over the lead on Wayne Bjerken's free throw, and held a three-point bulge when Tom Lindberg notched a field goal. Bjerken added a pair of points on free throws, with the Ponies being forced to foul in their attempts to secure possession of the ball. Stillwater's Jerry McGarry marked up a pair of free-throw points just at the game's end, paring the Prowler's winning margin to three points, 64-61.

Dale Bartkey of the Ponies was the game's high scorer with 22 points. Paul Klungness with points, Kelly with 16 points, and Bjerken with 13 points, were the Prowler players to score in double figures.

Playing at North St. Paul on Saturday night, the Prowlers, after playing the Polars on near-even terms throughout the first half, trailing by one point, 25-21, at the intermission, were outpointed, 20-12, in the third period, and although rallying in the final period, failed to overcome that deficit and lost by a 59-49 margin. Leading the Polar attack in this third period was senior forward Joe Alfonso, who racked up four field goals and a pair of free throws. Alfonso had 21 points to win the game's high-point honors. n n n n

Thieves Sextet Tips Winnipeg Tobins 8-1

Sparked by the three-goal "hat trick" performance of wing Del-Ray Offerdahl, the senior hockey Thieves defeated the Winnipeg Tobins, 8-1, in an exhibition hockey game played on the Arena ice on Sunday afternoon. On Thursday evening, Jan. 11, with the face-off slated for 8:00 p. m., the Thieves will meet the Roseau Cloverleafs on the Arena rink here.

The first period of Sunday's game was one of the finest and, for ten minutes, the mostly evenly-played on the Arena ice this season. The Thieves notched their first goal when, at the 10:53 mark, veteran Monty Markstrom, hustled into the Tobins' zone to recover a loose puck, and beat goalie Meyers with a hard drive that just caught the mesh in the left corner of the north goal. Mike Poole, a couple of minutes later, banged in a rebound after Dale Wennberg had blasted an on-goal try. Eddie Holmes and Markstrom added goals to give the Thieves a 4-0 first period lead.

In the second period, Offerdahl notched a pair of goals, and Wennberg tallied a singleton, giving the locals a 7-1 lead. And late in the third period, Offerdahl completed his three-goal effort by scoring at the 18:43 mark.

ALL-STATE tournament player, Jon Hall, wearing Minneapolis Roosevelt jersey No. 9, is being checked off the play by the Prowlers' defenseman, Tom Morben, No. 8, in this third-period action shot of the Prowlers vs. Roosevelt hockey game played here Thursday night. The Teddies won the game, 3-1. Prowler goalie, Tom Teal, No. 1, alertly watches the play as Roosevelt wing, Dick Swenson, in the background, skates into position to cover a possible rebound.

Very Fair

Times' editor Bill Dahlquist spent the Christmas holidays in the Los Angeles area, visiting with his daughter and son-in-law, Joan and Helmer (Hemmy) Sahl, and his three grandsons. Bill did not attend the Rose Bowl game, but he did bring back the Rose Bowl edition of the Los Angeles Times. And the reports of the Gophers' 21-3 win over UCLA are very fair.

Quoting UCLA coach Bill Barnes: "They were too strong for us." Referring, of course, to the all-round play of the Minnesota team. And he added: "They have four of the finest tackles in college football." Barnes, whose teams had played Ohio State earlier in the season, refused to compare Minnesota with Ohio State, saying "I can't compare them; they didn't meet during the season, but they (Minnesota and Ohio State) are the toughest teams, physically, we have played this season."

Paul Zimmerman, the Los Angeles Times sports editor, gave much praise to Gopher quarterback, Sandy Stephens, both for his expert calling of plays and his offensive play. Zimmerman remarked that "It would be unfair to a fine Minnesota line to give all the credit to Stephens, great as he was. On defense the great Minnesota line lived up to its reputation, forcing the Bruins into reverses and a passing attack they simply didn't have. Its fine ends and tackles piled up the alleged ruin power, limiting tailbacks Bobby Smith and Mike Haffner to a total of 15 yards net."

In a lighter vein, Times' sports columnist Jim Murray, who is syndicated nationally, commented in this manner: "I had a feeling it was going to be a long afternoon for the old home town as soon as the Gophers walked out on the field and the Caltech seismograph wobbled. Either these guys wear shoulder pads three sizes too large or the bathroom scales in Minneapolis are in a rut or have a governor on them so they can't go over 275 lbs."

Murray further commented that "both teams play a game that is about as exciting as a compound-interest table—to a pauper. Minnesota is the kind of team that consider a 3-point lead a rout, while UCLA figures it will take two periods to wipe out a one-touchdown lead. The game was given over to so much infighting that Gene Fullmer might have made player-of-the-game if he had suited up. The Bruins had speed and spirit, but the Gophers, usually, had the football. In the long run, that was better."

They Must Be Great

Following their winning performances during the week-end, it must be conceded that coach Larry Ross' International Falls Broncos are entitled to rating as the state's top-ranked high school hockey team.

Playing at Grand Forks on Friday night, the Broncos, on a third period goal by their highly-touted center-ice player, Keith Christiansen, defeated coach sergio Gambucci's veteran Grand Forks Central team, 1-0. And on Saturday night, playing the defending state champion Roseau Rams at Roseau, the Falls sextet scored a 4-2 win. It was the first loss of the season for the Rams (Roseau will play the Prowlers here on Saturday night), and it continued the Broncos' unbeaten string.

Minneapolis Roosevelt hockey coach Bob Johnson, when he was here on Thursday night to direct his Teddies to a 3-1 win over the Prowlers, was lavish in his praise of the International Falls club. The Broncos defeated the Teddies, 10-1, a week ago. Johnson was particularly impressed by the play of the Broncos' Christiansen, stating that the center-ice player is a spectacular skater and play-maker and his the endurance to put in an "extra shift" whenever he is called upon by coach Ross. He is undoubtedly the key man in the Broncos' play.

Roseau 'B' Sextet Edges Prowler 'B'

Defeat Locals 2 to 0 in Game Here Friday Night

Expert goal-tending by John Hellquist (the sophomore net-minder booted out twenty on-goal shots) kept coach Frank Machioch's Roseau 'B' squad from rolling up a top-heavy score in a 'B' squad hockey game played on the Arena ice here Friday evening. The Roseau 'B' squad marked up a 2-0 win over coach George Schilleff's Prowler 'B' team.

The Roseau goals were recorded by Bob Brandt, who, in the second period, picked up a pass from Brian Grand and skated in for a close-in defense to come in and, with a neat deke, pull Hellquist out of the goal, and flip the puck into the net for a tally.

Roosevelt High Six Downs Prowlers 3-1

Three second-period goals by the Teddies gave coach Bob Johnson's Minneapolis Roosevelt sextet a 3-1 win over coach Gene Sack's Prowler in a high school hockey game played at the Arena here on Thursday night. The Prowlers will engage in an important week of Region Eight competition this week. On Monday night, coach Roland Genz will bring his Warroad Warriors squad here for a conference game. And on Saturday night, Jan. 13, the defending state champion Roseau Rams will invade the Arena rink for a conference tilt against the Prowlers. Both games will be preceded by preliminary games between the 'B' squads of the schools, with the face-offs for the prelims being slated for 6:30 p. m.

In Thursday night's Prowlers vs. Roosevelt game, the locals moved into a 1-0 lead in the first period when, 9:35 mark, right wing Jerome (Tony) Poole hustled into the north end of the rink, recovered a loose puck, flipped a backhand pass to Larry Poole, and the Prowler co-captain beat goalie Greg Date with a 15-foot shot.

The Prowlers held that advantage until the 2:27 mark of the second period when Dick Swenson, on a partially screened shot, hit the left corner of the net on a 20-footer. With 8:46 of the period elapsed, the Swenson-Dave Benolkin duo combined for a tally, with Swenson hitting the net with a backhand shot. And, just as the period ended, Roosevelt's Jon Hall, an all-state tournament selection as a sophomore last season, closed out the game's scoring by circling the Prowler net and cramming the puck past goalie Tom Teal's skate and into the north net.

The Prowlers, although holding a slight edge in the on-goal shots, 23 to 19, were somewhat erratic in their play, and they failed to "Finish-off" several potential scoring play.

Forsooth, Youth . . .

Prove Yourselves Today For Tomorrow's Challenge

by V. M. Draper
Times Staff Member

At last someone has done it! The Saturday Evening Post carried, in a recent issue, a comprehensive article on today's youth in America and it pretty much bears out what a great many have suspected all along—most of 'em are nice kids but they aren't going anywhere and don't much give a hoot.

Despite newspaper stories on juvenile delinquency, the delinquents are a very small minority in the total. Most are well-behaved, most conform to the rules of society. Generally speaking, today's youth prefers low success—and security—rather than a high failure. Unlike their forebears, young Americans in our space age apparently would prefer not to shoot for the moon.

More bluntly, one might say today's youth is an incentiveless, pampered lot except that this wouldn't be at all fair because they're the product of their environment. We teach them every day to conform. We teach them to "let George do it, you might get hurt," or "That's too much of an undertaking—forget it."

We also teach them to consider themselves as part of a group, rather than as individuals. Not consciously, perhaps, but it is constantly drummed into them, nevertheless. Everybody belongs to some group or other—if one doesn't identify himself with some group or other in society he's a nobody. We teach 'em to do as everyone else does.

Most Englishmen and Frenchmen, even in our times, are rugged individuals — and at one time Americans were the most rugged individuals of all. But no more because the rugged individual sometimes steps on others' toes and it isn't nice to go around stepping on toes these days. In a nation which professes to admire the individual with ambition and pioneering spirit, we seem to discourage it in our youth.

Being 40 has its little compensations. While we haven't quite reached that milestone it's nice to know the people who were picked to pioneer in space are in their thirties—in fact, the astronaut who is to be shot into orbit later this month is 40. Perhaps we aren't "over the hill" after all!

Why not someone in their early twenties? Because the older heads had more on the ball probably—they had the required skill, with the added advantage of experience. Several of them have had to kill or be killed and all of them are capable of using good judgment under stress.

In the Korean fighting it was the older pilot who scored the most kills. They were aggressive but not reckless. If their planes sustained damage, it was usually from battle, not from trying to fly through the underbrush.

Those who were picked to pioneer in space were volunteers. The question that comes to our mind is, did only the older men volunteer or were the younger men discriminated against?

If it was the former it is a shame. If it was the latter case, it isn't quite fair because every one of our astronauts was once a young man and every young man deserves the chance to prove himself.

But, the greatest pity of all is that more of the young people in America aren't proving themselves above and beyond the everyday grind—or as rock-n-roll entertainers. The young men of the roaring twenties and the depression thirties (when you had to have ambition, or else) can't stay young forever!

Crookston Store Owner Found Dead

Manley Brekken Jr. Body Discovered Near Euclid

A well-known Crookston business man was found dead in his car on a Euclid Township road three and a half miles west of Euclid Wednesday afternoon.

He was Manley Brekken Jr., 39, a native and lifelong resident of Crookston, the operator of Brekken Clothiers for the past 16 years.

Polk county sheriff Carl Knutson said Brekken apparently had been dead for several days. An autopsy performed Wednesday indicated death was caused by over-exertion and exposure, according to Knutson.

The front wheels of Brekken's car went over the shoulder of the road as he apparently tired to turn the car around, Knutson reported. He said there was evidence the driver had attempted to free the car.

Survivors include his widow; three daughters, Mary Lynn, Diane and Barbara and a son, James, all at home; a sister, Mrs. Howard (Evelyn) Hanson of Crookston and six brother, Romuald, Paul, Albert and Wilburn, of Crookston, Raymond of Detroit Lakes and Robert of Brainerd.

Barley Production Cut Slated in 1962 Will Be Voluntary

Marshall County ASC Chairman Points out Objectives of Program

Growers of spring-planted barley, in signing up Feb. 5 through March 30 for retirement of part of their acreage will be doing so voluntarily, it was stressed here today by Edward A. Johnson, chairman of the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The 1962 feed grain program enacted by Congress expressly stipulated that farmers have a freedom of choice in the matter of participation, the chairman explained.

If barley growers wish to cooperate with other American farmers in the effort to help curb the tremendous overproduction of feed grain, they must agree to divert an acreage to soil conserving usage and comply with all program requirements to receive payments from the government.

By fully cooperating in the feed grain program they also become eligible to receive price support on barley, corn, or grain sorghums as the case may be, as well as on oats and rye they may produce. Those who don't want to participate in the program will not receive acreage retirement payments nor price supports. They will be free to dispose of their feed grain in any way and at any price they can get.

Triple goals of the Feed Grain Program are reduction of excessive Commodity Credit Corporation inventories; reduction of costs to the Government, and the maintenance of farm income at equitable levels, Johnson declared.

Loans to Farmers Offered by FHA

Open to Farmers Unable to Borrow Elsewhere

Farmers living in Pennington and Red Lake counties who do not qualify for commercial or cooperative credit to meet their farm operating needs for the 1962 crop year are invited to contact the local office of the Farmers Home Administration at an early date, J. P. Rosengren, local supervisor, said this week.

Pennington and Red Lake Counties are two of the 33 Minnesota Counties in which FHA emergency loan funds have been made available to eligible farmers. Loans are made for crop production purposes and are due at the time the crop is marketed. Interest is at the rate of 3 percent and a first lien on the planted crops normally is the required security.

Rosengren stressed the importance of applying for loans at an early date to avoid inconveniences which applicants might encounter should they delay filing applications to the time near the spring planting season.

The FHA office serving Pennington county is located at Thief River Falls in the courthouse. Rosengren is at this location on Wednesday of each week to take loan applications; and at the Security State Bank Building in Oklee on Friday each week from 10:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. Arrangements for appointments on days other than the above should be arranged for in advance.

State DFL Plans 1962 Convention in Duluth in May

This year's state Democratic-Farmer-Laborite convention will be held in Duluth May 25-27, party Chairman George Farr announced Wednesday.

Farr said he expected some 2,000 delegates and guests would attend the sessions, to be held in the National Guard Armory. It will be the first DFL convention in Duluth in 12 years.

Farr said there was no truth in reports the convention was brought to Duluth because of alleged dissension and lack of leadership in the 8th District.

Bronko Nagurski to Aid Heart Fund

Gordon J. Thompson, 1962 state Heart Fund chairman, announced today the appointment of the famed University of Minnesota's Bronko Nagurski as state special events chairman for the coming February drive.

53 year old Nagurski, everybody's All-American, is now a service station operator in International Falls.

As state Special Events Chairman for the Heart Fund, Nagurski will superivse the activities of some 3,000 local chairmen responsible for the many community functions in the special events category.

Adjust Speed To Meet Existing Conditions Is Basic Speed Law

Motorists must adjust their driving habits to January's adverse weather conditions, according to Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff and chairman on the county safety council. Recent snow and melting conditions have made highway travel and city traffic extremely dangerous.

"First of all, adjust your car's speed to existing road conditions," Sheriff Richards warned drivers. "Then, because of the below-freezing conditions which usually exist in January, be sure that the defrosters and windshield wipers are in proper operating condition, and be sure that tire chains are in place."

Importance of adjusting speed to road conditions was noted by Sheriff Richards who called attention to the basic speed law which states, "No person shall drive a vehicle on a highway at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent under the conditions and having regard to the actual and potential hazards then existing. In every event speed shall be so restricted as may be necessary to avoid colliding with any person, vehicle or other conveyance on or entering the highway . . ."

Explaining that January is one of the worst months of the year for driving hazards, the safety council chairman said that many mishaps occur because motorists persist in driving with an accumulation of ice and snow on the windshield and windows. "Don't depend on the other guy to see you," he said. "Clean windshield and windows before driving. The extra few moments may save a life."

Other safety reminders to which attention was called include:

Test brakes at low speed to get the feel of the road surface. Remember that icy pavements are most dangerous at the freezing-thawing temperature than near zero. Look for icy spots in shaded areas and on bridges;

Use good-tread tires, snow tires or chains, and don't follow too closely or drive too fast for conditions;

In the event of a skid on ice, turn wheels in the direction the rear wheels are skidding and pump brakes rapidly;

For complete safety, be prepared for any eventuality and keep your car in top operating condition, he concluded.

Marketing Order on Milk Rejected

Dairymen Oppose Plan in Dec. 20 Referendum

Dairymen rejected at a Dec. 20 referenda proposals to establish federal marketing orders from fluid milk in a Minnesota-North Dakota area and another in western North Dakota.

The Agriculture Department, which submitted the proposals, said Wednesday they failed to get the necessary two-thirds majorities.

The orders were designed to help stabilize prices and supplies of fluid milk in the areas. The department would have set minimum prices which handlers would have been required to pay dairymen.

In the Minnesota-North Dakota referendum, 416 dairymen voted for the proposed order, 306 against with 415 ballots being disqualified.

In the referendum on the proposed western North Dakota order, 90 producers voted for the order, 100 against, and ballots of three producers were disqualified.

The proposed marketing areas under the two orders would have included 18 Minnesota counties, and 38 in North Dakota.

Gov. Rockefeller to Speak at State GOP Dinner Jan. 24

Republicans Hope for Big Attendance at $100 Event Slated in St. Paul

Republicans are counting on rural Minnesota to purchase half the 5000 tickets they hope will be sold for the annual $100 dinner this month.

The dinner is set for January 24 at the spacious St. Paul Auditorium.

Main speaker will be Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York, one of the top GOP presidential hopefuls for 1964. Governor Elmer L. Andersen will deliver a key address at the banquet which will also honor Minnesota's Republican Congressional delegation, Val Bjornson, state treasurer, and Stafford King, state auditor.

The theme of the fund raising dinner is "Four Score, Add Four". The basis of the slogan is the fact that 1962 will be the 80th year of Minnesota's 104 years that Republican administrations have governed the state. "Add Four" indicates victory in the 1962 elections when the governor and constitutional officers will seek four-year terms for the first time in the state's history. (The state auditor post has been four years and the railroad and warehouse commissioner term is for six years.)

Preceding the dinner which will be served at 7 p. m. all ticket holders are invited to attend a reception at the Hotel Lowry to meet Governor Rockefeller, beginning at 5:30.

The goal of 5000 tickets represents a challenge to ticket sellers. The previous record sale in Minnesota was 2818 tickets in 1960.

Annual Reports Due April 15 on Social Security

All beneficiaries receiving social security benefits who earned over $1,200 and were under 72 years of age for any part of 1961 are required to file their annual reports with the Social Security Administration, it was reported today.

Reports must be filed no later than April 15, 1962, in addition to normal income tax returns. Failure to file the report could possibly result in additional loss of benefits.

A representative of the Grand Forks district office will be in this city on Tuesday, January 9, at 10 a. m. in the municipal auditorium. Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

Property Tax Short Course at Crookston

A property tax short course for local assessors will be held at Northwest School, Crookston, on four successive Wednesdays beginning January 17.

The course is being sponsored by the University's Institute of Agriculture. Similar courses are being held at Waseca, Morris, Grand Rapids and St. Paul, according to Robert Pinches, acting director of agricultural short courses at the University.

Sessions will begin each day at 10 a. m. at all four locations. A $10 fee is being charged for each complete course. County officials such as county commissioners who wish to visit the courses for a day as observers may do so by paying a fee of $3.

The courses are planned to achieve three important objectives, according to James Schwinden, research fellow in agricultural economics at the University, who is program chairman. They are:

(1) to help the local assessor understand the importance of his job, (2) to demonstrate the tools for assessing and show how they can be used cooperatively with the county assessing officer, and (3) to familiarize the local assessor with various sources of information which will help him do a better job.

Cooperating with the University in planning the sessions and providing instructors are the Minnesota department of taxation, Minnesota Association of County Assessing Officers, Minnesota County Commissioners association, Farmers Home Administration, state Agricultural Sabilization and Conservation committee and State-Federal Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Those interested should contact Agricultural Short Courses, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

"It is clearly necessary that our trade policies and procedures should have sufficient flexibility to meet the new conditions created by the establishment of the Common Market in Europe. I am convinced that a steady, gradual liberalization of trade restrictions, with adequate consideration for possible injury, can yield solid benefits for the American economy."—Former President Eisenhower.

Interest Rates Up

The Kennedy administration is moving warily in the direction of higher interest rates. The first step was authorization for higher rates of interest to be paid by banks on savings accounts. Soon it will cost more to borrow money.

Higher interest rates have been recommended as essential to our national economy. Too many American dollars have been attracted by the higher rates paid on savings in foreign countries, a contributing factor to our diminishing gold reserves. The U.S. Treasury gold stock dropped nearly a billion dollars last year.

The process will not be popular but it probably is necessary.

Automatic Train

The New York City Transit Authority plans to use a crewless subway train to shuttle passengers between Grand Central station and Times Square, a distance of about a half a mile. The operation will be controlled by feeding a punched tape into a little black box designed to control the movement of the three-car assembly.

The Transit Workers Union does not like the idea and opposes it on the question of safety. The union position is understandable. Automation will reduce jobs. That is the immediate effect.

But the long range result is good — for labor and for all of us. The machine has proven to be man's best friend—a much better friend than the politician. It is to the machine that we owe our high standard of living. And the machine will raise that standard to still higher levels, if we manage our affairs wisely.

The question of safety is always important, but automation is not necessarily unsafe. Millions of people are riding operatorless elevators thruout our country each day without fear.

India's Lost Prestige

India's resort to force in recovering Goa, a Portugese possession for more than 400 years, has resulted in a heated controversy that is not likely to cool off quickly. Adlai Stevenson stated that Nehru's use of force might lead to the death of the United Nations. Nehru was supported by the Russions and a number of colony-conscious countries. Five African Nationalist Movement leaders, meeting in Ghana issued a statement saying,

"We urge all leaders in Asia and Africa to rally round the Indian action and instruct their missions at the United Nations to obstruct subversive activities by Britain, Portugal and the United States to foil the liberation of enclaves."

The Manchester Guardian of England regrets the action because of what it will mean to Nehru's prestige and influence as a man of peace. It points out that the Indian leader has occupied a peculiar position "in the international concert," reminding us that:

"For various reasons—its nonalignment, the size of the country, the stature of its spokesmen led by Mr. Nehru—it has been able to exert an influence far stronger than its armed forces have acquired for it. And that influence has been used predominantly for good. In dispute after dispute, from the Korean War to the Geneva conference now discussing Laos, it has been able to bring opposite points of view closer; some agreements might never have been reached without its meditation."

The Guardian fears that because India has now resorted to force, in defiance of the Charter which Nehru has so ably defended, that good influence may now be lost. It states:

"Many Indians—the isolationists—may say that they would rather have Goa than this international influence. It is doubtful whether that is Mr. Nehru's view. In spite of his bold words on Monday his conduct suggests that once again, as so often in the past, he has given way to pressure against his better judgment. It is one of the qualities of a democratic statesman to give expression to the will of the people he leads. But that is not his whole duty—there is even a duty of resignation sometimes—and if, as may well be, he has embarked on a course disastrous to India's reputation, he must take the blame."

For Little or No Gain

(Memphis Commercial Appeal)

Actual trials have proved time and again that the motorist who disregards the traffic ordinances gains little or nothing in time. The careful, lawabiding driver will ordinarily get over the distance prescribed for a test in only a very few minutes more than the number needed by the reckless fellow. The careful chap, in the meantime, has avoided many of the dangers inherent in bad driving.

There is no sense, in other words, in switching lanes whenever any opening appears. It is folly to dash to get through on the amber light. It is impolite and risky to cheat when the lights change. If you find, on examining your driving habits, that you are guilty of these essentially senseless performances, any or all, you could just stop it.

Elmer L. Andersen

More Destructive Than War

Any danger to our people that is more destructive than war commands attention. In the 60 years since its invention the automobile has taken more lives in our country than all the wars our nation has been involved in, throughout history.

Anything and everything that can be done to reduce this frightful toll, must be done.

I am glad that 1961 saw some improvement in our state. The number of fatalities was less in 1961 than in 1960. The year 1960 had shown an increase of 120 over 1959.

An even more significant figure is that our fatality record per million vehicle miles is now less than the national average. Our average in 1961 was 4.9 fatalities per million miles as against a national average of 5.2.

On the other hand, a loss of over 700 lives on our streets and highways in one year is an appalling loss which we must seek to reduce further.

There are three "E" factors in traffic safety referred to by the Minnesota Safety Council — Engineering, Education, and Enforcement. We are working strenuously on all fronts. If added to the three E's we have individual responsibility and desire, then we will succeed.

One of the most helpful efforts in 1961 was the lights-on-for-safety campaign. This was started by the trucking industry but I extended it to all drivers. I simply asked motorists to keep their dim lights on all day as a constant reminder to all other drivers to drive safely. I'm sure it was a tremendous factor in death reduction on the Labor Day, Christmas, and New Year week-ends when it was used. Everyone was helping everyone else—and all seemed to enjoy the participation.

The Minnesota unit of the AA is going to give recognition to drivers with safe records. This is fine. It is constructive.

I hope you will continue to support these programs of enforcement, education, and engineering for safety—and take personal pride in a state that is putting top priority on safe driving. It is so true that "the life you save, may be your own".

BY MARV LUNDIN

LORD KNOWS EVERYONE WANTS TO KEEP UP with Russia in every way possible. There seems to be a constant fear in this country that the Soviet Union will soon be so far ahead in everything that the United States will fade into insignificance by comparison. Granted, we must be alert to realize our shortcomings and attempt to correct them.

An interesting item was contributed to me recently that gives quite a different view of the situation. It states that in order to "keep pace" with Russia we would be compelled to do the following:

Abandon three-fifths of our steel capacity, scrap two out of every three of our hydroelectric plants, abandon two-thirds of our petroleum capacity, forget over 90 per cent of our natural gas, eliminate 95 per cent of our electric motor output, rip up 15 of every 19 miles of our paved highways, destroy two of every three miles of our railroads, sink eight of every nine of our ocean going ships, junk 19 of every 20 of our cars and trucks, slash all paychecks by three-fourths, transfer 60 million Americans back to the farms, destroy 40 million television sets, rip out nine of every 10 telephones and tear down seven of every 10 houses that now stand.

There is a certain amount of comfort to be derived from these figures. But it would also be interesting to see how we compare in the manufacture and sale of upholstered furniture, motorized golf carts, hammocks, lawn chairs, cost of social entertainment and other items associated with "easy living."

Yes, living here in the good old U.S.A. is pretty plush, but it does prove that a system of private enterprise and competition really works. Remember the finer things the next time someone heralds the advantages of attractive subsidies in return for government control of operations.

The story is told of a successful salesman. He visited the farm of a man who owned only one cow and was persuasive enough to sell the farmer two milking machines. The farmer didn't have the cash to complete the transaction, so the salesman accepted the cow as a down-payment.

Coming soon will be an opportunity for all county residents to show if they are really interested in promotion of their county and its products — a chance for rural and city residents to combine efforts in a project of mutual benefit to both. This will be the membership campaign of the reorganized Pennington county fair.

Much is to be derived from the realization of a strong organization, both in numbers and finances, working on a united front for area promotion. The result could be utilization of fair property for much more than the three or four days the fair operates in itself. Full cooperation of the farm and city populace will be needed to make the venture successful. This campaign in effect will show the desire of county residents to display their community pride.

"I would like to buy some fresh fruit for my sick husband," said the lady to the clerk. "We have some very nice sweet cherries for 50 cents a box that he would enjoy very much," the clerk said. "They look very nice," said the woman after careful inspection, "but have they been sprayed with poison?" "No, ma'am," the helpful clerk replied slowly, "but you can get that at the drug store around the corner."

Annual meeting date of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce has been changed to January 25 due to a conflict in dates. All chamber members be sure to attend and bring your wives for what promises to be an interesting and educational program.

Note in Passing: Some misinterpretation has occurred in a story in the Thursday Times regarding moose numbers in Minnesota. The figure of 386 stated in the headline and explained later in the story is the number seen in a survey conducted to determine further information on habitat, distribution and composition of the state's moose herd. A census taken by air last winter showed a calculated estimate of nearly 4,000 moose in Minnesota.

The dictionary says Limericks are nonense poems. They sure are. Here are some:

LIMERICKS

An extremely obese had the blues
And complained she could not see her shoes.
After dieting cost
She complained she was lost
When she found she had nothing to lose.

"Do you think," said rich widow McGee,
"If I said I was just fifty-three,
"I could find a young man?"
Said her oldest friend, "Plan
To say ninety and watch your cares flee."

The limerick writer I know
Does his thinking exceedingly slow.
To be aptly inspired
He would have to get fired . . .
Then how would this final line go?

'62 AC Practices Announced by ASCS

13 Practices Are Listed as Eligible For Gov't. Cost-Share

Approved practices for 1962 under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) have been announced by Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service committee. Thirteen practices will be available to county farmers this year to provide part of the cost of establishing conservation practices on their farms.

"The Agricultural Conservation Program is a conservation service that has been available to farmers in Pennington county since 1936," Knutson said. "Under ACP the federal government shares with farmers the cost of applying needed conservation practices on the land. For most practices, farmers pay about half the cost and agree to service and maintain the practices during their normal lifespan."

Complete information on the approved practices may be received at the ASC office. A brief listing of those available for Pennington county is as follows:

Practice A-2-a: New seeding of legumes and grasses, $3 per acre cost share plus four cents per plant food unit of phosphate applied at time of seeding;

Practice A-2-b: Complete reestablishment of legumes and grasses on land that is now in and will remain permanently in use for hay and pasture only, $4 per acre cost share plus four cents per plant food unit for phosphate at time of seeding;

Practice B-1: Improvement of an existing stand of legumes and grasses for hay or pasture only, $2 per acre cost share plus four cents per plant food unit of phosphate applied at time of seeding;

Practice B-7: Constructing pits to make practical the utilization of land for vegetative cover, cost share of 80 per cent of actual cost or $250 (whichever is smaller);

Practice C-2: New seeding of eligible grasses on field border, ditch slopes and other problem areas, $5 per acre cost share for seedbed preparation, seed and seeding plus four cents per plant

Lawyer Group To Poll Opinion On Judge Successor

Special Committee To Meet Here Friday on Referendum Procedure

To organize a poll of the Ninth District Bar association, a committee composed of six attorneys will meet Friday at 2 p.m. in the court chambers of the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls. The poll will provide Governor Elmer L. Andersen with a basis of opinion for appointment of a successor to the late Judge Paul A. Lundgren of Thief River Falls on the district court bench.

At the request of Governor Andersen, H. O. Chommie of Thief River Falls and John A. Spellacy of Marble, selected three attorneys from each of the former 14th and 15th judicial districts. Named from the former 14th district by Chommie were Leonard A. Erickson of Crookston, Bert Hanson of Roseau and C. L. Charlson of Thief River Falls.

At the meeting Friday, the group will draw up procedures to be followed in the poll among attorneys in the district. Result of the secret balloting will be forwarded to the Governor. Endorsement by the bar association will not necessarily mean appointment but it will give the Governor a basis for selection on the opinion other attorneys have of possible candidates.

Commercial Travelers To Hold Meet Saturday

Regular meeting of the United Commercial Travelers will be held Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Odd Fellows hall, according to R. A. Werner, secretary.

RENAMED chairman of the Carnegie Public Library board in Thief River Falls at the annual meeting of the board Monday was Mrs. H. O. Chommie. Gene Belto replaces Raymond Ulferts as vice chairman while Richard Mabey was reelected secretary.

Union State Bank Reelects Staff at Meeting Tuesday

Institution Had Total Deposits of $7,003,388 as of December 31, 1961

All officers and directors of the Union State bank were reelected at its annual meeting Tuesday, and reports were submitted revealing a successful year in 1961, J. J. Womack, president, announced.

Deposits as of December 31 aggregated $7,003,388.93, and Womack predicted that the total will increase further this year, due to the higher interest rate of four per cent now being paid on time certificates. This, in turn, he said, will expand the bank's loaning power, thus enabling it to keep pace with the needs of the community.

Principal officers reelected include E. O. Peterson, chairman of the board; Womack, president; Ken Onken, vice president and cashier; James Winjum, vice president; John McGinley, assistant vice president; N. H. Kortuem and Miss Laura Lund, assistant cashiers; and Robert Flynn, manager of the insurance department.

Directors include Womack, Peterson, Winjum, L. N. Bennes, Wm. LaFave, Harry Oen and Justus Larson. The usual dividend was declared.

8-county Committee Takes Action at Meet In Mahnomen Friday

Further help in securing jail facilities for an eight-county northwestern Minnesota area was requested when representatives of the counties met in committee session Friday in Mahnomen. Pennington, Red Lake and Marshall counties are included in the eight-county group.

A resolution was adopted by the committee asking county boards of commissioners to petition the Legislative Research Committee for study of jail needs in the area. Committee members felt that the problem is beyond the scope of local planning and that additional help will be needed. County commissioner boards will act on the proposed petition at their next regular meetings.

Attending from Thief River Falls were Merle Lindberg, chairman of the jail study committee and member of the Pennington county board of commissioners; Glenn Tasa, county board chairman; Woodrow Almquist and Odin C. Hanson, board members; Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff; and C. W. Rodekuhr, county auditor. State representatives Ben Wichterman of Plummer and Everett Battles of Warroad also attended the meeting.

Chamber Annual Meeting Plans Endorsed Tuesday

Board Approves Orchids For Ladies Attending; 1961 Finances Reviewed

Endorsement of plans for the annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce January 25 was voted Tuesday evening when the executive board of the chamber met in the chamber office. Also approved was the presentation of a free orchid to each lady attending the event—an added attraction to increase the attendance of women at the meeting.

The annual meeting will begin at 6:30 p. m., beginning with a banquet in the basement of St. Bernard's Catholic church. Brief talks on Chamber of Commerce goals and activities will be presented by directors of the local organization, an outstanding citizen award will be presented and the 1961 program of work will be reviewed.

Reviewed for the board Tuesday evening by Gene Belto was the 1961 financial report of the organization. It showed income of approximately $16,500 and expenditures of approximately $15,300 as compared with $15,500 and $18,300 in 1960. Main expenditures were $625 for brochures, $340 for Chamber of Commerce participation in Soo Line railroad train service dispute and $1,100 for the highway billboard program.

The ditches include Sanders-Black River No. 1 and county ditches Nos. 68 and 70.

Soils Specialist to Speak; Supervisor Nominations Asked

Merle Halvorson, soils specialist for the Minnesota agricultural extension service, will be the main speaker at the annual meeting of the Pennington County Soil Conservation district to be held Tuesday, January 16, in the basement meeting room of the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls. Meeting time has been set for 1:15 p. m.

With the term of Harold South, Goodridge, expiring next year, nominations will be received for a new supervisor to serve a five-year term on the board. Earl Peterson, selected by a panel of judges as the 1961 Conservation Farmer in the local district, will be presented with his award.

Activities of the past year will be summarized and a short movie will be shown, according to Robert Kloubec, work unit conservationist for the district. He urges the public to attend and learn what the local soil conservation district is doing. Oscar Houske, chairman of the board of supervisors, will preside at the meeting.

Halvorson will speak on fertilizing forage crops, crop rotations, results of fertilizer trials on the Bernard Wells farm in Pennington county and fertilizer trial results in Polk and Roseau counties.

Originally from Hallock, Halvorson is a graduate of the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston and has been a soils specialist with the extension service since February of 1959. He was a U. S. Participation Urged in Seed and Feed Show

Premiums To Be Paid On All Lots of Seed Shown in 4th Event

Farmers, 4-H'ers, and FFA members will have a chance to exhibit farm crops at the fourth annual Thief River Falls Seed and Feed Show February 2. This is an area show and all farmers from Northwestern Minnesota are invited to participate. Grain exhibits that need cleaning should be prepared now, accoring to Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington County agent.

There will be premiums paid on all lots of seed shown, according to Edgar Naplin, secretary-treasurer of the Pennington County Crop Improvement association, the parent sponsoring group which works with other organizations in putting on the show. Almost every type of seed or feed produced on the farm can be exhibited.

In the cleaned seed division, farmers are urged to bring in two quarts of any variety of oats, flax, barley, wheat, rye or soybeans. One quart of cleaned legume or grass will make an exhibit if cleaned alfalfa, sweet clover, red clover, alsike, timothy, bluegrass or other small seed is shown. In this division the seed does not need to be certified. All farm seed will qualify and varieties of all products shown must be named.

Then there is a division for bin-run samples. Here farmers show one bushel of any grain: oats, barley, wheat or flax. This is grain as it comes out of the bin and it does not need to be certified. Bin-run grass and legume samples are to be two quarts in size.

For certified seed growers there

Teacher From Trinidad Joins Lincoln Faculty

Joyce Ranserran To Teach Spanish, French To Four LHS Classes

by Mary Lundin
City Editor

Temperatures hovered around 80 degrees last week when Joyce Ranserran left Trinidad, West Indies, enroute to Thief River Falls. And when she embarked on her teaching career in the local school system Monday, school was dismissed at 2 p.m. due to cold and strong winds which created near-blizzard conditions.

It was not weather to which Miss Ranserran was unaccustomed, however, since she spent three winters in Minnesota while attending Mankato State College. She replaces Miss Karen Hall as teacher of Spanish and French in Lincoln high school and has two classes in first year Spanish, one in second year Spanish and one in French.

253,780,900 Gal. Water Used in City During 1961

Decrease from 1960 Noted in Spite of Dought Conditions

Residents of Thief River Falls used a total of 253,780,900 gallons of water in 1961, according to pumpage report summaries submited to the Times by Harold M. Johnson, superintendent of the city water department. In spite of the dry conditions during the summer, pumpage reports showed that 16,835,300 fewer gallons of water were pumped in 1961 than in 1960. It was the third successive year of decreased water use.

Johnson attributed part of the decreased use to the earliness of the drought since many residents gave up watering lawns and gardens which were badly parched by early summer. The theory is supported by the fact that peak pumpage was reached on Sunday, June 13, when 1,665,100 gallons were pumped to set a new record for the city. June was also the highest pumpage month in the year with 30,303,300 gallons—more than a million gallons of water per day. November was the lowest month in 1961 records with only 15,575,900 gallons pumped and Thursday, November 23, was the lowest day of the year with 380,000 gallons.

Peak pumpage for any one year in the past decade was 279,669,100 gallons in 1958 after records had been set each year since 1952. During the past 10 years a total of 2,462,975,300 gallons of water has been pumped by the local water plant, with a net gain for the 10-year period of 72,304,600 gallons.

A year by year comparison including increase or decrease from the previous year is as follows:

Year	Total Pumpage	Increase or (Loss) from Previous Year
1952	181,470,100
1953	185,020,500	3,544,400
1954	230,667,300	45,646,800
1955	254,141,700	23,474,200
1956	256,998,400	2,856,700
1957	275,712,400	18,714,000
1958	279,669,100	3,956,700
1959	275,342,900	(4,326,200)
1960	270,166,200	(5,176,700)
1961	253,780,900	(16,385,300)

Total Pumpage — 2,462,975,300 gal.
Total Gain (10 years) — 98,193,800 gal.
Total Loss (10 years) — 25,888,200 gal.
Net Gain (10 years) — 72,304,600 gal.

NW Bell Announces New Region Directory

Plans for a new regional telephone directory, which will combine listings for Baudette, Crookston, Roseau, Thief River Falls and Warroad in one book, were announced today by Northwestern Bell Telephone company. Delivery of the new directory is scheduled for October 1962.

According to James Koller, manager of the Thief River Falls office, each town will have its own separate white page section, with telephone listings appearing alphabetically. The towns will follow one another in alphabetical order in the directory and will be listed alphabetically on the front cover.

There will be one common Yellow Page section for all towns in the directory with all business firms to be listed under their proper classified headings. To make it easy to identify the location of the firm, each business listing will show the town name along with the local address and telephone number.

In appearance, the new regional directory will be the same size as the present directory, 6 inches by 9 inches, with two columns. The cover will feature an attractive design printed on white stock.

Koller stated that the main reason for the combined directory is to offer telephone users an improved number information service over a wider geographical area. The volume of calls to nearby towns placed by number is increasing, he said, and in other places where the regional directory has been tried, it has been well received by the public.

School Board Meeting Postponed To Tonight

Due to adverse weather conditions, the regular meeting of the Thief River Falls school board was postponed from Monday evening until tonight, according to M. R. Handerson, superintendent of schools.

Farm Home Razed While Family On California Trip

Selmer Bornholdt Home On Andrew Skaar Farm Destroyed Early Sunday

While the family of Mr. and Mrs. Selmer Bornholdt was enroute to California to seek employment over the winter months, fire swept through the house they rented on the Andrew Skaar farm five miles W. and two miles north of Thief River Falls, causing a complete loss to the house and personal possessions. Total damage was estimated between $12,000 and $13,000. The blaze occurred early Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bornholdt, sons Wayne 9 and Danny 5, left last Wednesday for California. All of their home furnishings were left in the home and they took only the clothing and personal items they believed they would need for the winter. The fire was attributed to a space heater which had been left burning in the home since electricity had been disconnected at the yard pole.

The house was outside the Thief River Falls fire area and the fire was too far advanced for control when noticed. No call was answered by the local fire department. Existing wind conditions carried sparks away from other buildings, according to Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff, who inspected the fire scene. It is reported that at least part of the total loss was covered by insurance.

Friends of the Bornholdt family told the Times that the Bornholdt's will continue their original plans to spend the winter on the West Coast, returning to Thief River Falls in the spring.

Patricia Dill-Phillip R. Pedersen Say Vows Dec. 30

A double ring ceremony in the Community Methodist church in this city united in marriage Miss Patricia Kay Dill and Philip R. Pederson of Rake, Iowa. Rev. Henry Friedman officiated at the 8 p. m. ceremony, Saturday, December 30.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Dill of Holt and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Pederson of Starbuck, Minn.

Baskets of red and white flowers and white candles graced the altar as the organist, Mrs. Sherman Idso, played the traditional nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was gowned in a floor length gown with bouffant skirt falling into a short train in back. The bodice was of white net with appliques of lace and sequins over satin, with high neckline and long sleeves coming to a point over the wrists. Appliqued lace lined the front panels. Her waist length veil was caught on a crown of pearls and sequins and she carried a bridal bouquet of red and white roses and holly leaves.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Daniel Helle of this city with Miss Evonne Arneson of Hawley as bridesmaid. Both wore red velveteen sheath dresses with matching accessories and carried bouquets of white roses, red berries and holly leaves.

Svendsgaard Outlines Switzerland Visit for Rotary Club Monday

Bill Svendsgaard, International Farm Youth Exchange student to Switzerland, showed slides and discussed his trip Monday at the noon meeting of the Thief River Falls Rotary club in the Elks club rooms. M. C. Gulbranson, program chairman for the month, introduced Svendsgaard.

The Goodridge farm youth stated that Switzerland impressed him as a country of beauty although six countries of the same size could be placed in the state of Minnesota. The average farm there is 14 acres in size with dairying being the major industry.

His slides depicted some of the Alpine beauty of the country as well as customs of the people. Farming the steep hillsides is a difficult task with haying and raising of crops being predominantly a matter of hard work. He stayed with six families during his summer there, these being of German, French and Italian nationalities.

One slide depicted a load of cheese "tires" being brought to market in the city, each of which weighed about 160 pounds. Asked about the type of fresh meat consumed by the Swiss, Svendsgaard answered that the only fresh meat that he had eaten in Switzerland was cat. One of the families with which he stayed had about 60 cats which they kept in pens—apparently for that reason.

Abundance of cheap electricity but lack of vehicle traffic in mountainous areas resulted in street lights being located along the roads throughout the country. Social activity is built around the individual family. With one family, however, he went to a folk dance right after supper, walking about an hour to get there, got home at 5 a. m. to milk the cows, slept until noon and then went mountain climbing the next day.

About 70 per cent of the Swiss youth are learning to speak English in the schools, he said, and the cities are becoming quite modern due to tourist influence. After hundreds of years of tradition, it has become difficult for the older generation to accept change. They lament the fact that a clothing chain now has a ready-to-wear store on the corner where there was formerly a shop to purchase homespun materials.

Before returning to the United States, Svendsgaard also visited Italy, Austria, Germany, Holland, Belgium and France. "When you talk of Switzerland, you speak of distinct nationality differences," he said. "It is difficult to tell of anything which is typically 'Swiss' because each nationality has its own peculiar culture."

Sixty countries participated in the IFYE program this year, he added. Four farm youths from the United States visited in Switzerland.

CCC Loan Program Has $2,350,836 In 2,459,970 Bu. Grain

Summary of activities for the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office shows a large volume of money handled in a variety of programs during 1961, according to Edward A. Johnson, chairman of the county ASCS committee. Largest of these was the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program.

"Local administration of the agricultural program involves applications for participation, maintenance of records related to participating farms, execution of loan agreements and paying loans, determination of individual farm allotments, measuring crop acreages, inspecting grain and storage structures and many other matters," chairman Johnson said.

Original allocation for 1961 ACP program in Marshall countyty was $164,000 but was increased to $259,000 due to the large sign-up. Of this amount, $181,638 has already been paid out to farmers in cost-sharing with a total of 1,140 farmers registered in the program. Thirteen practices were offered.

The commodity loan program showed the county to have $2,350,836 and 2,459,970 bushels of grain under CCC loan, covering the present reseal program and extensions under the reseal program. The 1961 loan program covered $393,461 and 376,765 bushels of grain as compared with $1,044,740 and 907,798 bushels in 1960. The 1961 decrease amounted to $651,278 and 431,033 bushels.

Farm-stored loans in 1961 included the following: wheat, $196,607 and 103,961 bushels; barley, $103,578 and 115,063 bushels; oats, $78,732 and 151,448 bushels; flax, $5,861 and 2,144 bushels; and rye, $848 and 875 bushels. Four binsites in the county have a total capacity of 997,590 bushels with approximately 505,044 bushels of barley stored at the present time.

Although the approved wheat base acreage for 1961 was 144,420 acres, the reduction made in the wheat acreage allotment reduced the figure to 96,632 on 1,908 farms. A total of 2,021 farms seeded wheat, more than 100 not having allotments and planting less than 15 acres, but due to the fact that some allotment farms measure wheat farms, 1961 feed Thirty-one reporters were used to serve, the entire wheat acreage were under total conservation re-seeded was only 92,327 acres. grain farms and conservation reserve farms.

Under the 1962 wheat stabilization program, the county has 2,160 wheat farms which will be able to participate. To date 422 applications have been filed involving 23,958 preliminary allotment acres. Amount of advance payments computed for the applications filed thus far is $87,112.

Under the wool program, for 1961, a total of 820 applications were filed with payments made on 767 applications for a total of $43,426 for unshorn lambs and shorn wool.

In 1961 a total of 1,049 farms were in the conservation reserve and included 713 total farm units. Total reserve was 142,888 acres with $1,408,559 expended in annual payments and $2,126 in practice payments. On conservation reserve land, due to the drought, 47,255 acres of hay were harvested on the first cutting and 3,642 acres on the second cutting. A total of 6,518 acres of conservation reserve land was used for grazing.

food unit of phosphate applied at seeding

Practice C-9: Constructng open drainage systems, cost share of seven cents per cubic yard of earth removed;

Practice D-1: Establish vegetative cover on summer-fallowed land as protection against wind erosion, cost share of 50 cents per acre for oats or $1 per ace for barley or rye;

Practice D-3: Establishment of a vegetative cover of eligible legumes for green manure, cannot be plowed under during the year of seeding, cost share of $1 per acre;

Practice E-1: Stubble-mulching to protect soil from wind erosion, cost share of 50 cents per acre;

Practice G-1-a: Establishment of vegetative cover providing wildlife food, cost share of $5 per acre for corn and sorghums and $4 per acre for all other annuals;

Practice G-1-b: Establishment of perennial or biennial grasses and/or legumes, cost share of $5 per acre;

Practice G-1-c: Establishment of trees or shrubs for wildlife cover and food, cost share of $2.50 per 100 trees or shrubs planted by hand or $1.75 per 100 trees planted by machine;

Practice G-2: Development or restoration of shallow water areas for wildlife, cost share 50 per cent excluding the establishment of cover and fencing but not to exceed $2,000 per structure.

"Farms on which conservation problems still exist are those on which the ACP is most needed," Knutson concluded. "Those are the farms where ACP can help the owners to help themselves and their communities and countries." He encourage all persons in the county to demonstrate their interest in the ACP program when visiting with farmer friends and acquaintances.

Trinidad Teacher Joins Faculty At Lincoln High

Attending three full years of school at Mankato, including summer sessions, Miss Ranserran graduated in December with majors in Spanish, French and mathematics. Originally interested in going into foreign service, she liked practice teaching and plans to continue in the education field in the United States.

Her liking for "children," as she refers to her students, is quite natural. She has five brothers and five sisters. One sister plans to go to college in the United States and a brother will attend either Oxford or Cambridge University in England later this year.

After attending elementary and high school in Trinidad, an island off the coast of South America, a friend of her parents encouraged her to attend Mankato State college. After working for two years after high school graduation, she came to the United States. Her trip home following college graduation was the first time she had returned since coming to this country.

Fluent in the English language, which she studied five years while in high school in Trinidad, Miss Ranserran also speaks excellent French and Spanish. Both languages are used extensively in her native country, although her family speaks Hindi—an India dialect. Schools in Trinidad operate on a system of seven years elementary and five years high school education.

In the tropical climes of Trinidad, Miss Ranserran's father owns a 450-acre plantation where he raises citrus fruits and vegetables. Crops are grown continually with occasional irrigation needed during the dry periods of the year. The average plantation in the country is about 200 acres in size, "but my father needs the extra 250 acres," Miss Ranserran quipped, referring to the large family.

During her study at Mankato, the new teacher was secretary and publicity chairman of the Spanish club, vice president of the French club, a member of the Cosmopolitan club and served on the college library staff. She hopes to start a Spanish club among members of her high school Spanish classes. "This teaches the children more about the customs, dress and culture of the countries than simple vocabulary permits in the classroom," she said.

Trinidad, a British Colony, has its own government but the key government positions are held by British authorities rather than elected by the people. "We would like to be a free nation but many in the country fear freedom. With Communist influence in other nearby countries, our country is not yet ready for independence. My personal opinion is that we are ready for freedom from the standpoint of money and education, but we are too small to face alone the strong influence of Communism which has gained control in other nearby nations."

Miss Ranserran has been given a cold reception by the weatherman this week. How would you explain a Minnesota blizzard to your parents if they had never experienced temperatures below 60 degrees?

"I nearly froze to death during the first winter I was in Minnesota," she said. "I would wear five sweaters and still be cold. Now the cold doesn't seem so bad." She is staying at the Bernice Troumbly residence at 110 Arnold av. N.

executive secretary and treasurer. Roland Larson, executive secretary, was authorized to attend the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce Executives convention February 8 and 9 in Minneapolis where he will appear on the program to discuss "Operation Blitz". This was a concentrated series of meetings encompassing all chamber committees in one day this fall.

Announced as Chamber of Commerce representatives on the reorganizational committee of the Pennington county fair were Stuart McLeod, Leonard Furuseth and Clarence Carlson. The board also endorsed the nomination of Homer W. Ludwick of Fargo as director of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Also approved by the board Tuesday was the purchase of 12 folding chairs to replace the chairs currently in use in the chamber meeting room. Carl Lee reported that progress was being made on community planning in which the chamber is participating.

J. B. Holter, 1962 chamber president, stated he would attend the annual meeting of the Fargo Chamber of Commerce January 28 as a representative of the local group. Larson will attend the Fargo Chamber of Commerce January 26 as a representative of the local group. Larson will attend the Crookston chamber annual meeting January 18.

Participation Is Urged for Fourth Seed & Feed Show

is a special division where certified seed can be shown. Grain exhibits must be of bushel-size and legume and grass exhibits of two-quart size. All exhibits in this class must have the certification or registration tags with them.

In the forage division, farmers, 4-H, and FFA members are asked to bring in hay and silage exhibits. Hay to be shown can be a pure legume such as alfalfa or red clover; a pure grass such as timothy or brome; or it can be a mixed hay with legumes and grasses in it.

Silage can be corn, oat-peas, legume, grass or mixed silage. Ten ears of corn or 20 potatoes will make up an exhibit and varieties of all crops shown must be attached to the exhibit.

The livestock emphasized this year along with seed and feed is dairying. The dairy farmers and dairy industry people are co-operating in planning the dairy part of the program. More on the details will be printed in the Times soon.

Cooperating with the county seed growers are seed-feed-fertilizer dealers, banks, Pennington county and the TRF Chamber of Commerce. An FFA and 4-H grain clinic is being set up by Peter Probasco, vocational agricultural instructor at Lincoln high school. Details will be released soon.

All farmers are urged to bring in exhibits to the Seed and Feed Show, Friday, February 2.

INCOME TAX ADVICE

By Minnesota State Bar Assn.

Filing Declarations of Estimated Taxes

(This is the third in a series of articles on income taxes made available as a public service by the Minnesota State Bar Association, Public Relations Committee.)

The declaration of estimated Federal tax is overlooked by many taxpayers who regularly file Federal returns. The purpose of this declaration is to put you on a pay-as-you-go basis as income is earned, where either the income you earn is not subject to withholding or the withholding taxes are less than the net tax which you will have to pay upon filing your return. Failure to file this declaration may result in a penalty of 6 percent interest on the underpayment of installments which you should have paid. It is to your advantage to file the declaration and to pay your taxes on an installment basis so that you will not have a large amount of tax due at the time you file your Federal return. In addition, the filing of a declaration of estimated Federal tax can protect you from incurring substantial interest charges where your income for the coming year results in a tax substantially larger than your tax for the previous year.

Generally, declaration of estimated 1962 Federal tax must be filed if you expect your estimated 1962 Federal tax to exceed Federal income taxes withheld during 1962 by $40 or more, and if either (a) your 1962 Federal gross income is expected to include more than $200 from sources other than wages from which Federal income taxes will be withheld, or (b) you are single and expect to earn more than $5,000 in 1962, or you are married and expect to have combined gross income of more than $10,000 in 1962.

If you are within the class of taxpayers required to file a declaration of estimated 1962 Federal tax, your declaration is due on or before April 15, 1962, on Form 1040ES. With the declaration, you must pay your first quarterly installment of estimated tax. Similar quarterly payments are due on June 15, 1962, September 15, 1962, and on January 15, 1963. By filing your declaration and estimating your Federal income tax to be the same or greater than the tax which you paid for 1961, you will avoid all liability for interest penalties which might otherwise be assessable. If, however, you attempt to estimate the exact amount of your tax for 1962 and make an incorrect estimate, you should file a declaration or an amended declaration on or before the date on which the next quarterly payment of estimated tax is due and pay your amended estimated taxes under the remaining installment periods.

Under the new Minnesota law, as pointed out in the first article in this series, a declaration of estimated 1962 Minnesota income tax must be filed if you expect your estimated 1962 Minnesota tax to exceed Minnesota income taxes withheld during 1962 by $20 or more, and if (a) your 1962 Minnesota gross income is expected to include more than $200 from sources other than wages from which Minnesota income taxes will be withheld, and (b) you are required to file a 1962 Minnesota return. If you are required to file a declaration of your estimated 1962 Minnesota tax, your declaration is due on or before April 15, 1962, on Form M-14, together with your payment of the first quarterly installment of estimated tax. Similar quarterly payments are due on the same dates on which quarterly installments of Federal estimated tax must be made.

Individuals who receive at least two-thirds of their gross income from farming may elect to wait until January 15, 1963, to file their declarations of estimated 1962 Federal and Minnesota taxes. If this election is made, the entire amount of the estimated Federal and Minnesota taxes will be due at that time. On the other hand, if a farmer prefers, he may file his final 1962 Federal and Minnesota returns on or before February 15, 1963, and pay his entire tax due at that time, rather than file a declaration of estimated 1962 Federal and Minnesota taxes on or before January 15, 1963.

4 from County at Leaders Institute Held Wednesday

Annual 4-H Informational Session Held at NW School; Local Council Meets Monday

"Planning to Meet the Needs of Youth" was the theme of the 1962 4-H Leaders' Institute held Wednesday at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston. Six of the institutes are being held throughout the state on an area basis with Pennington and Marshall counties attending the Crookston sessions.

Delegates from the Pennington county 4-H leader's council were Mrs. Eddie Anderson, Steiner; Mrs. Maurice Newton and Mrs. James Lee, Smiley; and Mrs. Vernon Wold, Sanders 4-H club. They will report on the institute at the county leader's council meeting to be held Monday, January 15, at 8 p. m. in the meeting room of the Pennington county courthouse.

Marshall county delegates included Mrs. Orval Wittman, McCrea; Mrs. Harvey Stokke, East Folden; Einar Strandquist, Riverside; and Earl Swanson, Comstock; as well as Harlem Sandberg, Marshall county 4-H club agent. They will present the materials to approximately 100 other 4-H leaders in Marshall county on Saturday, January 13, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. in the Newfolden school gymnasium.

Mrs. Delphi Dirks, Stanley Meinen and Osgood Magnuson, assistant 4-H club leaders, conducted the Crookston meeting. The institutes are held each year to help leaders do more effective work with their local club members.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simenson and sons of Duluth left Monday after a week's visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gulrud.

Area Hit by Storm Which Covers Nation

High Winds Create Drifting and Cause Many School Closings

Above-zero temperature readings at various points over the three-state area this morning came as a welcome relief to everyone, after several days of sub-zero temperatures and high winds which made life miserable for all living creatures in our area.

The relative heat wave is expected to last a day or so but skies will probably remain cloudy during the period.

It may be some small comfort to residents of our area to know that we weren't alone in our misery—44 of the 50 states were affected by the bad weather, which has been blamed for 114 deaths during the last two storms. Temperatures dropped into the teens along the Gulf Coast and Natchez, Miss. had three inches of snow.

Denver, Colo., reeled under nearly a foot of new snow and heavy snow also plagued Atlanta, Ga. Schools were closed in several Georgia cities to conserve the available supply of fuel oil for homes. (They don't keep as much of the stuff on hand in those parts, you know!). Needless to say, many schools were closed in our own area as well, but have since reopened.

Several points in Montana and Wyoming reported temperatures well below —50. A U. S. forest ranger in West Yellowstone reported he got his Jeep started yesterday morning but couldn't go anywhere—the grease in the transmission and differential was frozen stiff.

Temperatures here during the protracted cold spell were not overly cold but the cold was intensified by strong winds as high as 38 mph here. The whole cold system was caused by a massive high cell which moved down from central Canada and reached all the way to the Gulf through the continent's mid-section.

A day-to-day temperature check shows Monday's high was 0, the low -11, with 2.1 inches of new snow: Tuesday, high -10, low -15 and Wednesday, -3 and -22. The low last night, recorded at the airport at 6 p. m. Wednesday was -3 but a warming trend has been pushing the mercury upwards and it stood at 19 above at 10 a. m.

The forecast is for considerable cloudiness through Friday with occasional light snow. It will be warmer today and tonight, with little temperature change Friday. Highs will be 15-30 and lows 12-25. ALL ABOVE ZERO.

Times weather watchers interested in wind chill temperatures are advised to clip the wind chill chart inserted in today's Times by a public-spirited advertiser. The chart shows just how cold you feel with a given temperature and wind velocity, regardless of the actual mercury reading.

Rep. Wichterman Attacks Langen's Criticism of JFK

Ben Wichterman, DFL state treasurer and state representative from the 65th district, charged this week that Odin Langen, the incumbent Republican congressman, was "seriously distorting the facts in his attacks on President Kennedy and his administration."

Wichterman told the Red Lake county DFL executive committee Monday that Langen's recent suggestion that President Kennedy is proposing an extravagant fiscal budget is simply not true.

Wichterman said, "No matter how urgent the need, the Republican party screams about money used for better schools, for agricultural needs, for medical care and research, or for defense. What they refuse to admit is that these expenditures actually are wise investments to develop our greatest resource—the American people."

Wichterman concluded, "The Kennedy administration has brought new vitality and new hope to America and particularly to this district. To try to undermine public confidence with irresponsible charges will not benefit the Republican party, our district, or our nation.

Arnt Aune Tells of Vocational School at Lions Meeting

Tells of Advantages of Institution Both to Students and Community

Arnt Aune, director of the TRF area vocational school, was the guest speaker at the Lions club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon. Introduced by Ralph A. Luhman, program chairman, he discussed the benefits of the institution both to the students and to this community.

Aune stated that there are now 13 such schools in the state, including new ones established last year at Alexandria, Wadena and Staples. Established in 1948, the school here has an enrollment of 215, in addition to 60 in the farm management courses.

Of the students enrolled, said Aune, 160 are non-resident high school graduates, 24 are Lincoln high graduates, five are drop-outs and 26 are adults.

He called attention to the fact that the vocational school is very close to being self-supporting, so far as local taxes are concerned. He also pointed out that the 160 out-of-town students pay more than $2,000 a month for rooms, in addition to about $2 a day apiece for meals.

Don M. Olson announced that the annual dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday evening, January 25 at St. Bernard's church, and he urged Lions to bring their ladies to the event.

Envoy Carl Paulson of the Salvation Army thanked club members for the aid they gave to the Army's annual Christmas cheer fund solicitation.

Legion Auxiliary Has Program on Civil Defense

Points of preparedness for family survival were outlined by Ted Kusmak as he discussed Civil Defense Monday evening at the monthly meeting of the Thief River Falls American Legion auxiliary. The session was held in the Legion club rooms.

Kusmak discussed the value of community fallout shelters, for which a survey is now being conducted in the county, and noted items that should be kept in home basements to permit families to live while fallout danger subsides. Films were shown on Civil Defense and work of the National Foundation, sponsor to the March of Dimes.

Members of the auxiliary voted to participate in the Mothers March on Polio which will be held later this month and to contribute $5 to the Valentine party which is held annually at the veteran's administration hospital in Fargo. Reports were also given on holiday activites and discussion was held concerning the American Legion Hospital association.

New Activities Group To Elect Officers Jan. 18

Experimental Aircraft Association Here Has 12 Charter Members

"Put the fun back into flying" will be the aim of the Thief River Falls area's brand-new aviation organization as it holds its first official meeting at the local airport Thursday, January 18. Meeting time is 8 p. m. Election of officers will be held.

The 12 charter members of the new group became members of a relatively new aviation organization, the Experimental Aircraft Assn., which has become known all over the free world, although it was founded only in 1953 in Milwaukee, Wis. EAA is a non-profit aviation education organization which lists its purposes as follows:

(a) To encourage the development of any type of aircraft by individuals through experimentation and home engineering;

(b) To foster closer fellowship through the exchange of ideas of mutual interest and to be fraternal in character;

(c) To aid in reducing the cost of home-built aircraft and aviation experimentation through cooperative buying;

(d) To provide our air arms with personnel having aviation incentive, by encouraging youths to participate in aviation projects (such as model building, flying, gliding and aircraft construction projects.)

Three North Dakota airmen are among the 12 charter members of the local group, which will be a chapter of the national organization. They are Loyd Wright, Michigan; Harold Larsen, from near Lisbon; and Rudy Johnson, Grafton. Larson is a student here. From other Minnesota cities are LeVern LaDoux, Crookston; Kenneth Halliday, Fosston; and Tom Gunderson, Twin Valley.

Members from the TRF area are Dr. J. O. Disse, V. M. Draper, James Krohn, Howard Lube, Mike Solsten, a junior member, and Dale Stark. Other area aviation enthusiasts are expected to swell the number of the chapter at a later date. Junior members enjoy membership privileges at greatly reduced dues, to encourage more youths under 18 to join.

Next Thursday's meeting will feature film from the EAA national film library, and election of officers. Other organizational matters will also be discussed and refreshments will be served. In the event of inclement weather the meeting will be held the following night. Everyone interested in aviation is invited.

It is not at all unusual for EAA members to travel great distances to attend chapter meetings, such as the one member the TRF chapter has from so far out in North Dakota. One of the several EAA regional advisors has over 3,000 miles of ocean between him and the headquarters chapter in Milwaukee.

An outstanding booster of private aviation and prolific writer for Sport Aviation magazine, this individual is Arthur W. Ord-Hume, whose home is on the Isle of Wight, off England's southern coast. He is an expert aircraft woodworker.

Former TRF Man Is Retiring from Harvester Firm

Fred Bjornson, Minot district manager since 1958 of International Harvester, plans to retire on May 1 after 35 years of service with the company.

Bjornson began his career with International at Grand Forks in 1927 as a salesman. He went to Thief River Falls in 1934 and served the concern in several places before coming to Minot as assistant until 1954 when he was named district manager at Aberdeen, S. D., where he remained until transferred back to Minot in 1958.

Lincoln Debaters Enter Tourney at UND Saturday

Defending Region Champs Prepare for Defense at Regional February 3

Under the coaching of John Johnson, the Lincoln high school A and B debate teams will travel to the University of North Dakota Saturday to compete with approximately 30 schools in a debate tournament there. It will give local debaters an opportunity to face some of the schools they may later meet in Region 8 competition.

Prior to the Christmas holidays, the defending Region 8 champions participated in a two-day tournament at the University of Minnesota which had 50 teams entered. With Kathy Hartje and Linda Thorkelson debating the affirmative and Thomas Lynskey and Gail Stromsmoe the negative, the local team won five and lost five in the event.

Prior to the Region 8 event on February 3, the Lincoln debaters will travel to a tournament at St. Cloud State college on January 19 and 20 and to another meet at Alexander Ramsey high school in Minneapolis on January 27.

Members of the A team at Saturday's NDU debate will be Kathy Hartje and Linda Thorkelson on affirmitive and Thomas Lynskey and Mary Dryden on negative. Members of the B team include Rolf Wangberg and Kathy Wold on affirmitive and Gail Stromsmoe and Arlene Ekdahl on negative. The debate question this year regards federal aid for public school facilities.

Former TRF Man Wins Christmas Lighting Event

First place in the Christmas lighting contest for homes under $17,000, sponsored by the Minneapolis Jaycees, was captured by the Bernard Swanson family of 4152 S. 44th Ave. and formerly of Thief River Falls. Bernard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Euno Swanson of this city.

Depicted in a five-column color picture in the Dec. 28 issue of the Minneapolis Star, the Christmas scene featured life-size plywood cutouts which were made by the Swanson's son Joel. All cutouts were painted, draped with felt and gold braid for added realism and the sheep figures were covered with woolskin.

Weather Is Theme of January Safety Program in State

Highway Department Asks Drivers to Use Extra Care During Stormy Weather

The official Minnesota traffic accident prevention program, "Blueprint for Safety," will emphasize hazards of bad weather driving during the month of January, according to the Minnesota highway department.

Aimed at combating seasonal and weather driving hazards, the program attempts to coordinate state-wide promotional traffic safety activities in a theme outlined by the "Blueprint for Safety." Each month a different safety theme is stressed.

Business and industry, and communities and schools are urged to support the safety program and assist in making everyone aware of the need for safer driving and walking. Each motorist and each pedestrian must assume the responsibility of staying alert and "watching out for a brother" to avoid letting bad weather of the season contribute toward needless slaughter upon streets and highways.

Snow, sleet, rain and fog of the season lowers visibility and reduces traction. Variable temperatures play havoc with road conditions and restrict the maneuverability of motor vehicles. Under such adverse traffic conditions, it is important that both motorists and pedestrians "keep eyes open and wits clear" and give full attention to the job of driving or walking in traffic.

Local Elementary School May Get Encyclopedia Set

145-Volume Braille Set May Be Presented for Visually Handicapped Use

As a result of action taken by administrators and P.T.A. officers at Washington elementary school in this city, the school is being considered to receive a 145-volume set of braille encyclopedias, according to word received here recently.

The encyclopedia set, which is printed by the American Printing House for the Blind, sells for a non-profit cost of $645. These sets are presented to Minnesota schools and institutions which have specialized instruction for the blind. Schools in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Faribault received sets last year.

Letters requesting consideration of the Thief River Falls school were sent last October to Russell Hanson, state manager for field enterprises of World Book encyclopedia, by John Eisbrener, Washington school principal; George Stockman, director of elementary education; Mrs. Martha Nubson, instructor in the visually handicapped program; James Cuppett, president of the Washington PTA; and Mrs. William Holmes, area manager for field enterprises of the encyclopedia company.

World Book is the first general encyclopedia to be transcribed for the blind and Mrs. Holmes received information this week that Washington school is being considered to receive one of the sets. Each representative and manager of the company donates a portion of normal commission on each set sold during the month of January to aid in the braille encyclopedia presentation project.

Here's How To Read Your Wind Chill Chart:

If the temperature, for example, is 20 below and the wind velocity is 25 mph, find 20 below on the top line, locate 25 under the wind velocity column at left. Go to the right from 25 to where it intersects the 20 below column. In this case the number is 65 below. This means that with a temperature of 20 below and a wind speed of 25 mph the wind chill is the same as when the temperature is 65 below and the wind speed is 5 mph.

TEMPERATURE AND WIND VELOCITY DETERMINE HOW COLD YOU ACTUALLY FEEL!

Disease Traced To Tropical Nut

"Don't eat the cycad until you're grown up." Guam parents admonish their children. And not even then, University of Wisconsin biochemists would add. These researchers are trying to establish a link between the big starchy nut that grows wild in the jungle and the fatal disease ALS (amyotrophic lateral sclerosis). ALS, which struck down famous Yankee baseball player Lou Gehrig, is contracted by 50,000 Americans each year. On Guam the percentage is 100 times as high. Even animals that browse on leaves of the cycad tree develop a disease similar to ALS, the scientists have found. They hope that if cycad poisons are found to cause the malady, similar chemicals may be occuring in the American diet, and preventive steps taken.

The white cliffs of Dover, England's landmark, are made up of millions of bodies of foraminifera, tiny sea organisms that died millions of years ago. . . Electronic heat is used to bond plywood, make laminates and perform many other tasks in industry. The materials are placed between electrodes, as bread is placed between grids of a toaster. But from that point on the process is quite different. Instead of first "toasting" the outside, Thermex dielectric heating units made in Louisville distribute heat to all parts of the material at the same time. This does the work faster and eliminates the possibility of scorching the surface before sufficient heat has reached the center of the material.

Science Portrait: Archimedes (287-212 B. C.) was the greatest scientist of the ancient world. This intellectual giant lived in Syracuse, Greece. Though best known for his war devices (grappling hooks, catapults), he was primarily a mathematician. He discovered the principle of buoyancy and thoroughly examined the geometry of the circle. His discovery of the lever as a way to multiply man's strength led to his famous boast: "Give me a place to stand and I will move the earth."

Displayed at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry, the kitchen has cabinets, freezer, refrigerator and so on. Warroad Hockey Six Edges Prowlers 3-2

The hardy fans who braved the below-zero weather to be in the Arena rink on Monday night were treated to the finest high school hockey game of the season. Coach Gordon Genz' Warroad Warriors, on a goal by wing Fred Meeger at the 1:07 mark of the "sudden death" overtime period, defeated the Prowlers, 3-2.

On Saturday night, coach Oscar Almquist and his defending state champion Roseau Rams will invade the Arena rink for a Region Eight conference game against the Prowlers. And on Monday night, Jan. 15, also on the Arena ice, coach Kenny Wellen and the Hallock Bears will play the locals in a conference tilt.

After a 1-1 first period, with Gary Hokanson scoring for Warroad, and Jerome (Tony) Poole had marked up a tally for the Prowlers, the two squads moved through a scoreless second period, and entered the final twelve minutes of play in a deadlock.

Wayne Loeffler, getting a pass from center Larry Poole, banged a shot past goalie Dennis Foster and into the north net at the 4:26 mark. That Prowler lead was short-lived as a couple of minutes later, Hokanson and right-wing Dick Ganyo took advantage of a two-on-one break to come in on goalie John Hellquist, and Ganyo, from the goal-mouth, punched in the tying goal. Hellquist, a sophomore, was playing in the nets for the Prowlers in the absence of Tom Teal, who was ill.

In the overtime period, Meeker, from just inside the Prowler blue line, intercepted a clearing pass, and on an on-the-ice shot, from twenty-feet out and which was partially screened, slid across the goal-line to give the Warriors their 3-2 win.

The summary:

Marzitelli Quits Post with State Highway Dept.

Deputy Highway Commissioner Frank D. Marzitelli has resigned his post with the Minnesota highway department to head up the St. Paul Port Authority as executive vice president. He took over his new position January 2.

In a letter to Commissioner J. C. Marshall, he explained his work with the Port Authority as "another opportunity to be close to and a part of the growth of his home city. Like the highway department, it is another situation of new challenge with a new personal appeal." He predicted that in the years to come the Port Authority will play a leading role in the industrial development of St. Paul.

Marzitelli is a product of St. Paul, born here 47 years ago and educated in the city's elementary and high schools followed by extension courses at the University of Minnesota. He is married and has seven children.

Roseau Will Host Meeting on Grass Seed Production

U of M Research Experts To Cover All Phases of Situation Friday, Jan. 26

Latest research concerning legume and grass seed production will be reported on by a team of research scientists from the University of Minnesota at an all-day public meeting to be held Friday, January 2, beginning at 9:15 a.m. in the Roseau municipal auditorium. Arrangements are being made by William Provance, Roseau county agricultural agent.

Dr. R. D. Wilcoxson of the department of plant pathology will report on grass and legume disease research that has been conducted during the past two years. Dr. H. L. Thomas will present information regarding work in bluegrass breeding. Thirty-eight strains of bluegrass will be increased in Roseau county for research purposes next season.

Dr. F. G. Holdaway of the department of entomology will discuss "Insect Problems in Bluegrass." Wayne Carlson, assistant Roseau county agricultural agent presently doing graduate work at the University of Minnesota, will report on results of research in various fertilizer treatments and practices on grasses.

Following the noon lunch hour, Dr. P. M. Burson of the soils department and former extension soil specialist, will report on the results of soil fertility studies with legumes. "Red Clover Seed Studies and Recommendations" will be the topic for Dr. L. J. Elling, agronomist, and Dr. A. G. Peterson, entomologist.

"The Future of Legume and Grass Seed Production in Minnesota" will be outlined on the concluding event of the program by Mervin Syverson, deputy commissioner of agriculture and former staff member of the Minnesota Crop Improvement association.

"The production of specialty crops has long been of economic importance to northern Minnesota's agriculture," Province stated. "Production practices and varieties may change, but the industry remains important. I urge the attendance of all producers at this important meeting."

ONE WAY to cure a headache is to remove the head, and that is apparently what Eddie Kovar of the Northwest Aggies is attempting to do to Mike Magnuson of the Prowlers in this photo taken at last night's meet in the Lincoln high school gymnasium. Magnuson survived this phase of the conflict, however, and went on to score a 5-4 decision in the 138-pound match.

The Greatest?

It is hazardous to label any athlete, and particularly a high school athlete, as the "greatest ever", but that is the ice hockey appellation that is being given to Keith Christiansen, the center-ice player on coach Larry Ross' unbeaten International Falls Bronkos.

Qualified hockey authorities who have witnessed Christiansen in action (and he was on view here last Friday on KNOX-TV as the Falls' team edged Grand Forks Central, 1-0, in a game played at Grand Forks) are unanimous in stating that he is one of the greatest to perform in high school hockey in recent years.

Young Christiansen comes by his hockey talents naturally as his father, Walt, was a top-flight player and is well-remembered by senior hockey fans in this area. It was back in the 1951-52 season of the States-Dominion hockey league that the Warroad Lakers had a five-man contingent of Fort Frances hockey players on the roster. And included in this group was center-ice player Walt Christiansen. He had as wings on his line, Percy Robertson and Mike Hupchuk, and in one game, early in 1952, Christiansen turned in a six-goal effort against the Thieves. Walt tallied two goals in the first period, and then finished off with four goals in the third period as the Lakers defeated the locals, 13-6.

The Thieves of that season had the following players on their roster: Clarence (Greek) Swanson in goal; Tony Dorn, Lloyd Johnson, Bruce Hall, Lloyd (Pug) Lund, and George Bockstael on defense; Gerry (Marcoux) Lavergne and Murray Balagus at center; and Bert Van Belleghem, Paul Bedard, Joe Bockstael, Ken Hayward, and Moose Efteland at the wings.

But to return to the Broncos' center-ice player, Keith Christiansen. The reputation that he is gaining throughout Minnesota high school hockey circles should certainly be an encouragement to the "smaller" boys who play hockey. Keith, who is a senior this year, weighs about 135 pounds and isn't impressive physically. But he is a master of all the moves, and he has a head that is crammed with hockey savvy.

Keith has an older brother, Ken, who is a member of the Fort Frances Royals, a highly-rated Junior A hockey team.

And we must mention, too, that Gerry Lavergne, who was one of the greatest stick-handlers to play in the States-Dominion hockey league, and who can be compared, favorably, with the legendary Mark McCaffery, is playing with St. Pierre, Manitoba. At the latest release of scoring data, Gerry was runner-up in the league's scoring.

They Are the Best

The best high school hockey team to play here this season will be performing at the Arena on Saturday night when coach Oscar Almquist's Roseau Rams play the Prowlers in a Region Eight conference game.

The Rams are the defending Minnesota state high school champions, and they are rated with the state's best again this season. The Rams had their confidence shaken this past week when, on Saturday night in a game played at Roseau, International Falls scored a 4-2 win. It was the first loss of the season for the Rams, although coach Almquist's club had been held to a 3-all tie by coach Johnny Matchefts' Eveleth club a couple of weeks ago.

Graduation took such boys as Dave Backlund, Chuck O-ld, Gordy Hipsher, Dave Mattson, Jeff Vacura, Dave Peterson, and Dave Johnson from last season's championship club. But coach Almquist with junior Bob Lillo at center and seniors Paul Rygh and Rick Ulvin at the wings, can ice a line that is one of the highest scoring units in the state. On defense the Rams have such experienced boys as senior Paul Dorwart and junior Jerry Swenson, and in goal is junior Gary Johnson.

A 'B' game, starting at 6:30 p. m., between the Prowler 'B' squad and the Roseau 'B' squad, will precede the varsity tilt on Saturday.

Prowler Wrestlers Defeat Aggies 34-12

Coach Al Shaff's Prowler wrestling squad scored a convincing 34-12 win over the Crookston Aggies squad in a match held at the high school gymnasium on Wednesday night.

On Saturday evening, Jan. 13, the Prowler wrestlers will travel to Ada for a match against the Vikings of district 30.

Perhaps the most surprising match in last night's program was the 133-lb. duel between the Prowlers' Roger Ek and the Aggies Bob Bergeron. With but fifteen seconds of the match remaining, and trailing Bergeron on the scoreboard by a 6-0 tally, Ek scored a pin.

Two very interesting matches, both of which resulted in draws, were the Don Berggren vs. Ron Beauchane of the Aggies in the 103-lb. class; and the Joe Taylor vs. Dick Hutton of the Aggies in the 145-lb. class. The Berggren vs. Beuchane match ended in a 0-0 tie; while Taylor, getting a reversal in the final minute of his match gained a 6-6 draw.

In addition to Ek's pin victory, the Prowlers gained pin triumphs in the 95-lb. class, with Roy Delorme scoring a pin in forty-four seconds; and Steve Skadsen scored a pin in the 120-lb. class, defeating Jim Kovar in 3:37.

The lone pin triumph for the Aggies was recorded by John Pake in the 175-lb. class, with the veteran Aggie wrestler pinning the Prowlers' Roger Miller in thirty-five seconds.

The summaries:

103-lb.—Don Berggren (TRF) and Ron Beauchane (AC), draw, 0-0.

Coach Gayle Halvorson's high-scoring Washington Wildcats continued their league-leading pace in the city grade school hockey league Saturday morning by defeating the Knox Tigers, 5-1. Coach Dick Brooks' Northrop Indians remained within reach of first place, and trail the league leaders by one game by defeating St. Bernard's, 4-0.

In the Wildcats win over Knox, coach Halvorson's squad was sparked by the two-goal performances of Rich Holmes and Jerry Droppo. Tommy Stromberg accounted for the fifth Washington goal, while Knox averted a shutout on a goal by Terry Stelmaschuk.

With goalie Jerry Owen turning in a shutout in the nets, and with Dana Stromberg scoring a pair of goals, and Billy Olson and Cal Wicklander adding single tallies, the Northrop Indians turned back the Broncos of St. Bernard's, 4-0.

To Revise Programs of Public Assistance

First federal grants for the new year to public assistance programs administered by Minnesota were announced today by James W. Doarn, regional director for the department of health, education and welfare in Kansas City, Missouri.

Mr. Doarn said that for all categories the federal advances for the first 3 months of 1962 to Minnesota would total $10,651,311, including $7,370,667 for old-age assistance; $156,808 for aid to the blind; $2,750,235 for aid to dependent children, and $373,601 for aid to the disabled.

In accordance with the money formula in the law, Mr. Doarn said, the federal share ranges from 40 to 77 percent of the total estimated expenditures of the states for their assistance programs.

In announcing the first 1962 federal grants, Mr. Doarn said that all states in Region VI are making changes in their welfare programs to conform with new rules laid down in early December by Secretary Abraham Ribicoff of the department of health, education and welfare. Secretary Ribicoff announced 10 changes in administration of the federal welfare programs, and these will require action by state welfare agencies to meet conformity requirements.

"These changes," said Mr. Doarn "are designed to promote rehabilitation services and to develop a family-centered approach; to provide children with adequate support and protective services, and to reshape the Federal administrative structure so that it will be more helpful to the States in accomplishing these ends.

"Meanwhile," he added, "invitations have gone out to all State welfare administrators to attend a 3-day conference in Washington, January 29-31, with Secretary Ribicoff and his staff. The Secretary also plans to offer Congress various legislative proposals providing other improvements in the Federal welfare programs."

Among Secretary Ribicoff's administrative decisions which are now being implemented, Mr. Doarn mentioned:

Administrative improvements to reduce and control fraud, although independent investigation reveals that the proportion of ineligible persons who receive assistance is not more than 1.5 percent.

Provision for reserving children's additional income without deduction from public assistance payments. This reserve would be used for appropriate future needs such as preparation for employment and education.

Renaming the Bureau of Public Assistance as the Bureau of Family Services to emphasize the nation's concern for a variety of helpful services; and that the object must be the entire family.

The establishment of a new position of assistant commissioner of social security with responsibility of the Bureau of Family Services and the Children's Bureau, as well as to stimulate the development of community resources for strengthening family welfare.

Trucking Firms In Nation Pay $3 Billion Taxes

Highway Use Payments Triple in 10 Years to Totals Noted in 1960

Special highway use taxes paid by the trucking industry have nearly tripled in the past ten years, with total state and federal levies of $3 billion paid in 1960, the American Trucking Associations reported today.

The toal highway use taxes paid to the 50 states in 1960 amounted to $1.7 billion, the ATA said, while the federal government collected another $1.1 billion, and special county and municipal taxes on trucks accounted for $50 million.

The tax figures are included in the trucking industry's annual statistical report.

Other significant facts about the trucking industry, contained in the 1961 report include:

Truck registrations for 1961—estimated by ATA's Department of Research and Transport Economics at 11,700,000 compared with 8,623,000 in 1951.

Revenues fo the 17,176 for-hire trucking companies regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission accounted for 42.79 percent of all freight transportation gross revenues, compared with 48.62 percent for rail freight operations.

Average wage per employee in 1960 (for highway freight transportation and warehousing)— $5,957 compared with $5,810 in 1959. The 1960 trucking industry average wage was 26 percent higher than for all private industry, ATA said.

Hamline 'U' Host to Future College Students Jan. 20

No one can doubt the value of a college education. But, should every high school graduate go to college? For those who do go, what factors should influence their decisions in selecting a college?

These and many other problems that the high school student and his parents must solve in the near future will be discussed at a "Preparing for College" conference to be held at Hamline University in St. Paul on Saturday, January 20. This is a new type of educational service in Minnesota and the country, and is designed by Hamline to assist high school students and their parents in planning for college. Hamline faculty and staff members will participate in the conference.

The conference will begin at 9 a.m. at Drew Residence for Men and continue until 4:30 p. m. Parents and students attending the conference will be served lunch in the dining halls at Hamline.

Reservation blanks for the conference are available at all high schools in the upper midwest area or can be obtained by writing to Box 2000, Hamline University, St. Paul 1, Minn.

Brisk Demand for Home Economists

Many Jobs Available During Next Few Years

Jobs for some 10,000 home economists in business, extension work and social welfare will become available over the next few years, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

Reporting on a study by the American Home Economics Association, an article in the current issue of the magazine notes that demand is strong, not only because of the expanding use of home economists but also because turnover is very high. "That's not because of dissatisfaction with the work—it's because home economists practice what they preach," according to the editors of the magazine. "They enjoy advising families on how to run their affairs and they enjoy using that advice themselves in managing their own families."

Changing Times points out that despite an expanded use of home economists in other areas, the heaviest demand for workers will continue in secondary education, where as many as 5,000 home economics teachers must be recruited annually as replacements, not counting those who must be found to staff expanded departments required by rapidly increasing enrollments.

"The need—is especially strong at both ends of the ladder—," the article concludes, "at the top where there is a serious shortage of home economists to fill supervisory positions, and at the bottom where the supply of beginners is too thin."

State May Show 14,210 Lakes Over 10 Acres in Size

Conservation Department Inventory Has Seven Counties Yet to Check

Five years ago, the Conservation Department's Division of Waters began work on an inventory of the state's lakes. Now nearly complete, the survey shows some interesting new figures.

Up to 1957 only eight of Minnesota's eighty-seven counties had been inventoried. Eighty counties have now been completed although some checking and tabulating remains to be done. Thus, even though a number of the tabulations are considered preliminary, some new conclusions may be drawn as to what the final results of the inventory may be.

With the exception of one or two meandered lakes, only lakes with areas of 10 acres or more have been listed.

Meandered lakes are those lakes which were surveyed by the Government Land Office. A summary of meandered lakes entitled, "Gazetteer of Meandered Lakes of Minnesota", was published in July 1928 by the predecessor of the Division of Waters. The Gazetteer lists a total of 3,973 meandered lakes in the eighty counties thus far inventoried.

The current inventory lists a total of 10,257 lakes in those counties. The Gazetteer shows a total of 1,532 meandered lakes for the seven conuties remaining to be inventoried. Assuming that the rate of increase will be the same, 3,953 lakes may be expected to result from the inventory of the seven counties.

Adding 10,257 and 3,953 gives a total of 14,210 lakes which may now be considered a reasonable estimate of the expected total number of lakes 10 acres or larger in area in Minnesota.

Every industrious man, in every lawful calling, is a useful man. And one principal reason why men are so often useless is that they neglect their own profession or calling, and divide and shift their attention among a multiplicity of objects and pursuits.

Will The U.N. Die?

There is reason for concern about the future of the United Nations. During the past year the organization has been under constant pressure for peaceful solutions for many explosive problems, some of which have exploded.

A large number of new nations have been added to the membership, nations that have added greatly to the weakness of the organization because of their own weakness. The organization is financially insolvent, mainly because of the refusal of some strong nations to bear their fair share of the costs. A $200 million bond issue has been authorized to enable it to meet its obligations. These 25 year bonds will pay two per cent interest. Our government is pledged to buy half of them, and whether or not the other half can be sold is still a question.

The prospect is not bright and this is generally admitted. But the need for such an organization is also recognized, and there are many who would go along with the New York Times which states that a United Nations will survive because it must survive. Says the Times:

> "We do not believe the U. N. will die. The evils, the cowardice and the jealousies that have been revealed from time to time in the Assembly and Security Council sessions would exist even if there were no U. N. A United Nations will continue to exist because it must. No partisan debate, no new isolationism, if that is what we are going to have, can change that truth."

It is significant that the Times says "a" United Nations must survive. Most of us would agree that a world organization in some form, through which international problems can be channeled in the interests of peace, must be maintained. But we are not sure that that organization must be "the" United Nations as we now have it.

We are satisfied that there is no justification for our country contributing more than its fair share of the cost of maintaining a world organization, and that any nation that will not contribute its fair share, taking into consideration ability to pay, should not be carried as an active and voting member.

The Dollar's Value

The government's cost of living index has been based on 1947-49 prices and using the 1947-49 prices as 100, the cost of living for 1960 would appear in the reports as 126.5. The government has now decided to drop the 1947-49 prices as the base and is adopting instead the figures for 1957-59. And using the 1957-59 prices as the base of 100, the cost of living index for 1960 was only 103. That sounds a lot better. In 1960, you see, we had a 97 cent dollar. That's good management.

Well maybe some of the young people will be fooled by this kind of bookkeeping but those of us who remember back to the time when Franklin Delano started spending us into prosperity, the buying power of our dollar has shrunk more than 50 per cent. The dollars the government will pay us this year when we cash in the bond we bought 20 years ago, including the 20 years of interest, will not buy as much as would the Roosevelt dollars we invested.

So our present dollar is respectable again and is worth nearly 100 cents once more.

This is something the young people of today might properly be concerned about. They should be interested in how much the dollar they save today will be worth ten years from now. That value will be determined largely by how wisely we manage our affairs, public and private.

A Good Report

We have read the government's pamphlet on what to do in the event of a nuclear attack and we are happy to report that it is a calm appraisal of what may happen, and what might be done to improve our chances for survival if it does happen. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara introduces the report with the following statement:

> "One of the first tasks assigned to me by the President, after I assumed responsibility for the Federal Civil Defense Program last August, was to give the American people the facts they need to know about the dangers of a thermonuclear attack and what they can do to protect themselves. This booklet attempts to provide the facts.
> "The factual information in this booklet has been verified by independent scientific authority, and represents the best consensus of the scientific community that we can establish.
> "The booklet also describes the national civil defense program. This program necessarily rests on judgments about what are prudent precautions in the light of our knowledge of what might happen and our evaluation of scientific facts. Judgments may differ. It is my considered judgment that this is a reasonable and prudent program—and that it is the best program we can have, measured against the other priorities of our national life."

The report concerns itself mainly with the problems of survival within an area extending out up to 100 miles from the point of explosion. The danger diminishes as the distance increases, and existing buildings provide a great deal of protection.

A five-megaton blast would be deadly within a mile or two, and unprotected people might be killed ten miles from the explosion. A tall office or apartment building ten miles away "could be one of the safest refuges."

The report should do much to allay the fears that were encouraged by panicky officials and the hysterical press. The Russians did an excellent job of scaring us with their recent nuclear testing. Actual tests indicated that the resulting fallout was not dangerous.

The American Medical Association recently conducted a survey of seven of the top experts in the nation. All seven agreed that the fallout was not a health hazard. The best opinion of a majority of the experts is that we can absorb all of the fallout now floating around without damage.

It now appears that we may become just as calm as have been the rest of the people of the world.

Boston Is Upset

Good people of Boston have been upset by a television program that raised some doubt as to the character of their police force. It seems that they were not upset because there might have been some corruption among the officials of their good city. They were indignant because their wickedness was exposed to a national television audience without their consent. It was a horrible invasion of privacy they thought, but for the details we will refer you to the Milwaukee Journal: Says the Journal:

> "Boston has been long recognized as having criteria quite its own in matters social, political, cultural and moral—including censorship of books and plays. Nevertheless, its first reaction to visible evidence, on a national TV documentary, that a bookie joint was running wide open, and was regularly visited by police in uniform, is a little shocking.
> "Official ire was turned on the CBS network for airing the show. The police commissioner complained about Boston being betrayed. The Boston Chamber of Commerce president called the portrayal unfair. A Catholic prelate, who did not see the program, said that "whoever is behind it owes Boston an apology."
> "The program wasn't aimed at Boston. It dealt with nation-wide illicit off track betting. There are, of course, scores of big and little towns where such an operation could have been found. When one is exposed publicly, however, the normal official reaction is to act deeply shocked and chagrined, and to order an immediate cleanup.
> "Massachusetts state officials are now taking that course. The governor has called for the resignation of the Boston police commissioner. The state public safety commissioner says he has evidence of corruption in the Boston police department.
> "It will be interesting to see whether Boston will follow the hard example of Chicago and Denver in really trying to root out the rottenness, regardless of community sensitivity, and restore confidence in police under a new regime. Or are Boston ideas of acceptable police conduct, too, peculiar to 'the home of the bean and the cod?' "

How Cold Was It?

By noon Tuesday the thermometer at the airport registered a mild 15 degrees below zero, but adding substantially to the discomfort of being outdoors was a wind velocity of from 25 to 30 miles an hour. Wind chill, as defined by the climatic research unit of the United States war department, "expresses the rate at which the body of an inactive, naked human would lose heat if placed out of doors, in the shade, under given conditions of temperature and wind speed."

According to this study a temperature of -15 and a wind gusting from 25 to 30 miles an hour would produce the equivalent of a temperature ranging from -58 to -60 under the conditions described above. A 30-mile wind and a -20 temperature would be the equivalent to -70. We are sure there were times Tuesday when it would have been that chilly for any naked person standing still in the shade and exposed to the weather.

We will take the war department's word for it.

Police Activities Show Drop in Traffic Cases

Annual Report Lists 1,314 Traffic Tickets; Juvenile Cases Pared

There was a decrease in police department activities in 1961, according to the annual report released by the department Monday. The number of accidents reported to police was down, 23 in 1961 to 32 the previous year, while accidents investigated was down from 190 to 172. While there were no drownings in 1961 as compared with two the previous year and there was one suicide in 1961. There were two attempted suicides by persons in the city both years.

There was a noticeable drop in traffic tickets issued in 1961. There were 1,314 last year, as compared with 1,686 in 1960, of which 1,106 in 1961 were for minor parking offenses as compared with 1,403 for '60.

Of the remainder who appeared in municipal court to face charges on the tickets issued, the greatest number were for careless driving, 33 in '60 and '61. Speeding violations were down, 62 to 83. There were fewer charges of failure to yield the right-of-way, 18 to 21. The number of people appearing for driving without a driver's license was the same both years with 10. Twenty-three persons were tagged for driving after licenses were revoked or suspended, as compared with 18 in '60. Numerous lesser offenses accounted for the balance with very little year-to-year variation.

In 1960, 24 persons were arrested for driving while intoxicated, while in 1961 only 10 persons were caught. Petit larceny cases were up, 16 to 11. There was no change in the figure involving possession of intoxicants by minors, 29 both years, but drinking by minors was up 300 per cent, 24 to 8 the previous year.

There were a total of 3,089 police calls answered, compared with 3,312 in 1960. Large increases were noted in the man-days in city jail occupancy, by persons apprehended by city police, the sheriff and highway patrol. The 1961 total was 965 days. Larcenies were up 129 cases to 103, while, vandalism cases were up, 48 cases to 40. Fourteen break-ins were investigated both years.

Governor Seeks Removal of Indian Affairs Director

Supports Resolutions Adopted by Minnesota Chippewa Indians

Gov. Elmer L. Andersen asked President John F. Kennedy Tuesday to remove Thomas Carter as acting director of Indian affairs in Minnesota.

He wrote the president that the conduct of Indian affairs in Minnesota is "suffering from a lack of confidence in the acting director—and the absence of cooperation between his office and the Indians, as well as various agencies interested in this work."

The governor inclosed resolutions from the executive committee of the Minnesota Chippewa tribe and from the governor's Indian action committee demanding Carter's removal.

He also inclosed a letter from Episcopal Bishop Philip McNairy of Minneapolis.

In his letter Bishop McNairy said he was convinced the local bureau of Indian affairs administration "is unsympathetic to the needs of Indians and deliberately uncooperative with programs of state, county and individual efforts in behalf of the Indian people."

State Trappers Deal in $1 Million Business in 1960

Trapping is still a million dollar business in Minnesota according to the Minnesota Conservation department.

Although reports from 1961 have yet to be tabulated, the Department's research and planning bureau estimates the 1960 trapping harvest at 277,675 animals and the receipts for these paid by fur buyers at $1,084,963.

Muskrat was the most heavily trapped species with 151,095 animals being taken. With an average value of 60 cents per pelt, these furs brought an estimated total value of $90,650.

The value of the mink harvest was placed at $692,800. Although only 44,978 of these animals were taken, the average price per pelt was listed as $15.40.

Racoon, red fox and beaver were the next most heavily trapped species. Highest average price per pelt, however, was paid for the otter which had a value of over $18.

Post Office Asks Aid for Safer Mail Delivery

Postmaster Pleads with Residents To Clear Ice And Snow from Walkways

Cooperation of post office patrons to make mail delivery safer and faster for postal personnel has been requested by James Dryden, postmaster of the Thief River Falls office. The request is also made for the benefit of patrons, Dryden said.

"One of the continuing requirements for delivery of mail to your door is a safe and unobstructed walkway from the street to your mail receptacle," the postmaster said. "This includes prompt removal of ice and snow. Where ice cannot be removed immediately it should be made safe by covering it with ashes or sand. Removal can then be accomplished in a short period of time by applying salt, fertilizer or one of the many ice removal preparations on the market today."

The post office department does not require a carrier to deliver mail where unsafe conditions are in evidence and the patron is negligent in their correction. Injury to a carrier delivering mail under such conditions may well result in a suit for damages.

"To protect your carrier from the possibility of crippling injury and to eliminate the embarrassment of a costly lawsuit, this office requests that you remove the ice and snow from your walkway and steps promptly," Dryden concluded.

Average 135 Drown in State Each Year

Total of 2,434 Persons Have Drowned Since 1944

Minnesota has averaged [illegible] drownings per year [illegible], according to Carl W. Moen, chairman of the water and hunting safety section of the Minnesota Safety Council.

A total of 2,434 persons have drowned in Minnesota waters during the past 18 years, Moen said.

One bright spot in the grim picture, he added, was that despite the tremendous increase in the numbers of those participating in water recreation, the annual drowning total has not shown any increase the past few years.

He attributed this to the success of the intensified water safety programs being carried out thruout the state.

Saddest part of the drowning picture, he said, was that 20 per cent of all such deaths are small children.

Hepatitis Prevalent in 1961; Polio Is Down

In terms of communicable diseases, 1961 was a year marked by another sharp increase in the number of cases of hepatitis; and a continuing dramatic decrease in the incidence of polio, the Health Insurance Institute said today.

Nearly complete figures for 1961 show that there were more than 70,000 cases of hepatitis in the United States during the first 50 weeks of the year, the Institute said in reporting data compiled by the U. S. Public Health Service.

In the same period of 1960, hepatitis, a stubborn virus infection of the liver, had infected nearly 40,000 persons. The Institute said the final 1960 total for this disease was in itself a 77 per cent increase over the number of 1959 cases.

In the first 50 weeks of this year, the number of reported polio cases totaled 1,299, well under the 3,210 for the same 1960 period, and virtually guaranteeing that this year would be the lowest for polio since records first were kept in 1915.

Other 50-week communicable disease figures show that in 1961 there were: 413,519 cases of measles, down some 14,000 from last year; 566 cases of diphtheria, down from 828; 59 cases of malaria, down from 71; 798 cases of typhoid fever, down from 786; and 304,987 cases of strep throat, including scarlet fever, up about 9,000.

National Guard Eases Admission

Lifts Age Limitations on Non-prior Service Men

Age limitations for enlistment of non-prior service young men into the National Guard six-month active duty training program placed upon the Guard at the outset of the Berlin crisis have been lifted, according to an announcement made today by Brigadier General Chester J. Moeglein, Minnesota adjutant general.

Veterans and those having prior military service were not affected by the age restriction.

As a condition of joining the Guard, the law states that a young man without prior military service must agree to serve six months of active duty at a regular Army base within 120 days of enlistment.

He will then come home to complete his military obligation by attending Guard meetings at his local National Guard Armory.

General Moeglein said, "Monthly enlistment quotas for the six-month program vary with Guard units throughout the State, so those interested should call or visit their National Guard Armory for local information."

TELLTALE DELAYS

There's no such thing as "a quick game of bridge" when Slow-Bid Sarah's got a hand. Sarah used to be a popular fourth. She was brisk but relaxed, sharp but good-humored. Win or lose, she was a good all-round partner.

But something's been happening to Sarah. She's become slow, tense, nervous, oversensitive. If she plays now, it's because the others couldn't get anyone else.

Sarah's problem is simple. Visual errors have been creeping up on her, so that she can scarcely tell hearts from diamonds, clubs from spades. A professional eyesight examination and glasses would bring back her old game.

Will A Penny Do?

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Proverbs	12	[illegible]
Monday	Proverbs	16	1-6
Tuesday	Isaiah	44	6-11
Wednesday	Jeremiah	29	10-14
Thursday	Psalms	119	[illegible]
Friday	Philippians	4	1-7
Saturday	I Peter	3	8-12

What is she thinking about, as she watches the flickering candle flame? There is a far away look in her eyes that makes one wonder. Yet, if she were offered a penny for her thoughts, she would probably only shrug and say, "Oh, nothing," in that maddening little way children have.

Watching her absorbed in her reverie is like an illustration of how closed one mind is from another. No one can ever know completely what another person is thinking. A thought expressed out loud all too often leaves something out of the telling. And most thoughts are never expressed at all.

Even should we wish to, we cannot entirely share our minds with one another. But we can share them with God. In the Church we can find the way to tell Him all our hopes, our fears, our loves, our angers, our pride, our pain.

Go to church this Sunday—and turn your own thoughts into prayer.

Vehicle License Volume Increases

Dollar volume of license fees collected during the period from November 15, 1961, through January 10, 1962, increased approximately $10,000 from the same period last year, according to Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles at the area office located in Thief River Falls.

Total amount collected for the state of Minnesota during that period on 1962 plates was $171,237 as compared with $161,061 for 1961 tabs. The total for 1961 tabs was about $220,000, Mrs. Hanson said. She attributed much of this year's increase to the fact that all trucking firms which license their vehicles through the local office have additional commercial units to license, contributing largely to the increase through substantial license fees.

Passenger cars licensed increased slightly in 1962 to a total of 5,600 from 5,560 in 1961. Commercial and farm trucks declined from 2,400 in 1961 to 2,300 in 1962. Cold weather and the advantage of a 90-day non-use exemption to vehicles not used during the first three months of the year were listed as reasons for the drop.

Licenses for two-wheel trailers, renewable every two years, created an overall increase in license sales of about 700 in 1962. Approximately 800 other licenses were sold for mobile homes, trailer houses, motorcycles, motor scooters, four-wheel trailers and other miscellaneous motor vehicles.

While the local office normally has an average of 630 purchasers on the last day before penalty is applied, stormy weather conditions cut the total to 541 Wednesday. Penalty now in effect is $1 until January 22 when an additional $1 penalty will be added. Vehicle owners are again requested to bring their punched cards with them when renewing licenses.

Dr. Knapp Will Advise Hospital on Patient Care

Rehabilitation Expert To Give Instruction Here Again Thursday

Dr. Miland E. Knapp of the department of physical medicine of the University of Minnesota and director of physical medicine and rehabilitation at the Kenny Rehabilitation Institute in Minneapolis, will make his second visit to Northwestern Hospital Thursday to give instruction in the field in which he has distinguished himself.

Norman Peterson, hospital administrator, states that Dr. Knapp will meet with members of medical and hospital staffs, discussing the problems of diagnosis and prescription. He will examine patients and will make recommendations and suggestions as to the course of treatment that should be followed. The same general procedure will be followed as was used during the December visit.

There is no extra charge to the patients for Dr. Knapp's service, Peterson states, since he is reimbursed from a grant by the Thief River Falls Foundation which is matched by the hospital. Dr. Knapp has agreed to continue these monthly visits for an undetermined time. Members of the medical and hospital staff express themselves as being highly pleased with the service he is providing and are satisfied that with his guidance the department of physical therapy will become increasingly important in the care of patients in the area.

Information of interest to all expectant parents, even though the child will not be the first in the family, will be provided at the classes.

Mrs. Merkins, who was alone at the time of the mishap, received third degree burns on her chest, shoulders and head. The Crookston fire department was called about 2:30 p. m. Wednesday. Firemen said it was believed Mrs. Merkins' clothing caught fire while she was lighting a cigarette.

Lincoln Debaters at UND Conference

Twenty-two high schools from North Dakota and Minnesota, including Lincoln high school of Thief River Falls, participated in the annual high school debate conference at the University of North Dakota Saturday, Jan. 13.

This year's registration figure was an all-time high for the conference, according to Robert R. Kunkel, instructor in speech and director of debate at UND. More teams have also been entered from each participating high school this year, he said.

The conference featured an "A" division for more experienced debaters and a "B" division for students having had less than a year's experience in debate. High school coaches judged debates of the "B" division with University students and faculty judging the "A" division debates.

The debate question was "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Provide Additional Aid for Public School Facilities." In this conference the participants debated on only one side of the question.

William Rene of Neche was student manager of the conference and Pamela Thorkelson, Thief River Falls, and Judy Bartz, Lockhart, assisted Kunkel in the conference headquarters.

He also stated that the capacity of the Fosston plant is being expanded in anticipation of a substantial increase in volume for 1962. This expansion will be completed in time to take care of the flush production period.

School Board Airs Possible Expansion

January 22 Meeting with Architect Set for Further Planning

Preliminary matters pertaining to possible expansion of the Thief River Falls school system were discussed at a meeting of the local board of education at Lincoln high school Thursday evening. The session had been postponed from Monday, January 8, due to adverse weather conditions.

M. R. Hankerson, superintendent of schools, reported on discussions held by school administrators with Richard Hammel, Minneapolis architect retained by the board to assist in planning for proposed school expansion needs. Hammel spent a total of four days in the city a short time ago, visiting existing school facilities and organizing information for anticipated needs with school officials.

A special meeting of the board of education with Hammel was set for Monday, January 22, when results of the study will again be presented for review and revision. A further meeting will also be held with the architect on January 29. It is hoped that as a result of these meetings the architectural firm will have sufficient information as to desires of the board so that a preliminary plan can be drawn with utilization of needed facilities.

To further the anticipated expansion program, the board authorized Supt. Hankerson to contact the firm of T. G. Evensen, Minneapolis fiscal agents, requesting a meeting to discuss with the board the possibilities for a bond issue to support the expansion program. It is likely this meeting will be held within the next several weeks.

Board members were also advised of the final tax levy for the district in 1962 which will be an increase of 3.74 mills. This levy will provide the district with $315,779 from local taxes of which $124,230 will be used for maintenance, $56,867 for capital outlay and $134,450 for debt service. Total levy will now be 133.1 mills for city property and 108.1 mills for agricultural land.

As a result of several appeals which request contributions from students to charitable organizations, the board officially adopted a policy stating that students in the local school system shall not be asked to participate financially in any public charity drive.

In keeping with past policy, following a transition to public school institutional type insurance at a saving of approximately $1,700 to the district, the board again stipulated that the successful insurance agent receive 50 per cent of his normal commission and the remaining 50 per cent be divided equally among the other agents in the city.

In other action taken by the board Thursday evening, members re-hired Supt. Hankerson for the coming year at an annual salary of $12,600. Final inspection report of Harstick and Lundgren, architects for the remodeling of Knox elementary school, was presented and final payment to the contractor was tabled until the board inspects the work done and checks several minor items which were listed in the architect's report. Dairy Experts at Seed & Feed Show

Two dairy experts will appear on the education program of the Seed and Feed Show Friday, Februdry 2, accdrding to County Agent Paul Stelmaschuk.

Speaking will be Dr. Bill Mudge, extension dairyman at the University of Minnesota; and Dr. Ed Frederick, dairy scientist, Northwest School and Experiment Station at Crookston. Frederick will use the actual organs of a cow, pregnant and non-pregnant, in talking about the reproductive tract and in discussing breeding problems.

Mudge will discuss the topic "Feeding Dairy Calves and Cows". He will answer questions such as: What are good feeds for starting calves? How much milk replacer, how much grain, how much hay should a farmer use? Does feeding the calf affect the milk production when the calf becomes a cow? What are good, cheap feeds for cows? Should cows be fed lots of grain when they are about to drop a calf and after calving? Answers to these questions are vital to each and every dairy man in getting the most money out of his herd.

Frederick will talk about "Common Breeding problems". He will provide answers to: heat detecting problems; "bulling cows"; return to heat after apparent settling; why do these problems occur; and how a farmer can overcome these problems.

Every dairy farmer is urged to come and see and hear the demonstrations and discussions.

The dairy part of the program was planned by dairy farmers and leaders in the industry. The committee includes: Art Stenberg, Jim Muzzy, Clyde Christianson, Stuart McLeod, Klem Gigstad, Bill Rupprecht, Don Bruggeman, and Wally Jordel.

Free milk will be served all day by the Milk Producers, Bridgemans and Land O'Lakes.

In addition to speakers, the dairy organizations will feature booths with various displays. Other seed-feed-fertilizer firms will also have displays in the city Auditorium.

Farmers, 4-H members, and FFA members are urged to bring in seed and feed exhibits.

Local Creamery Expands To Meet Volume Increase

Skimming and Cooling Capacity Readied for Large Peak Production

Milk skimming and cooling capacity at the Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery is being increased to provide for a large increase in volume this year, Klement Gigstad, manager, reports. Another separator of 11,000 pounds capacity is being added, doubling the present capacity, and another ice builder and compressor are being installed.

Milk is heated to 90 degrees before skimming and cooled to less than 45 degrees as it is skimmed, a process which Gigstad states is essential to maintian the standard of quality that will earn a premium price.

Last year's production peak was about 100,000 pounds of milk a day and this year's production is expected to reach a peak of between 150,000 and 170,000 pounds a day. Butterfat churned is expected to increase approximately 600,000 pounds and the total volume of butter manufactured may reach two million pounds.

This increased volume is due to the concentration of milk from other creameries in the area, purchased by Land O'Lakes and processed for that organization under contract. More efficient operation made possible by the increased volume should result in better returns for all of the milk producers, Gigstad said.

Committee Sets Poll Procedure for Dist. Judge

Initial steps for a referendum among Ninth Judicial District attorneys to determine preference for a successor to the late Paul A. Lundgren, district court judge, were taken at a special committee meeting Friday in the Pennington county courthouse. The committee was comprised of attorneys organized to draw up procedure for the balloting.

Nominations will first be received by the committee from attorneys in the district with such nominations to be postmarked not later than Saturday, January 20, a spokesman for the committee said. All names presented will then be submitted to the attorneys for mail balloting.

Governor Elmer L. Andersen requested the poll to assist him in making an appointment to fill the vacancy created by Judge Lundgren's death. Result of the ballot will not bind his decision, however, and is merely an opinion poll.

Weather Appears Headed for Cold and Snow Again

Predictions Call for Lows of —15 to —25 Tonight and Tomorrow

The weatherman who smiled on us late last week appears to be making faces again and has cooked up a batch of rough weather for upper midwest residents for the next day or two.

Temperatures have been on the mild side since Thursday, with daytime temperatures well above zero, dropping slightly below zero at night. It was a pleasant respite from the arctic temperatures and howling winds earlier last week.

Here is a day-to-day summary of the temperatures. Thursday's high was 23, the low -3; Friday, 21 and -7; Saturday, 17 and -1 with an inch of new snow added to the total; Sunday, 15 above for high, -15 low and the low this morning was -11, under partly cloudy skies.

A storm which blew in across the Rockies, dumping much more new snow farther south in the Great Plains, failed to materialize for our area, although it had been predicted for all of North Dakota and most of Minnesota, including our area. Colder air is following in the storm's wake, however, and will affect us, with the forecast calling for temperatures of 15 to 25 below zero tonight and not getting much warmer either today or tomorrow. The high today will range from 0 to 10 above.

There is also the possibility of scattered snow flurries today. The snowfall this month totals 9.4 inches thus far.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Tuesday, January 23, I will begin the series of "make yourself a dress" lessons for the homemakers of this county. The homemakers will receive letters telling them when they are to come in for the project. One of the things the women will be doing prior to the time they come in for the meeting is the selection of the pattern and style they will be making.

In the construction of clothing, selecting a pattern wisely can be a material help. The pattern that is of the right size can save alteration and fitting time. Therefore, before a person purchases a pattern, it is important to check certain body measurements — chest, bust, waist, hips, arm length and back length. Compare these measurements to the charts in pattern books as a guide to determine the size to buy.

The secret of attractive dress is developing the ability to select a dress that will help others see only what you want them to see and to overlook those features that are less pleasing. Know your assets and make the most of them. You can do this by selecting styles that accent your good features. For example, if you have a small waist, but too large hips, choose a princess style or gored skirt that will reveal your good points as it conceals the bad.

A short person should remember the advantages of being small and feminine. Avoid too many details in a garment. A straight silhouette looks much nicer than one that is divided for it doesn't cut you in two. Avoid oversized pockets, belts, buttons or accessories. Accent your daintiness in soft, lightweight textures and fabrics. Wear full length coats which give a long, unbroken line.

If you are taller, count it an asset and be proud of your height. Select designs and accessories scaled to your size. Wear your natural waistline as low as possible, never have it appear too short. A bloused back flatters the tall silhouette. The two-piece dress or suit and the three-quarter coat are made for you. Choose designs that are smart, forceful or dignified rather than dainty.

At 3:15 the same day Gerald Johnson, city, was going west on First st. when he struck a car driven south on LaBree av. across First st. by Jeanette L. Steinhauer, rt. 2. Damage to the Johnson car was estimated at $35, $80 to the other.

Fluoridation Proves Its Benefits at RLF

New evidence of the effectiveness of a sound fluoridation program was demonstrated recently at Red Lake Falls where a dental survey of school children, covering a ten-year period, reveals a 70 per cent reduction in dental caries among those children who had lived continuously in the community since fluoridation of the water supply was started in 1951, according to the Minnesota department of health.

The survey also reveals a 33 per cent reduction in dental caries among those children whose residence in the community had not been continuous over the ten-year period; and a 39 per cent reduction among those children whose drinking water was obtained from private sources, but who drank municipal water during school hours.

Equally important is the fact that 20 per cent of the 314 children participating in the survey this year, showed no evidence of dental caries in either their deciduous or permanent teeth.

Baseline data for the survey was collected in 1951 just prior to the community's adoption of fluoridation. In that year, the average DMF rate (decayed, missing, and filled) for the 263 children who participated in the study was 3.54 permanent teeth. This year's survey shows the average DMF rate to be 1.77, a 50 per cent reduction. Children in both surveys ranged in age from six to 11 years.

Both surveys were conducted by Jack G. Harris, D. D. S., Red Lake Falls. The community was one of the first in the state to add fluoride to its municipal water supply and is the first to present a ten-year analysis of the benefits of fluoridated water.

Sixty-seven Minnesota communities whose municipal water supplies serve approximately one-third of the state's population have adopted fluoridation as a means of controlling dental caries since 1950.

School Board Airs Plan on Future Building

proval is expected at one of the special meetings to be held later this month.

Authorized by the board was a proposal by school administrators to open the school library two nights a week for a six-week period on a trial basis. The facility will be available to students each Monday and Wednesday, beginning tonight, from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. With a large number of students taking extra classes and restricted space in the public library, it is believed that the plan will make school library use available to students who would otherwise not have access to it.

Attention was also called to the 41st annual convention of the Minnesota School Boards association to be held January 15, 16 and 17 in St. Paul. Several members of the local board of education, together with Supt. Hankerson, plan to attend the event which is covered in another story in today's Times.

AT EASE as only a teenager could be but still getting the job done is Ann Winters, one of the older members of the Thief River Falls American Legion junior auxiliary. Together with others in her age group, she joined in embroidering laundry bags for the veteran's hospital in Minneapolis. Prior to Christmas the junior group, which numbers approximately 75 youngsters from pre-school through high school age, prepared a large number of Christmas decorations which were given to worthwhile causes.

NW EAA Group To Elect Officers Thursday Night

Experimental Aircraft Ass'n. Will Meet at Airport Admin. Building

First 1962 meeting of the newly-organized northwest area chapter of the Experimental Aircraft association will be held Thursday, Jan. 18, at the Thief River Falls airport administration building.

A film from the EAA library in Milwaukee, Wis. is now on hand and will be shown, after which officers will be elected for the coming year and activities of the chapter will be discussed, among them a good program to promote private aviation in the northwest Minnesota-northeast North Dakota area. Refreshments will be served.

Acting chairman until the election of officers will be V. M. Draper of Thief River Falls. The chapter has members living as far west as Michigan, N. D., as far south as Twin Valley, as far east as Fosston and as far north as Grafton. Seven of the 12 charter members in the new chapter live in Thief River Falls.

Four of the five aircraft built by members of the northwest area EAA chapter will be flying by early spring and the fifth will probably be airborne within the year. This is an unusually high ratio of amateur-built planes to membership in the chapter.

All air-minded residents in the Red River Valley area, whether they fly or not, are welcome to attend the meetings of the area Experimental Aircraft association in Thief River Falls. Although the meetings are educational, they are held on an informal basis and are of a social nature as well. Students, especially, are invited.

It is planned to have an aviation film at each meeting and a good supply is available to the local chapter from the group's national headquarters.

Score 48-30 Victory at Bemidji Friday Evening

Coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' squad had their unbeaten streak broken on Friday night when coach Phil Buhn's Bemidji 'B' team scored a 48-38 win in a game played on the Bemidji court.

The Prowler B's moved into an 18 to 9 lead in the first period, and appeared to have control of the game, but coach Buhn inserted Dick and Bob Fortier, a pair of sturdy freshman, and with guard Marv Hanson driving for the basket, the Jacks rallied to hold a 26-23 lead at the intermission.

In the third period, the Bemidji 'B' squad boosted their lead to ten points, 38-28, and played the locals on even terms in the fourth period to register their ten-point triumph.

Price Supports Deadline Jan. 31

January 31 will be the deadline for loans and purchase agreements on several commodities harvested in 1961, according to Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. Farmers in the county who produce barley, flaxseed, oats, rye or wheat should be alerted to this final date to obtain price support on these commodities, the chairman said.

Thieves Defeated St. Boniface Elks 18 to 5

Piling up one of the highest score-totals ever registered by a local senior hockey team here, coach Joey Poole's Thieves trounced the St. Boniface, Manitoba, Elks, 18 to 5, in an exhibition game played on the Arena Ice Sunday afternoon.

In the scoring outburst, which found the Thieves racking up seven-goal clusters in the second and third period, wing Eddie Holmes hit the laces for five goals. Joey Poole scored four goals, with two of his tallies coming after rink-length solo rushes. And DelRay Offerdahl and Monty Markstrom had three-goal "hat trick" performances to their credit.

The first period found the locals taking a 4-2 lead, with Holmes scoring twice, and Offerdahl and Joe Poole adding singles. For the visitors, Joe Guest and Dennis Deblaire were the scorers.

The Thieves rammed in seven goals in the second period, to insure the outcome of the game. In the third period, the Thieves again shoved seven goals into the net. St. Boniface, always trying, scored three goals in the third period.

In a preliminary game, the Red Lake Falls recreation juniors, playing a strong game of hockey, defeated the Eagles Bantams, 2-0.

Fish Rescue Unit Takes 17,731 Pike From Roseau Unit

Northerns Transplanted in Northwest Area Lakes To Prevent Freezeout

During the month of December, a fish rescue unit removed 17,731 great northern pike, weighing from ten ounces to five pounds, from pools one and two in the Roseau Wildlife Management Unit and planted them in lakes in the northwestern section of the state which will support fish life during the winter.

Normally, if these fish are not removed, they would die from lack of oxygen in the water and freeze out due to lower levels of the water areas. It is estimated these fish would be worth around $20,000 if artifically raised.

Such an operation from this management unit is one of the many it produces, in this case for lakes needing aid, according to Jack Jensen of the Roseau River Wildlife Management unit. Of the lakes where these fish were placed, Lake Bronson got the bigger portion of stock.

"At this time we wish to thank the Roseau Conservation Club for its donation of $120 which was used to put in a food plot of winter wheat for game and the Hallock Conservation Club for its donation of $39.50, Jensen said. The latter was used for grading of an access road and purchasing of a small winch to be placed between pools two and three to make the movement of hunter from one body of water to the other easier.

Prowler Quint Loses to Bemidji by 53-34

It is difficult to beat the Bemidji Lumberjacks by scoring only 34 points, and that was the chief reason that the Prowlers dropped a 53-34 decision to coach Bun Fortier's defending Region Eight cage champions in a loosely-played game at Bemidji on Friday night.

The Prowlers will be facing a double barrelled schedule this week-end, meeting the burly East Grand Forks Green Wave in a district conference game on the locals floor on Friday night, and then traveling to Fosston on Saturday night for an inter-district game against coach Stan Otness' Greyhounds.

In Friday night's game, which was played in the new high school gymnasium at Bemidji, was marred by numerous misplays and erratic ball-handling by both clubs. In the first period of play, which, from the standpoint of the Prowlers, was the best, coach Jack Junker's club held the Jacks to an 11-all score. And in this period, the Prowlers held a 5-4 margin in field goals.

The game, though, took a decisive turn in the second period when Bemidji looped in seven consecutive field goals without a Prowler answer, piling up a 25-11 lead before Gary Kelly, just at the period's end, scored on a one-handed toss from off to the right of circle.

In this Bemidji spurt, Jack Phelps hit on a left-handed shot from the right of the lane; Dennis Aguiar drove in for a lay-up; Phelps, from the lane, looped in a field goal; Bill Hanson scored on a lay-up; Phelps again found the north hoop with a one-handed toss; Aguiar, from the right of the lane, hit on an outside shot; and Gerry Suman tipped in a field goal from close in. Kelly's long shot pared the Bemidji lead to 25-13 at the half.

With big and burly Bill Rabe and lanky Gerry Suman clearing the offensive and defensive boards, the Jacks maintained control of the game throughout the second half, having a three-point margin in the third period, and a four-point margin in the final period.

The most effective player for the Prowlers was guard Wayne Bjerken, who, in addition to leading the local scorers with nine points, played a strong floor game. The Prowlers were not troubled too greatly by the modified press utilized by Bemidji, with Bjerken and John Aune usually being able to bring the ball up the court against the efforts of Bill Hanson and Dennis Aguiar, the Jacks' "pressers".

Roseau Rams Sextet Takes Prowlers 2-0

The hockey season's largest crowd was in the Arena rink on Saturday night, and they witnessed a splendid exhibition of high school hockey, with coach Almquist's powerful Roseau Rams edging out coach Gene Sack's Prowlers, 2-0.

This evening, Monday, the Prowlers will meet the Hallock Polar Bears on the Arena ice here in a Region Eight conference game. A preliminary game, between the Hallock 'B' squad and the Prowler 'B' squad will be played, with the face-off at 6:30 p. m.

In Saturday night's bruising contest, the Prowlers, refusing to be awed by the fact that the Roseau Rams had three all-state tournament players in their lineup—defenseman Jerry Swenson, center Bob Lillo, and wing Rick Ulvin—held the Rams scoreless in the first period. Prowler goalie Tom Teal played a stellar role in keeping the Rams off the scoreboard in the first period, kicking out five on-goal shots, and with two of the saves being spectacular.

The scoreless tie was broken at the 7:08 mark of the second period when, deep in the Prowler zone, center Bob Lillo recovered the puck as the Prowlers were lax in clearing their zone, and flicked a pass to Jerry Swenson, who rifled a hard shot from twenty feet out that caught the left corner of the south cage.

Tony Poole had a chance to score the equalizer for the Prowlers a short while later when he broke in for a goal-mouth try at Roseau's Gary Johnson, but the Rams' goalie smothered the shot.

The Rams picked up an insure goal at the 7:54 mark of the third period when Paul Rygh, intercepting a Prowler clearing pass just inside the north blue-line, hit on a long shot. The puck was tipped by defenseman Tim Teal, and the deflection just eluded goalie Tom Teal and found the mesh.

Thieves, Cloverleafs in 9-9 Tie Thursday

Senior hockey fans were treated to an interesting and high-scoring game here Thursday night (and witnessed a pair of three-goal hat trick performances) as the Roseau Cloverleafs, coached by Father Tim Noah, and the Thieves played to a 9-all tie. The two teams are tentatively slated to play a return game at Roseau on January 21.

In Thursday night's tilt, the Thieves, on a pair of goals by Mike McMahon and Joey Poole, gained a 2-0 lead after six minutes of play. For the Cloverleafs, with Richard (Dickie) Johnson picking up a pair of unassisted goals, the swift-skating left wing recovered the puck deep in the Thieves' zone in both instances. After Chuck Nordvall had scored at the 15:31 mark to give the Leafs a lead, Jack Houfek hit on a long shot for the Thieves, and Joey Poole followed with a shot from close-in to give the locals a 4-3 first period lead.

The Leafs outscored the Thieves, 4-2, in the second period to gain a 7-6 lead entering the final twenty minutes of play.

With less than a couple of minutes of play remaining, and with the Leafs holding a 9-8 lead, Joey Poole made a rink-length down the ice and banged a hard shot at goalie Ken Hedlund, the Roseau net-minder made the save, but Monty Markstrom flipped in the rebound to knot the game at 9-all.

Scoring "hat tricks" during the game were Dick Johnson of the Leafs, and Joey Poole of the Thieves. The two players were the outstanding stars of their respective teams.

Washington Edges Northrop Cagers

Tommy Tunberg Scores Deciding Free-throw

Tommy Tunberg's successful free-throw attempt in the overtime period gave coach Keith Spindler's Washington Wildcats a come-from-behind win over the Northrop Indians, the Cats winning by a 13-12 score. Trailing by two points, 8-6, entering the fourth period, Washington notched two field goals and a pair of free throws to tie the game at 12-all, and force an overtime period.

In a game played on the Northrop court, just before the start of the Christmas holidays, the Knox Tigers defeated the Washington team, 23-17, to take over first place in the league standings. Roger Dorn's Tigers have a record of two wins and no losses. In the win over the Wildcats, Brian Nelson, with 10 points, and Paul Ihle, with 8 points, were the scoring leaders for the Tigers.

Down Memory Lane

The Jan. 4th issue of the Zumbrota News carries a picture, on the first page, front and center, of the Zumbrota high school basketball team of 1911. Playing a prominent role on that team was Bob Lund, now a local citizen.

The cutline accompanying the picture gives the information that this team, in a game played in December of 1911, rolled up a score of 109 points, defeating Cannon Falls, 109 to 6.

It must be recalled that those were the days when a center-jump put the ball in play following field goals and free throws, and the News states that "play after play was tipped off from the center ring, resulting in a field goal without fail."

Must add the final sentence of the cutline, which stated that "A week after the Cannon Falls game, Zumbrota went over to Kasson and lost, 14-13, in a hall described as 'a rat trap' ".

Bob Lund went on to play a stellar role in basketball for St. Olaf college, gaining all-state recognition as a center.

A Candidate

A candidate for recognition by the Burlington, Wisc., Liars Club would be Orvis Olen. Orvis, in relating his experiences on a duck hunting trip to the Melfort, Sask., area told veteran hunter Bill Sponheim that "the ducks up there were so many that the mallards were sitting on the telephone wires awaiting their turns to go into the fields to feed."

This compares favorably with the statement made by Mouse Efteland when questioned on his success in ice fishing for walleyes at Waskish: "Oh, I caught my limit of walleyes, nice ones, in a short while, and then I helped Harlan Huseth and the other boys fill their strings."

Aid and Comfort

The Charles Emanuel rink provided the city's men curling rinks with some encouragement last week when they scored a 10-4 win over the previously unbeaten Ardell Liden rink. The Lidens—Kermit Hanson, Lyle Liden, Dewey Liden, and Ardell Liden—had run up a five-game winning streak, and appeared just about invincible.

The Emanuel rink, with Hans Newman shooting the lead rock, Charles Emanuel second, Hank Thorson third, and with Harold Nabben throwing the skip rocks, held an 8-4 lead coming home in their match with the Lidens, and then picked up a pair on the last end to win 10-4. That's a win that Charlie will be bragging about for years to come.

Hockey Notes

A pair of former South St. Paul hockey stars are playing with the Brandon Wheat Kinds of the Manitoba Junior Hockey league, and they are doing real well, too. Rich Brown, who was an all-state tournament choice as a wing with the Packers in 1960, is playing that position with the Wheat Kings. And Gary McAlpine, an all-state goalie for the Packers in the tournament last season, is in the nets for Brandon. McAlpine has turned in three shutouts for the league-leading Brandon club. . .Arlan Hjelle is playing on a wing on the third line for the Bemidji State college sextet. The Beavers, who are stressing hockey, and hope to have a field house with artificial ice in the near future, are well-supplied with Canadian talent. On the first line, Raul LaFond of Rainy River is at center, with Reggie Slocomb of Winnipeg at one wing. Baudette's Jerry O'Neill completes the first line. The second line is centered by Vic Chaput of Winnipeg, with Earl Benson of Virginia and Dex Harvey of Estavan, Sask., at the wings. On the Hjelle line, Bob Glaesman of St. Paul is at center, with Jerry Drewes of Grand Rapids at the other wing. The blueliners are Jack Brandt of Regina, Sask., Marv Sanderson of Glenborn, Manitoba, and Joe Scaletta of Winnipeg. . .An important hockey game in the Region Eight conference will be played tonight, Monday, in the Roseau Memorial arena. Coach Gordon Genz' Warroad Warriors will meet coach Oscar Almquist's Roseau Rams. The two teams are carrying undefeated marks in conference play, and the winner will take over first place in the standings.

A diamond may be forever—but so are the monthly payments.

Sportsmen's Club Will Meet Wed.

Discussion of plans for the annual banquet will highlight the business session of the Pennington County Sportsmen's club at the regular meeting to be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the basement meeting rooms of the municipal auditorium, according to Gay Warnecke, secretary.

A special film on spin casting, "Hook, Line and What Knot" will be shown and lunch will be served following the meeting. Members are requested to turn in their membership dues and sign up a new member.

Women Curlers Continue Action

Edith Nabben and May Jahr Rinks Hold Lead

The two leading rinks in the women's curling league—the Edith Nabben rink and the May Jahr rink—will meet dangerous opposition in the league matches slated for Thursday night. On the 7:00 p. m. draw, the May Jahr rink will curl the sixth-place Bonnie Tunberg foursome; and on the 9:00 p. m. draw, the Edith Nabben rink will meet the Lois Amundgaard rink.

Trailing the league leaders, who have three wins and one loss apiece, are the Beverly Olson and Fern Liden rinks, who have marks of two wins and one loss apiece.

Treasure Lies Buried In Newspaper Filler

by V. M. Draper
Times Staff Member

Things one wouldn't know if he didn't read his hometown weekly newspaper. . . A filler in last Thursday's Times tells us that scholars see a direct connection between the development and widespread use of the English longbow and the development of political freedom in England. This marked the first time in recorded history the average man has had a cheap, easily available and adequate weapon to enforce his political demands.

And, we might add, lawmakers have been trying to take away the average man's right to bear arms ever since.

Nowadays, as it always has been, we gain a little more "safety", a little more "security", at the price of a little more freedom. Without freedom we have neither safety nor security, as people who lived under Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin and others have discovered—too late.

By the way, do you read the fillers in your newspaper? Ofttimes valuable grains of knowledge are tucked away in those spaces which have to be filled with extraneous material. Knowledge is where you find it—you merely have to look! Who knows, someday you may have the right answer to a question on a TV quiz program.

Back to the bow and arrow, literally as well as figuratively. . . after centuries of being considered obsolete, the bow and arrow have been re-discovered by a Utah National Guard special services unit as "the ultimate silent weapon for use in guerrilla warfare."

Whaddayaknow about that one!

And, like the first item about this "ultimate weapon", we found it tucked away as filler in another small-town weekly newspaper.

Food for thought—At one time or another every modern convenience we enjoy in our day was branded as a "wild scheme" by the general public. Then, as now, the higher the status of the individual considering it the wilder the scheme was in his estimation.

The only such scheme that was ever adopted wholeheartedly by the public was the "perpetual motion machine." This wildest of all schemes was designed exclusively to bilk the public and, oddly enough was the ONLY one which gained wide public acceptance some 150 years ago, more or less.

To our knowledge there still is no such machine! There are still people willing to buy one if it ever is invented, however. P. T. Barnum's statement is as true as ever. . . . There's one born every minute.

In other words, some people simply refuse to believe there's no such thing as a "free lunch." Really there isn't—no matter what your congressman says!

Junior Historical Group Organizes In Polk County

Constitutional Convention Set Wednesday; Students in Grades 5 and 6 Enroll

First of their kind ever organized in the state of Minnesota, seven newly-organized chapters of the Polk County Junior Historical Society will receive their charters at a constitutional convention Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. in the Crookston Central high school auditorium.

Val Bjornson, Minnesota state treasurer and member of the executive council of the Minnesota Historical society, will be keynote speaker at the event. Other historical society staff members on the program will be Russell Fridley, executive secretary, and Arch Grahn, field director.

Elmer Reseland, principal of McKinley elementary school in Crookston, is the first PCJHS supervisor. It is expected that nearly 250 students from fifth and sixth grade in Crookston public and parochial schools will participate in the convention. Official chapter delegates at the convention will accept a colors, prayer and symbol.

PCJHS constitution, pledge, motto,

Bjornson, an authority on Viking history, will lecture at 8 p. m. Wednesday evening on "The Vikings — A Ninth Century NATO Group". Reseland stated the principal purposes of the PCJHS are "to begin an arduous, intense crash program to re-instill respect in our county young people for family, local, county and area heritage and tradition. . . .to instill such a living vital respect for this heritage as to enable them to lead in our battle for survival as a nation against today's and the future's intense communist effort to destroy our way of life and to give these youth a purpose and firm foundation for the future based on past experience."

"Addiction to a soft-headed philosophy that federal money can cure every national ill could undermine one of the greatest resources of America—the sturdiness of and self-dependence of the individual citizen; it could ultimately cost our people their liberty.

"The unending drive for federal domination of the nation's power and water resources, and the ever-increasing involvement in urban problems, agriculture, housing, care of the youth and the aged, the ill and the poor, and the temporarily unemployed, can only end—if unchecked—in a dangerous centralization of power.

"Continued, this tendency will ultimately destroy the will and the ability of the individual and community to govern themselves."

Dwight Eisenhower

The Dollar Gets Help

A group of nations have come to the rescue of the American dollar. Under the terms of a ten-nation agreement a currency pool of $6 billion will be made available to buttress any major currency that is threatened by lack of confidence. The continuing depletion of our gold reserves prompted our government to ask for help.

The countries that have formed this pool and the sum each will make available are the United States, $2,000,000,000; Britain, $1,000,000,000; West Germany, $1,000,000,000; France, $550,000,000; Italy, $550,000,000; Japan, $250,000,000; Canada, $200,000,000; the Netherlands, $200,000,000; Belgium, $150,000,000; and Sweden, $100,000,000.

Most of the countries in this list received aid from us in substantial amounts following the war and they are now prosperous and well-governed. Their people learned the hard way that governments, like individuals, must live within their means or they will be in trouble.

President Kennedy has asked Congress to raise the debt limit again.

Peace Corps Growing Up

The Youth Peace Corps is starting to grow up. According to William Moyers, associate director of public affairs, the organization has changed its recruiting approach and now seeks volunteers with needed skills. According to Moyers only ten per cent of the applicants have turned out to be ready, suitable and available for training at a given time.

He said there would be an increased effort to seek out needed specialists through labor unions, professional societies and technical schools. Several projects scheduled for Latin America have been reduced in scope for lack of enough plumbers and other mechanics.

There is a very great need for doctors, nurses and engineers in most of the backward countries and Russia is far out in front of us in placing professionally trained people in their foreign service. There is a big field for useful service by mature people with proper training, and it is encouraging to know that the Peace Corps is moving in this direction.

A Balanced Budget

Treasury Secretary Dillon has stated that the administration wants the debt limit increased by $10 billion. It will have to be increased from the present $298 billion limit by March 1, he told Senator Harry Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Commitee, and that before the end of the session an additional $8 billion would be needed.

And President Kennedy looked the camera right in the eye without blinking a winker when he promised us a balanced budget.

The State of the Union

Statesman Kennedy made an urgent appeal for support for his proposal for lower tarriffs in his State of the Union message to congress. Referring to the European Common Market he stated:

> "If we move decisively, our factories and farms can increase their sales to the richest, fastest-growing market. Our exports will increase. Our balance of payments position will improve. And we will have forged across the Atlantic a trading partnership with vast resources for freedom.
> "If, on the other hand, we hang back in deference to local economic pressures, we will find ourselves cut off from our major allies. Industries will move their plants and jobs and capital inside the walls of the Common Market, if they cannot otherwise compete for its consumers. Our farm surpluses will pile up. Our balance of payments position will worsen. Our consumers will lack a wider choice of goods at lower prices. And millions of American workers—whose jobs depend on the sale or transportation or the distribution of exports or imports, or whose jobs will be endangered by the movement of our capital to Europe, or whose jobs can be maintained only in an expanding economy—these millions of workers in your home states and mine will see their interests sacrificed."

The things the President said will happen are already happening. American industry has already established branches abroad in order to remain competitive in world markets. We have unemployment. In some other industrial countries there is a labor shortage. We have priced ourselves out of the world market. In order to become competitive again we must cut our costs. Statesman Kennedy knows that to be true.

But in the same speech in which he said, "Our businessmen must be export-conscious and export-competitive," politician Kennedy said we should give federal employees another pay increase. At a time when our survival calls for a tightening of belts and a reduction of costs and prices our politician President would trigger another round of wage and price increases.

Reports indicate that statesman Kennedy will find Congress to be cooperative. It is to be hoped that there are enough statesmen in Congress to defeat the program advocated by politician Kennedy.

Friend Sukarno

President Sukarno of Indonesia is trying hard to frighten the world by his continuing threats of conquest in Netherlands New Guinea. The Dutch do not seem to be disturbed about the possibility of their losing this undeveloped wilderness as a colony. It probably would be more of a liability than an asset for many years to come. They are willing to let the United Nations decide what will be best for the natives of the area.

Certainly Sukarno does not need more territory. The record indicates quite clearly that he is not able to manage and develop the vast area that he now controls.

All of which strengthens the suspicion that his main objective is to create confusion with the hope that, as a result of the confusion, he will be able to get more free handouts from either the Communists or from old Uncle Easy. He was welcomed as a friend when he visited Washington last year.

Decimals in Britain

(Portland Oregonian)

If Great Britain ditches its complicated coinage system in favor of a decimal system, as a news story from London says it is expected to do by official announcement soon, the British-American system of weights and measures should be next on the agenda.

In a world where decimals are basic arithmetic, a system in which 12 pence make a shilling and 20 shillings make a pound is an anachronism. So is a system in which 12 inches make a foot, three feet a yard, etc., in which sometimes 12 ounces and at other times 16 ounces make a pound, and in which two pints make a quart, and four quarts a gallon. This system should have been discarded long ago and replaced with the metric system in which everything is computed easily by decimals.

It will be expensive to change all tools, but it will be worth it. Cost of converting price-computing scales, adding and accounting machines, etc., to substitute a coinage based on 10 shillings for the present confusing one is estimated by the British at 358 million. Changing to the mertic system in the English-speaking world will be much greater than that. But, as in the case of the coinage, a 100-year delay will add tremendously to the cost—50 per cent for the money conversion, it is estimated. The time to get in step with the rest of the world is now.

Aid to Yugoslavia

(Chicago Tribune)

The other day the state department emitted some plain untruths in defense of the sale of 135 jet fighter planes at bargain prices to communist Yugoslavia. Brooks Hays, a defeated Arkansas congressman who is now an assistant secretary of state and seems to have blossomed out as the department apologist, dished up a phony argument in response to criticism of the deal by Sen. John Tower of Texas.

He said that the Russians now view Titoism as a serious danger to the world communist movement, and strongly criticized Yugosglav policies at their party congress in October.

Hays hasn't been reading the same issue of Pravda that we have, for here is what Pravda reported Oct. 19 that Khrushchev had to say about Yugoslavia:

"While it is true with respect to Yugoslavia, as previously stated in the report of the central committee, that we have struggled and shall continue to struggle against the revisionist position of the leadership of the Union of Communists of Yugoslavia, we, at the same time, have stood and shall continue to stand for the all-out development and strengthening of relations with Yugoslavia thru state channels.

"The Soviet Union stands for bringing together and consolidating all forces which are struggling against the imperialistic war mongers, for peace and friendship amongst peoples."

On Oct. 25 Tito himself admitted that there was no real split between Khrushchev and himself. Their differences, he said, were "not so big." He then procalimed his support of Khrushchev's demands on Berlin.

Yet Hays tried to tell Tower that the basic policy of the state department is to give aid to Tito in order to help him ward off Soviet domination. The story doesn't wash.

Interesting Opinions

I am losing confidence in the great powers. They are climbing from the pedestal of greatness to the pedistal of insantity. We expect leadership from them; they give us destruction. We expect wisdom from them; they give us lack of knowledge. We expect objectivity from them; they present us with blurred vision.

"Best thing that happened to that pasture," remarked Nels Johnson of Sedan about a new livestock watering pit. "Now we don't have to drive the cattle across the road to the barn for water." According to Walter Twite, SCS work unit conservationist at Glenwood, other farmers in Pope County must feel the same way because construction of pits has increased three-fold this past year in the Pope Soil and Water Conservation District.

A gift of 600 trees goes from their local SCD to Murray County 4-H'ers. Clubs will plant them as a project extending over a several-year period so that weeds can be controlled while the trees become established. Murray County Agent Reuben M. Boxrud says some clubs are planting their trees to provide wildlife shelters. Others will be planted in public parks. One club plans to use their allotment to beautify a rural cemetery. Trees given by the SCS will include Black Hills spruce, ash, maple and hackberry.

"Now when it rains I won't worry about my ditch and tile drainage system," says John Zoubek, Rice Soil and Water Conservation District cooperator. In 1960 he dug an open ditch to serve as outlet to his tile drainage system—this past spring surface water washed in from the side and partially filled the new ditch. With assistance from Aldis Johnson, SCS technician at Faribault, and the county ASC office, plans were made for a pipe inlet structure and grassed waterways. The structure is now in place and has already proved its value.

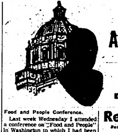
Minimum tillage will not make good soil structure but it will preserve soil structure for useful purposes. So says Roger Harris, extension specialist in soil conservation at the University of Minnesota.

When Orris Roffensberger went to the Faribault County extension office for help with an erosion problem former soils agent Bob McDill laid out some contour strips on the eroding slopes for demonstration purposes. Result: water erosion has been greatly reduced. The strips are still in place. And Roffensberger recently told Extension Soil Conservation Agent Harlan Johnsrud, "I wouldn't attempt to farm this land without them; they present no problem so far as using equipment is concerned."

"My detention dam serves many purposes," says Alfred Rucker of Oronoco in talking with Grant Karlstad, SCS technician at Rochester. "It stopped the gully, reduced flood damages, and with the surrounding area fenced out, it made an excellent haven for all kinds of wildlife. Also, in the winter it provides the community with a safe skating rink for recreation."

Dugouts are installed on a farm for livestock watering purposes, but the one on the Norman Romness farm near Belview provides a bonus use. Sixteen-year-old Paul Romness shot a wild goose off the pond during the fall hunting season.

Farmers who planted trees last spring on summer fallow land and cultivated them to control weeds have had better than 90 percent survival. That's the report from Don Lawrence and Gary Johnson, SCS technicians at Crookston. They say "even though the rainfall in our area was the least recorded in 60 years, the new trees made a growth of 18 to 30 inches."



THE ANDERSEN LETTER

Food and People Conference.

Last week Wednesday I attended a conference on "Food and People" in Washington to which I had been invited by the Secretary of Agriculture.

I used the occasion to emphasize that action on the following would be of particular help to agriculture in the State of Minnesota:

(1) Elimination of milk barriers by enacting a national milk sanitation act so Minnesota milk could freely enter eastern markets from which it is now barred.

(2) Revision of the sugar act to provide for expansion of the sugar beet industry. Department policies have favored sugar cane growers at the expense of sugar beet growers.

(3) Amend to sale of commodities by the Federal government as a means of driving market prices below support prices. This is an unconscionable abuse of political power.

Emphasis on marketing agricultural products rather than imposing rigid production controls. Our abundance of food and fiber can be an effective instrument in world peace efforts. Effective international trade efforts will benefit farm family income. There is no moral justification for controlled production when so many people in the world are hungry. The "crisis of abundance" is more a problem of marketing than of production, and that is where attention should be concentrated.

Everyone Can Help

Last October at a civic banquet in Burlington, Iowa, a cab driver named Paul Brown was honored as "the man of the hour".

Sometime earlier a business man had made a quiet visit to Burlington to look at it as a possible plant location. He was so impressed with answers to questions put to cab driver Brown on the way from the airport to a motel that he engaged the cabbie for a longer period.

As a result of the tour of inspection and the "selling job" that Paul Brown did on the visitor was the location of a new plant in Burlington which now employs 30 men. No wonder the town wanted to honor this worthy citizen!

The moral is clear. Everyone can help. Everyone can sell. You never know how important and significant courtesy, pride, facts and enthusiasm can be when extended to a visitor to your community.

I am anxious that everyone in our state be a booster for Minnesota. You could be the cause of a fine new plant for your town.
